

CROWDING AT CAMP GLENN

Governor Reviews the First Regiment. JOYS OF CAMP LIFE

Gallant Officers and Privates Lay Siege to Ladies Fair—Profiting by Drills and Instructions in Military Lore.

By EDWARD L. COON. (Special to News and Observer.) Camp Glenn, Morehead City, N. C., Aug. 15.—The grand review of the First Regiment by Governor Glenn and staff today was the acme of this entertainment. The day was ideal...

The Governor and his staff arrived in camp at 10 o'clock, and were escorted to the regimental headquarters by a battalion, commanded by Major Finnigan, and the first regiment band. After a few minutes of informal conversation at headquarters...

The reviewing stand was occupied by Governor Glenn, General Armfield, Adjutant General Robertson, Inspector General Bain and the governor's personal staff and a company of invited ladies and gentlemen. The brilliant array of the regiment, the magnificent display in formation, the rhythmic tread in marching, the stirring martial music and the brilliancy of the reviewing stand...

Governor Glenn returned to Raleigh this afternoon and as he left the Atlantic hotel, surrounded by a platform of the Pullman, scores of ladies at the shed waved their handkerchiefs at him and he gallantly returned their salutes by throwing kisses to them. A large crowd was at the depot at the camp as he passed by, and the soldier boys expressed their love and admiration for him by raising their hats and cheering him.

The inspector-general and visiting officers of other regiments praised liberally the fine military appearance the regiment made. The discipline was well organized, drilled, and instructed, as soldiers, and the men exhibit the happy result of the splendid work of their superior officers. They lack in equipment only, and this is no fault of the regiment. The officers of the regiment are proud of it, and should be. The primal object of the encampment—military expenses and instruction—is kept closely in view by the officers and the condition of the camp and the soldierly bearing of the men form the evidence of the efforts and purpose of the officers.

CRAZY MAN WITH A RAZOR Cut His Own Throat After Slashing Around Promiscuously.

(By the Associated Press.) Chicago, Ill., Aug. 15.—In a fit of insanity today Emil Berner, a mechanic of Batavia, Ill., murdered his brother-in-law, Ernest Franzen, by cutting his throat with a razor; slashed Mrs. Berner severely that she will die, and then cut his own throat and died within a few moments. After being injured Berner's wife summoned neighbors. The tragedy was enacted at the Berner home. Berner had been ill for three weeks, and at times had been delirious, but no symptoms of violent insanity had been previously noticed. Today, stealing up to his brother-in-law, who had been watching at the sick man's bedside, but who had dropped into a dose of morphia exhaustion, Berner slashed Franzen's throat, cutting the jugular vein. Berner then hid the razor and met his wife in the doorway, being her first slasher. Berner then slashed his own throat. He was dead when found.

Think of the ocean and you'll think of LUMINA at Wrightsville Beach. Mr. D. F. Morrow has come out as an independent candidate in Rutherford county for the Senate against Col. Solomon Galtzer.

A FORAGE DISEASE

Hundreds of Horses Die in Hyde.

Assistant State Veterinarian Roberts Tells of Effect and Remedy for "Blind Stagers."

The terrible condition of affairs regarding the deaths of hundreds of horses in Hyde county and other counties in the east, told of some days ago in this paper, is corroborated by Dr. G. A. Roberts, Assistant State Veterinarian, who has just returned from an investigation.

Dr. Roberts says the disease is the same as that which five years ago killed about eight hundred horses in the east, and that while the disease is commonly or locally called "blind stagers," it is really a forage disease, and is caused by moults or a fungus growth on the feed given the horses, this evidently being in the feed given in the stall, as it does not appear to be from pasture. The horse learns that the remedy is for farmers to send to highland sections for feed and not to use that grown in the wet sections of the east.

The disease he considers to come because of the rainy conditions of the east, and he fears that if the rains keep up the deaths will be as great as those of five years ago. In Hyde county, largely in Lake Landing and Currituck townships, he found 100 cases, and of these only three horses had a chance to live. He only found one case at Swan Quarter, and that was of a horse brought there. In some cases the farmers have shipped their horses to other sections. But Dr. Roberts says the disease is not contagious, and that there will be no trouble if feed from sections not affected is secured.

The disease is from Toxine or poison that gets into the horse with its feed, perhaps with water contaminated from the mould or fungus on the feed. It deadens the horse, which becomes listless and droopy, its head hanging to one side. The horse leans up against a barn or fence, or hangs its head over the stall, the evidence being of a congestion of blood vessels in the brain, the horse going blind. The poison is evidently at work before the symptoms are noticed, the disease doing rapid work while it is in progress. The science has not yet found out what this is.

