

ROOSEVELT ON THE GREAT RIVER

Starts on a Long Trip From Keokuk

MAKES SPEECH FIRST

Governors of a Dozen States Present to Greet Him—After the Talking a Negro Prents a Gold Headed Cane in Behalf of Colored Citizens.

Keokuk, Iowa, Oct. 1.—Keokuk put on gala attire to receive the President of the United States when he arrived here at nine o'clock today. The city was assisted in its reception of the Chief Magistrate by a notable gathering of distinguished men, including the governors of more than a dozen states, members of both houses of Congress and the inland waterways commission.

The occasion of the President's coming was the movement for a deep waterway down the Mississippi river to the gulf, and this city was selected as the point of embarkation for his voyage down the river to Memphis where he will arrive Friday. He made a noteworthy speech to thousands of auditors. The reception to the President was cordial and extreme. He was in excellent spirits. He embarked on the steamer Mississippi a few minutes before noon. The boat is scheduled to reach St. Louis at 8 a. m. tomorrow. He was accompanied by Governor Frantz of Oklahoma, and Seth Bullock of the Black Hills.

As at Canton the president did not deliver his speech here just as he had prepared it and given it to the press. He did not omit any feature but frequently turned from his manuscript to inject extemporaneous remarks for emphasis and elaboration. Before beginning he insisted that the ropes be let down so as to admit enough persons to fill a number of vacant seats, and when a man and woman appeared carrying children, he directed that they be given chairs.

Side Remarks Flung In. As a side remark on the theme was similar treatment for the poor and rich and again he found occasion to point his story with familiar colloquialisms. "Isn't this good doctrine," he asked after stating his proposition, addressing the Grand Army group in front of him, and when he received a shout of assent, he added that he was always willing to help a man who stumbles and falls, but not to carry the man who "lies down." "It does him no good, and it is too much for me," he added. "The American people can whip the world," he confided, but contended that they would have a hard time doing it if not prepared.

COOK WINS SUIT

Jury Awards Plaintiff a Cartway

Miss Fannie Cozart Obtains $2,000 by Compromise With the Vade Mecum Springs Company for Injuries.

(Special to News and Observer.) Durham, N. C., Oct. 1.—The case of George W. Cook against Joseph Vickers and others on account of opening a cartway in order that Cook and others can get out to the public road, a case that is now of more than passing interest because of the hard legal fight and the fact that it will again probably go to the Supreme Court, was settled by the jury this afternoon. The jury in their verdict said that the court should appoint a jury of view to visit the place and lay off a cartway for Cook. The jury voted but a short while. It is supposed that there will be an appeal.

A compromise has been reached in the case of Miss Fannie Cozart against the Vade Mecum Springs Co., near Winston. By the compromise Miss Cozart is given $2,000. The suit was for a large amount, about $10,000, and was brought by Winston & Bryant in this city. Miss Cozart was a guest at the Vade Mecum Springs and hired a horse and buggy for a drive. On the drive she was thrown from the buggy, some of the harness and the vehicle itself breaking, and in the fall both her legs were broken. The hurt was of such a serious nature that Miss Cozart is now confined to a bed in her home. The compromise would never have been reached but for the fact that the Vade Mecum Springs Company was shown to be in bad shape financially and the lawyers thought best to get the compromise.

SCARED THE CAMP. James Parker, of Color, Opens Up With a Six-shooter. (Special to News and Observer.) Wilson, N. C., Oct. 1.—Yesterday about noon James Parker, a worthless negro, entered the railroad camp in the southern part of the city and begged of another negro a nickel. The man who had the nickel produced a set of dice from his pocket and proposed a game of craps—throwing the bones as the proposition was made. The man who had the nickel told the negro he had begged the money from that he had lost and that he must produce more coin. James Gilbert, the negro from whom the nickel was begged, told him to get out. "All right," replied the gambler, "I'll go, but I'll see you later. Sure enough, in half an hour he returned with a pistol in his hand and opened fire on the whole camp, shooting until every chamber in the weapon was empty. The camp was scattered in search of an officer. Later a deputy sheriff located the rowdy asleep in a pool room.

"RED FEATHER" TONIGHT. The Big Attraction at the Academy of Music. In Reginald De Koven and Charles Klein's new opera "Red Feather," at the Academy tonight, the score is pleasingly varied, some of the numbers being of the ballad order, some of them humorous and some of them of superior musical worth, coming very near to the grand opera standard; but the keynote of the whole is martial, the resultant effect being stirring to the last degree. In all there are twenty-two individual numbers embracing solos, duets, trios, madrigals, marches and choruses. Of these the best known are: "The Little Miller," "Lessons in Verse," "The Song of the Guards," "The Merry Cavalier," "The Rose and the Breeze," "Garden of Dreams," "The Humorous Ghost," and "In Vino Veritas."

He said he wanted the details to become generally known. John B. Stanchfield, who appeared for Senator Platt, asked that the matter be heard in private by a referee. Found Great and Growing Interest in Education and the Local Tax Idea. Crops are Fair, Corn Crops Excellent and Potatoes Abundant. State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner has returned from a trip in the north eastern part of the State where he delivered eight addresses on the general subject of education and especially of local school tax. He had four appointments in Currituck county and four in Gates. Large and interested audiences greeted him everywhere.

Mr. Joyner says the people of both Currituck and Gates are showing a great deal of interest in education. The County Superintendents and boards of education are interested and in Currituck two members of the board and the superintendent accompanied him to every appointment.

In Currituck three of the five townships have voted special tax and in all probability the other two will vote it in the near future. In Gates there are already several special tax districts and others now pending in three others with bright prospects of carrying all of them. Elections will probably be carried in several others within the next few months.

"The demand for better schools, longer terms, better teachers and more of them is growing everywhere," said Supt. Joyner.

Four crops in these counties," said the State Superintendent in his office yesterday afternoon, "are fair. The corn crop is excellent. Farmers' spliters over the sweet potato crop and the price received."
