

TWO BISHOPS HERE Distinguished Prelates in Episcopal Church Sunday

Bishop Hall, of Vermont, at Christ Church and Good Shepherd Church Bishop Parker, of New Hampshire, at St. Mary's and Christ Church.

Raleigh will have two prominent bishops of the Episcopal Church to deliver sermons at Christ Church and the Church of the Good Shepherd tomorrow.

It will be a rare opportunity offered our people to listen to two eminent prelates of a high order of ability.

The Right Rev. A. C. Hall, Bishop of Vermont, regarded one of the profoundest scholars and theologians in the American Church and he is also an author of many well-known religious works.

An Englishman by birth, he was educated at Oxford University and before coming to America labored in the diocese of Oxford as one of the mission priests of the Society of St. John the Evangelist (Catholic Fathers).

Before his elevation to the Episcopate he held curacies at the Church of the Advent and at the Mission Church of St. John the Evangelist in Boston.

As a preacher Bishop Hall ranks with the greatest in this country and his sermons are characterized by deep and searching earnestness and spirituality.

Bishop Hall will reach tomorrow morning at Christ Church at the 11 o'clock service, and at night he preaches at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The Rt. Rev. Edward M. Parker, Bishop Coadjutor of New Hampshire, was educated at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.; thence he went to Kible College, Oxford, England, receiving his bachelor's degree in 1885 and his master's degree in 1887.

Mr. Thomas M. Robertson, of the United States Department of Commerce and Labor, is in the city. He here to talk with cotton manufacturers and cotton merchants concerning the practice of cotton exchanges.

The Bureau of Corporations having been directed by the Livingston resolution to investigate and report whether or not cotton exchanges permitting the trading of futures are manipulated or controlled by any person or persons in restraint of trade, and whether or not the operations of dealing in futures tend to depress the price of cotton.

Mr. Robertson has held an important position with the Department of Labor since 1893 and is one of its most capable and efficient special agents, and is entrusted with important investigations. He is a Randolph county man and represented that county in the Legislature of 1892, and was a useful and patriotic legislator.

HUNDREDS REPORT FOR BIBLE STUDY Opinions of Farmers, Mechanics, Manufacturers and Editors

Letters to Bureau of Labor and Printing With Expressions on Child Labor Law, Conditions of Wage Earners, Immigration, Etc.

Assistant Commissioner M. L. Shipman, of the Bureau of Labor and Printing, has just finished reviewing and editing many hundreds of letters which have recently been received at the department from the farmers, mechanics, manufacturers and editors of the State expressing their opinions upon the provisions of the present child labor law, the condition of wage earners and the subject of immigration.

The prevailing sentiment, says Mr. Shipman, is favorable to the law restricting child labor in the mills, as amended by the General Assembly of 1907, especially among the manufacturers who offered no opposition to the passage of the bill, which was introduced in the House by a representative of the mill man.

A shortage is reported in all classes of labor and favorable conditions prevail among wage-earners generally. Wages have advanced materially in almost every pursuit and profession and many employers complain that they cannot afford to "pay the price."

TO HEAR JOYNER HALF-WAY POINT Many Went to Redwood School House

Presence of Revenue Officers and Secret Service Men in Durham Excites the Curiosity of the Public.

(Special to the News and Observer.) Durham, N. C., Oct. 25.—A large number went out from here to the Redwood school, in Oak Grove township this morning, many going out over the railroads. A few left here early in the morning and went by private conveyance. The occasion was the school rally at Redwood school, and the speaker was State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner, who reached here from Raleigh early in the morning.

Nothing new was learned today about the activity of the revenue officers and secret service men in this district but there was every evidence that the agents for Uncle Sam are still active and are looking for something about which nothing is being said. Today several additional revenue men reached Durham and were creating talk by looking about the streets. Just what it all means is not known, but it is a fact that the general opinion is that the government is looking for some fact that will come to a head in a few days and create interest when it develops.

The Hotel Biltmore has again changed hands. This hotel was first conducted by several young men and then changed hands and the name changed to the Biltmore. Recently the owner quit his contract and it has now been taken over by Harry Kahn, who is preparing to make extensive improvements. He has leased the property for five years with the privilege of ten years. He will open up in a short while, but not until considerable improvements have been made.

Last Monday evening memorial exercises were held in the Y. M. C. A. hall in honor of John Charles McNeill, Mr. McNeill was a frequent visitor at the park, and he was held in high esteem here. Just a year ago he delivered a lecture before the members of the college community, and afterwards he was the guest of a local organization of the college. At the memorial exercises Dr. Edwin Mims presided. Dr. Few spoke on "McNeill as a Man," and Prof. R. L. Flowers on "McNeill as a Journalist." Dr. Edwin Mims read a number of his most representative papers.

Prof. E. C. Brooks, of the department of education, is spending this week in his place, the subject is in Raleigh during the latter part of the week. The Institute was held here last year. From the conference Dr. E. C. Brooks will return to his American History from 1815 to 1845. Prof. Mims and Wooten have engagements to speak at the North Carolina Y. M. C. A. Bible Institute which is being held at the Y. M. C. A. in Raleigh during the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Morton was a member of one of Washington's most prominent families and one of our oldest and most highly esteemed citizens. She was a consecrated church member and noted for her deeds of charity. Mrs. Morton was survived by a number of friends and acquaintances in this city.

Whether he will run for President will not depend on the Republican nomination. (By the Associated Press.) Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 25.—W. J. Bryan has decided that his decision whether to announce himself as candidate for the Democratic nomination for President will not depend upon the choice of the Republicans. While passing through Kingston on his way to Port Jervis, where he was scheduled to speak tonight, Mr. Bryan authorized the following statement: "My decision as to being a candidate will not depend on who the Republican candidate is. The question will be considered entirely from the standpoint of Democratic principles and Democratic advancement."