DIED IN HIS CHAIR

Wills Edmundson, of Goldsboro, Taken Off Almost Without Warning.

(Special to News and Observer.) Goldsboro, Aug. 15.—The sudden death of Mr. Wills Edmundson, a well-known and highly esteemed citizen, came as a shock to our people this afternoon about 4 o'clock. Mr. Edmundson has been in feeble health for some time, but was down street as usual an hour before his death. He was sitting on his front porch alone when the end came. When Mr. Edmundson was taken to the bank of Wayne, went to his dinner he saw Mr. Edmundson sitting on his porch, and when he returned from his dinner he saw him lying on the floor, and realizing that he had fallen from his chair and was in a serious condition he summoned Dr. W. H. Cobb, Jr., a nephew by marriage of the deceased, and other relatives in the neighborhood, but life was already extinct when they arrived.

ICE AND TRANSPORTATION

Interstate Commerce Commission Making Investigations at Toledo.

(By the Associated Press.) Toledo, O., Aug. 15.—The examination of witnesses was continued today before the Inter-State Commerce Commission in the investigation into the action of the railroads and ice companies. H. P. Watters, one of the owners of the Michigan Lake Ice Company, and one of the ice men sentenced to the workhouse by Judge Kinkead, for conspiracy in restraint of trade, testified that he bought ice from Michigan Lake, had it carried to Toledo by the railroads, and that he paid $11.15 a ton, freight included. As this same ice was sold to the homes in Toledo for $10 a ton under the combination, the testimony was of more than ordinary interest.

A large number of witnesses were called, but until Watters took the stand, nothing important was elicited. Several witnesses were told by Commissioner Clements to forward certain documents and records to the commission at Washington.

Major Bradley Improves. Friends in Raleigh and throughout the State will be glad to learn that the condition of Maj. R. H. Bradley, State Librarian, who has been ill for a long time, was more favorable yesterday than for some months.

BLACK HAND IN POLICE'S HANDS

Three Conspirators Arrested in Baltimore.

OFFICER HAD A RUN Demand Made for Money Under Threat of Death—Inazo Castalano Gives Names of His New York Associates.

(By the Associated Press.) Baltimore, Md., Aug. 14.—An alleged Black Hand case which had its inception about two months ago, culminated today in the arrest of three men charged with complicity in the affair and the holding of two of them in $10,000 bail each for the action of the criminal court.

A number of letters, one signed by "The Mafia Association," and the others by "The Head of the Black Hand Company," have recently been received by members of the family of Michael Lanasa, all of them demanding $5,000. Some of these letters have been delivered by Rosario Romeo, it is charged, and some have passed through the hands of one of the latter, received yesterday, threatened the Lanasa family with death today if the money demanded was not delivered by the morning. Mrs. Lanasa called a policeman who captured Castalano after a chase.

Castalano said that he arrived here today from New York and that he had been induced to come here and call upon Mrs. Lanasa by four New Yorkers, whose names he gave as Colagario, Tony, Stefano and Joseph. Declaring that their other names and addresses were unknown to him, Romeo, who is twenty-one years of age, claims to have been merely employed to deliver some of the threatening letters with knowledge of their contents by men unknown to him. Frank Porcelli, aged 40, a bootblack, who had been arrested by the police principals in the affair, was arrested by afterwards released. Castalano at the hearing, claimed to have no knowledge of the English language, though he is said to have used it freely when placed under arrest. He and Romeo are held in $10,000 each.

Dr. A. Priddy, Member Virginia State Board Medical Examiners, etc., writes: I take great pleasure in testifying to the value of the waters of the Mecklenburg Mineral Springs—both the Lithia and the Chloride of Calcium. The Lithia Water I have used frequently in uric acid and lithamic conditions, and have obtained marked and prompt benefit when other mineral waters have failed. The Chloride of Calcium holds a place unrivaled by any mineral water of this country or of Europe in the treatment of Rachitic or Srofulous conditions of children, which manifest themselves in glandular enlargements, in joint or bone inflammation, or in eruptive skin disease. Really, I consider it Nature's antitoxic in checking the progress of disease of the kinds mentioned.

I know it to be a bone producer from a case under my notice, in which the greater part of the tibia had been excised, and which was complicated with inflammations of both elbow joints. The use of the Chloride of Calcium locally after the operation, and a few weeks course of the water internally, caused a perfect cure. Having spent some time as resident physician at two of the most popular springs in the South and having lived near Chase City all my life, I think I may be allowed with some confidence to express the opinion which I have, that the location of a modern sanatorium at Chase City would win greater success than at any place with which I am acquainted in the South.
