

COL. C. E. JOHNSON AS TO JAMESTOWN

Victor Blue Wants a North Carolina Crew

FURTHEST AGAIN
Virginians Say It Will Not Do to Have North Carolinians Carry Off the Honors and are Moving for Another Virginia Day.

The visit of the North Carolinians to the Jamestown Exposition and the making of "North Carolina Week" there the greatest and grandest week of the Exposition in attendance, enthusiasm, and pleasure is history, and the more that the details of the week are told the greater is the record of the State. In the official party which accompanied Governor Glenn to the Exposition was Col. C. E. Johnson, president of the Executive Council, and one of the State's foremost citizens, a member of the staff of Governor Glenn. Leaving returned from the Exposition, he was asked to say something concerning the visit there, and his account of the week is an interesting one. Of the trip to Jamestown and the events there he says:

Welcome a Royal One.
"We had a very hot trip from Raleigh to Jamestown as the weather was warm, but we forgot all about this when we were met by the reception committee of Portsmouth, at the head of which was Dorsay Pender, son of General Pender, of North Carolina, who was killed in the Civil War. The reception tendered was of a really delightful kind and it was only the beginning of many courtesies."

Victor Blue, the Tar Heel.
"All North Carolinians were glad to see Victor Blue again. He was on the committee, and Blue was as glad to see the North Carolinians as they were to see him. He is a real, thoroughbred Tar Heel and in compliment to the State, the Navy Department appointed him as the Executive Officer of the Battleship North Carolina. Blue says that if it is possible to man the North Carolina with a North Carolina crew entirely, that he is going to do it. After hearing the Third Regiment Band play he said, 'I am just obliged to have the band any way.'"

"Although the weather was warm and the night inclement, the attendance at the reception given at the Lynnhaven Hotel was large and brilliant. It was a great disappointment to the people of Governor Glenn arrived too late to speak, but a wreck in front of his train had delayed him. The hall was packed in anticipation of the event."
"The North Carolina Society of Norfolk could not have been more cordial and attentive, and by its courtesies it added to the comfort and convenience of the Governor's party but of all North Carolinians who happened to be in reach. The automobile ride on Wednesday morning was a very much enjoyed feature."

Parties to Prevent Agitation.
"Everyone seemed to be not only pleased but surprised at the fine show made by the North Carolina people. This building was crowded not only on Thursday, the big day, but on all days during our stay. On Friday more than 15,000 people in excess of any other day passed through the gates and the people of Virginia are proud to call it all their own. The North Carolinians to carry away the news of the Exposition, and they are moving for another Virginia Day so as to try to catch up with the great crowd that gathered there in North Carolina last year."
Thursday was the big day of the Exposition, and my friends and I went to the parade. I want to say a word about the behavior of the people on that day, and I think I never saw so much of the good crowd that gathered there in North Carolina and there was no disorder whatever. However, the parade was surprising as North Carolinians made up the great bulk of the crowd."

Military Parade Best Yet.
"The North Carolina troops made a fine showing in the parade. In fact the parade, I am told, was the best yet had during the Exposition, and it certainly surpassed the parade on the opening day when the great crowd gathered in addition to the parade, per se, there were cavalry and field ar-

STATE WILL WIN Will Teach Railroads It Is Cheaper to Obey the Law

Governor Glenn Tells Southern Railroad Men They are Wasting Time and Money in Rate Fight.
(New York World.)
Governor Glenn of North Carolina, said yesterday that he was satisfied the commonwealth which he rules would win its crusade to compel the Southern Railroad to maintain lower fares. He had a parley on neutral ground with the representatives of the corporation in the morning and told them they were wasting time and money in taking testimony before a master at No. 39 Broadway. He suggested they defer all the questions of law to the courts. He left last night for home.
"Everything is satisfactory," he said, at the Hoffman House. "The railroads will find it cheaper in the long run to obey the law and charge the two and one-quarter cent rate. They are doing that pending these proceedings. They wanted to charge the higher rates and give the traveling public coupons for the difference. It is a strange thing that the railroads have not changed their fares in fifty years. No one need fear not having a good and profitable trip by taking time to go and see the Jamestown Exposition."

