IN AND ABOUT THE CITY.

Grand Secretary B. H. Woodell has come to Oxford to attend a district meeting of the Odd Fellows.

After a siege of inclement weather a good article was furnished yesterday, and the promise is for more of this at present.

Mr. S. L. Rogers, of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, who has been in the western part of the State for some time, has returned to the city.

Friends are glad to see in the city Mr. Ham F. Smith, who is here on a vacation visit. He is now engaged in the stock and bond business in New York.

Prof. J. T. Alderman, of Henderson, was here yesterday on his way to Selma to inspect a Chapter of Royal Arch Masons. He is Grand Master of the Third Veil Royal Arch Chapter.

The legal firm of Messrs. W. C. Douglass and C. L. Sykes has been dissolved, and Mr. Douglass has associated with Mr. W. H. Lyon, Jr., the firm now being Douglass and Lyon.

Prof. J. A. Jones, of the Fayetteville graded schools, returned to his home yesterday. He had been on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, in Wake county, who has been ill but who is now improving.

The condition of Mr. J. E. Lane, the insurance agent who was recently placed in the best house as being affected with smallpox is reported as improved, and it is expected that he will have recovered in the next ten days.

Three negro couples obtained marriage licenses here yesterday, these being Lonnie Prettie and Parlie Locust, of Wake Forest; Richard Powell, of Raleigh, R. F. D., and Elizabeth McCullers, of Holly Springs; Swenson Johns and Nanie Jones, of Auburn.

Among other attorneys arriving yesterday to appear in appeal cases from the Eighth District in the Supreme Court were Messrs. H. B. Adams, of Monroe; James A. Lockhart, of Wadesboro; George Rountree, and J. G. McCormick, of Wilmington, and A. A. F. Seawell, of Jonesboro.

Grand Master Perrin Busbee, of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, will today go to Goldsboro with members of the special committee to arrange for the dormitory in the Odd Fellows Orphanage which is to be a memorial to the late Nathaniel Jacobi, of Wilmington, known as the "Father of the Orphanage." The dormitory is to cost about $15,000 and will accommodate about seventy children. The committee is composed of Eugene P. Albee, Richard J. Jones, Junius Stocumb, John F. Bruton, Joseph G. Brown, James P. Sawyer and W. H. Weatherly.
