The police are strictly enforcing the commission's new gambling law. The public regard the incident as amusing.

FORTIFICATION OF SUBIG BAY.

Taft Going There to Reconcile the Differences Between the Army and Navy.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The announcement from Manila today that Secretary Taft will go to Subig Bay to investigate the work of fortification that is going on there under the direction of the Chief of Artillery with the view of reconciling, if possible, the differences between the Army and Navy Department, aroused the keenest interest at both departments today. The Navy Department was committed to the plan of fortifying Subig Bay as the main defense of the Philippine Islands very early in the work of providing for the coast defenses in the possessions, a naval board deciding that it was more desirable than Manila as a naval base and as the main point for forward operations. As a result of the recommendations of the large floating dry dock, which was constructed in this country and towed to the Philippines, is located at Olongapo, Cavite, and concentrating the work upon Subig Bay. But the army engineers who have recently been investigating the conditions along the coast of the bay have reached the opinion that it will require 100,000 men to defend that point from a land attack. The result of the surveys made by the army engineers has convinced the authorities in the War Department that the scheme of fortifying Subig Bay is impracticable because of the difficulty of maintaining the land defenses. The military strategists point out that whereas coast fortifications have been reduced in recent years it has been as a result of land attack. The Navy Department is still strong in its contention that because of the splendid naval base afforded at Subig Bay the work of improvement should be directed there. The Chief of the General Board of the Navy, takes this view, and is warmly supported by Rear Admiral Brownson, Chief of the Bureau of Navigation. Secretary Taft will return to Manila tomorrow. Orders were issued today at the bureau of navigation placing the United States battleship, the Maryland, at the disposal of the Secretary and his party to convey him from Manila to Subig Bay. He is expected to be accompanied by the Trans-Siberian Railway for St. Petersburg. The plans have been made for the Rainbow to leave Manila on November 2 for Alaska. Hemphill will accompany the Secretary on the trip.

FLEET TO RETURN

Its Stay in the Pacific Will Be Brief

The President Has No Intention of Keeping the Battleships on the Other Side of the Continent.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—The continued presence in Washington of Rear Admiral Evans, who is to command the Atlantic fleet on its voyage to the Pacific, its fleet appearing to answer the criticism in the personnel of the fleet, and the conferences going on between the president and Secretary McCall since the former returned to Washington, have had the effect to renew interest in the rapidly approaching departure of the great fleet. Naval officers here have had their attention directed to the remarks of the president in the course of his recent speech at Vicksburg, bearing upon the fleet movement as representing the present state of mind of the chief executive upon that subject. It is recalled that the president took occasion during his remarks to announce the decision he had observed in some quarters that he was exceeding the appropriation available for coal in getting the fleet to the Pacific. At this point he turned to Representative John Sharp Williams, who was on the platform, and remarked, "I should like to say that we have money enough to get the fleet to the Pacific. If the appropriation bill is passed, the question of getting it back will depend upon another appropriation being made." While this utterance appeared to indicate a purpose on the part of the president to leave to Congress the final decision of whether or not the battleship fleet was to return to the east, it is now certain that the president has never had in his own mind cherished any idea of maintaining the fleet in the Pacific. Indeed, it was today learned beyond question that not only does he intend to order the fleet back to the Atlantic coast, but that his present plans are changed that the order will go forward to the admiral in command before the ships have been ninety days on the Pacific coast of North America. One important conclusion is to be drawn from this now established fact that the fleet is to return almost as soon as the great ships can be cleaned up, refitted, and supplied with coal and provisions, and be otherwise completely ready for the 14,000 return cruise. The conclusion that the executive has absolutely no apprehension as to the life of the fleet, as well as with Japan, and the short stop at the turning point will amply demonstrate the truth of the statement heretofore made from authorized sources that the purpose of the fleet was to test the capabilities of a modern battleship fleet under conditions almost as trying in the point of endurance at least as they are to be expected to arise in actual warfare.