Glenn's Welcome Equals Roosevelt's

Governor Glenn seemed to attract as much attention as had President Roosevelt and the people were just as clamorous to see him or to catch a glimpse as they had of the President. When he arose to speak the applause was so great and continued so long that he had to quiet it himself, asking the people to stop. The speeches made were all good, very good. Ben Lacy, in presenting a flag to one of the regiments, made one of the best and wittiest short speeches I have ever heard.

Prostrated By Hospitality.

"Those hospitable Virginians and extraordinarily hospitable 'Down Homers' kept us so busy and on the go at such a rate that by Friday evening we were utterly prostrated. It was a great time in every way, a great demonstration for North Carolina, and a great tribute of respect to the Governor of the State. No one need fear not having a good and profitable trip by taking time to go and see the Jamestown Exposition."

Did Big Business Negro Cooped After Much Stealing From Express Company

Ben Jones, a colored driver for the Southern Express Company in this city, is in jail in default of $100 bond to await the next term of the superior court. He was committed yesterday by Police Justice Badger, after a hearing on a charge of larceny of goods from the express company. He pleaded guilty to the charge against him. He is charged with stealing from the express company 10 yards dress goods, a pair gray woolen pants, a coat and pair of pants, a suit of clothes, a coat and two pairs of pants, the total value being $38.15. It seems that the goods were not all taken at once but at various times. The prosecution was brought at the instance of Manager J. T. Bowen.

Vergil Stone was Fined $7.35 for Riding a Bicycle on the Street at Night without a Light.

Henry Thomas, another white man, was fined $7.35 for being drunk in Pullen Park.
Sixty Kallist, white, was taxed with costs, $2.35, for being drunk on the street.

Appelwhite-Barnes.

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 20.—Tonight Mr. Henry Appelwhite, of the Motion picture in Stauntonburg township, led to the altar Miss Nannie, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James James, of Rock Ridge. Rev. J. H. Worley, of Pine Level, officiated.
A beautiful supper was served, after which the happy couple took the train at Wilson for the Jamestown Exposition.

Literary Note.

That veteran naturalist, John Burroughs, comes out strongly in the August Atlantic Monthly against the idea of reasoning power in animals. His theory is that they are so apparently wise in the sphere of instinct that a close observer is surprised at their utter stupidity in facing a new problem. The familiar phenomenon of birds dashing themselves against windows, thinking to destroy a reflected rival, he cites as an instance. What cleverness we see in the lower orders is merely the ignorant faculty gained from necessity—if they are not clever they starve. The same law runs through all nature, from the trees which give forth new buds to replace plucked ones, to the birds who lay another clutch of eggs when the first is spoiled. Mr. Burroughs' article is so simple and simple and reasonable that its effect should be a quieting one in the storm and stress of the animal controversy.

FOOD FACTS Grape-Nuts

A Body Balance

People hesitate at the statement that the famous food, Grape-Nuts, yields as much nourishment from one pound as can be absorbed by the system from ten pounds of meat, bread, wheat or oatmeal. Ten pounds of meat might contain more nourishment than one pound of Grape-Nuts, but not in shape that the system will absorb as large a proportion of as the body can take up from one pound of Grape-Nuts.

This food contains the selected parts of wheat and barley which are prepared and by natural means predigesting, transformed into form of sugar, ready for immediate assimilation. People in all parts of the world testify to the value of Grape-Nuts.

A Missouri man says: "I have gained ten pounds on Grape-Nuts to find people. I can truly recommend it to this people." He had been eating meat, bread, etc., right along, but there was no ten pounds of added flesh until Grape-Nuts food was used.

One curious feature regarding true health food is that its use will reduce the weight of a corpulent person with unhealthy flesh, and will add to the weight of a thin person not properly nourished. There is abundance of evidence to prove this.

Grape-Nuts balances the body in a condition of true health. Scientific selection of food elements makes Grape-Nuts food and valuable. Its delicious flavor, and powerful nourishing properties have made Grape-Nuts famous. "There's a Grape-Nut in every package." The Road to Health.
