THE WEATHER TO-DAY.

Forecast for North Carolina: Showers Thursday and Friday; light variable winds.

The Weather Yesterday. Maximum temperature, 84; minimum temperature, 70; total precipitation, 1.61 inches.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY.

A large petition for an Odd Fellows' lodge at Mayodan has been signed.

Some three or four of the carpenters on strike here left yesterday for Henderson to do work there.

Deputy Insurance Commissioner Scott has gone to Rowan county to investigate the burning of the Lyster barn.

Mr. A. Dugli left yesterday afternoon for Littleton, where he went to serve refreshments at a wedding reception.

It is understood that Barnum & Bailey's circus is to be in Raleigh this fall. An advance agent was here yesterday planning for this.

Little Robbie J. Smith, son of Mr. R. J. Smith, of Selma, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pope, of this city, is very ill at his home in Selma.

Friends will be glad to know that there is some improvement in the condition of Mr. John S. Johnson, who has been critically ill several days.

Two cases of drunk were before Justice Badger yesterday, and he dismissed both, as the parties were from the country and this was a first offense.

Senator F. M. Simmons left yesterday on a business trip to Washington, D. C. He says that at a very early date the Democratic Hand Book will be issued.

The insane young negro girl Nanine Young, from Oberlin, who has been in jail here for some time, was taken to the negro asylum at Goldsboro yesterday by Deputy Stoll.

Mr. George M. Harden and Mr. Will Taylor returned yesterday from High Point, where the Southern Live Stock Insurance Company completed its organization. Mr. Harden was elected vice-president.

The many friends of Mrs. J. A. Pope will be glad to learn that she is improving, after undergoing an operation in Rex Hospital some time ago. Mrs. Pope is now at her home on North Saunders street.

Mr. W. W. Newman, who returned yesterday from a visit to eastern North Carolina, says that in many of the eastern counties the crops are in a deplorable condition because of the constant and heavy rains.

Mr. J. D. Odum will give a barbecue dinner to friends at his farm near Battsboro on Tuesday. The editor regrets that he cannot join with the fortunate neighbors in enjoying the "cue" and Mr. Odum's hospitality.

Prof. F. P. Hobgood, president of Oxford Seminary, was here yesterday on his way to Johnston county. His school opens the fifth of September and he reports the indications as excellent for a large attendance.

Charged with beating his wife Asa Burn, a negro, was on trial yesterday before Justice Reid, and was sent to the roads for thirty days and to work out the costs, with leave to the county commissioners to work him on the roads.

A new Odd Fellows' lodge is soon to be organized at Apex. It will be organized as soon as the new hall in course of erection is completed. Apex is going forward in every way—in fraternal organization work as well as business.

Mr. Charles E. Bridgers is in the city from Charlotte, visiting his friend, Mr. Thomas I. Jones.

Mr. K. H. McIntyre, of Troy, is a guest at the Yarrowburgh.

Mr. S. T. Raper, of Winston-Salem, was here yesterday.

REMARKABLE CURE

Youth Restored to Health and Sane Mind. Former Postmaster Glenn Tells of Men Reclaimed and Restored to Families They Had Neglected.

Tyre Glenn, lately postmaster of the city of Greensboro, has a novel way of saying things different from others, but always to the point. He gets to the core-quickly and easily and has the reputation of giving his hearer food for thought.

"I have had an opportunity to observe the working of Keeley Institute and the effect the treatment has upon the patients and the wonderful cures it has effected as any man in Greensboro. When the Institute was established in Greensboro my office was just across the street from its location. This gave me better opportunity to observe the patients and their conditions when they reached the Institute, and also a better opportunity to observe them when they emerged from the influence of whiskey than was afforded those farther away from the Institute.

"I have seen some wonderful cures effected. One I observed especially, because I saw the young man when he was brought to the Institute and also after he had remained there for a few days. I was on the train one afternoon coming here from Charlotte and I saw a young man in care of two middle-aged men. This young man appeared to be an imbecile; his flesh was white, his cheeks hung far below his cheek bones, his eyes indicated no living water. One amusing thing occurred on the train when the young man removed his shoes and self-evidently elevated his feet, crossed them and placed them on the head of a courtly old gentleman of the old school who sat on the seat in front of him.

"I was informed that the young man, about nineteen years of age, had been on one solid, unbroken, uninterrupted drunk for three years. Brought to the Institute in that condition, after he had been in about five days I observed him standing in front of the building on the sidewalk and he appeared to be in much better condition. His complexion better, his flesh had a more natural appearance, and like a young widow he was beginning to take notice. I became interested and watched his progress. When he left the Institute he was as nice a man in appearance as you generally see. I think that case was a remarkable cure.

"I have seen so many men reclaimed and returned to their families which they had neglected for years that I feel like I cannot say too much in favor of the treatment.

"I am well acquainted with the managers of Keeley Institute at Greensboro, and have been for several years. I visit the Institute frequently. One thing that impresses me is the evidence that you see on all hands that the Institute is not being operated as a money-making scheme, but rather with a view to help fallen men. You see evidence of large expenditures of money which have been made solely for the purpose of convenience and comfort of the patients. Many of these facilities could have been eliminated and would have been by a manager having in view the making of money.

"I can not say too much for the Keeley Institute as it is conducted in Greensboro.

FIFTEEN NEW LODGES. Grand Secretary Woodell Has Gone West to Visit and Organize Odd Fellows' Lodge.

Mr. E. H. Woodell, Grand Secretary of the Odd Fellows of North Carolina left yesterday afternoon on an official visit to Odd Fellows' lodges in Western North Carolina. He will go as far west as Cherokee county before returning.

Mr. Woodell says that fifteen new lodges have been organized this year and that there are three or four applications pending for new lodges. The membership is increasing, too, in the old lodges, and the order is in a flourishing condition. The new Grand Master, Mr. Thomas M. Stephens, of Durham, will shortly visit a number of the lodges.

The Sacrificed Magnolia. The granolithic force at work in the Capitol Square yesterday cut down the big magnolia which stood just east of the Confederate monument. The tree was a particularly large one of its species and its destruction looked to be a sort of sacrilege for which the walk would ill atone.

Dr. Dixon, however, stated that he had talked to the "tree doctor" and that they had stated that the magnolia could not live but a few years, also that the tree had been necessarily so trimmed that it had become useless for shade purposes. It was on these considerations only that it was sacrificed.

HON. W. A. BRANCH PARALYZED.

Was at a Political Meeting and The Stroke is a Severe One. Friends here learned with much regret that ex-Congressman W. A. Branch, of Beaufort county, had been seriously stricken with paralysis. He was at a primary meeting at Blount's Creek and had spoken at this, when his whole left side was affected, as was also his voice. The attack was so severe that he was taken to a near-by home and was cared for there. The attack is a serious one.