She has since refused to pay, and the plaintiff demands that she be ordered to retain her youth and beauty. The plaintiff admits that the defendant paid her $500 in November, 1917, which was for the year ending May, 1918.

A PRINCE ON HIS DIGNITY.

Zeukenberg Refuses to Receive Persons Sent by the Court. (By the Associated Press.) Berlin, Oct. 25.—Justice Kern today closed the taking of testimony in the libel action brought by General Count Kuno Von Moltke against Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zueken, saying that the court had heard enough to base a decision, though he did not indicate what this decision would be. Counsel for both sides were given the privilege of being heard tomorrow. Herr Harden, when he left the court, was greeted wildly by immense crowds of persons who admired his courage in attacking powerful personages connected with the imperial court. The German ambassador to Vienna, did not appear. His physician informed the justice that it would be dangerous for his patient to travel. Von Gordon, attorney for Count Von Moltke, adding that there was danger of apoplexy and falling dead in court. Justice Kern then directed Zeukenberg to identify Zeukenberg, who was today testified yesterday, whose name was not made public, to Prince Zeukenberg's residence to see if the witness could identify Zeukenberg. Von Treskow later returned to the court and said the prince refused to receive them.

Herr Harden, during the proceeding, lost his temper, and waving his hand in fury toward Count Kuno Von Moltke, yelled, "Does he still deny that a member of the royal house told me that Von Moltke would be made if he tried to repel the charges?" Justice Kern asked General Von Moltke if he had resigned his position on account of the publication of Herr Harden's charges. Dr. Von Gordon replied that they had been such a mountain of lies piled up against him that he felt he could no longer remain military commander of Berlin. He said that Von Moltke would be made if he tried to repel the charges.

EARTH ROCKS AND VILLAGES TUMBLE.

Calabria Visited by Severe Earthquake. Death Loss Unknown. Many Buried in Ruins, But Most of the Inhabitants Escape to the Open Country—Prisoners in Jail Take Fright and Mutiny. (By the Associated Press.) Rome, Oct. 24.—The details received here during the day regarding the earthquake in Calabria yesterday, in every way tend to show that the damage done was much more extended than first estimated. That the loss of life has not been great. The lowest estimates place the number of killed at about twenty and the highest at about 120, but up to this evening the figures mentioned are correct. Nothing definite will be known on the subject until the ruins are cleared away. Details of the earthquake show that the shocks were especially severe in the southern end of the Calabrian Peninsula, but throughout Calabria there were scenes of devastation and despair. The first shock was a tremendous one and was followed by two others of longer duration, which destroyed two villages and reduced to ruins in several sections to a mass of ruins.

The midway this year was an exceptionally good one, and it afforded much amusement, while the crowd enjoyed greatly the races and the free attractions. A vigorously contested game of football between St. Augustine and Shaw University was a special event yesterday, but there was no winner, as neither side scored during the game. It was watched by a big crowd. Two trotting races yesterday proved full of excitement. One was between Dr. Pope's horse "Fred B" and a horse of William Jones, of the Harden stables, in this Dr. Pope's horse winning. In the trotting race between horses owned by Green, of Warrenton, and

In the afternoon the party, as the guest of friends, were taken on a ride over the city. In reference to the trip to be taken by the Chamber of Commerce and others through Raleigh to Washington, President Gannon said it would be impossible for him to be in North Carolina next week as he had to be in New York to attend to the company's affairs. He would be sorry to miss the pleasure of the trip, yet he did not wish his officials to interfere with it. It is understood that the date has been changed to the eleventh of November. "On Saturday," said President Gannon, who was in his private car, "this car will go through from Raleigh to Norfolk and it will be the first through passenger car on our new line. Our depot here is not completed nor is the road bed from Raleigh to Norfolk. In Washington in the first class condition we will have it, for it is new and soft, but in a few weeks we will have it in shape. The public seemed to be very interested in it, and it is possible and so we are trying to share it with them, such as it is at present." "We are not using the union depot here now," he said, "but all the arrangements for its use are practically complete, and as soon as we put on what will be our regular passenger schedules we will begin to use the union depot."
