Raleigh Citizens Say Idea is a Good One

CUT OUT BOARD FENCES

Agreeing That Park Next Court House and Postoffice Buildings Would be of Great Value—Raleigh is Advised That Its Board Fences Ought to be Taken Down.

Raleigh people are impressed with the value of having a Business Centre Park to take the place of the lots of the United States government and Wake county, back of the postoffice building and next to the county court house. "It is a good idea," is the verdict, and that these two places could be made into a delightful city park is a thing not to be doubted.

What name of the proposed new park, and in interviews these gentlemen have approval to the plan for combining the two lots into one park, while in addition to this several declared that Raleigh should get rid of its board fences and replace these with wire fences and private or other evergreen fences. In the city was Mr. Alf S. Barnard, of Asheville, who declared that this city had been greatly benefited by the removal of its board fences substituting evergreen hedges for these. Mr. Alexander Webb, who has placed privet hedges about his home, while approving of the new park idea, urges that all Raleigh could be made more beautiful and more attractive by doing away with its board fences, and in place of these putting up with fences and privet hedges, which is something that can be done with united action.

Mr. John F. Fuden, president of the Raleigh Savings Bank, expressed himself in favor of the idea and said, "I am in favor of the movement and I think that it would add much to the beauty of the city."

Mr. H. W. Jackson, cashier of the Commercial and Farmers Bank, in speaking of the matter, says: "I am head-over-heels in favor of it and think it a fine scheme. As it is now the lot is of benefit to no one and those who see it only desire to get into it. I think the city could be greatly beautified by doing away with every board fence possible and replacing them with privet hedges."

Mr. Alf S. Barnard, of Asheville, who was in the city yesterday, in speaking of the well known beauty of that city, says: "The beauty of Asheville is due in a large measure to the fact that in most places about the city board fences have been replaced by privet hedges, and Raleigh would be benefited not alone by more parks, but also by getting rid of the board fences to its back lots, replacing these with wire fences and with privet or other evergreen hedges."

Mr. Alexander Webb, Vice-President of the North Carolina Home Insurance Company, thinks the proposed plan a good one for the city and says: "I think it a very desirable scheme and am greatly in favor of it. Another excellent way to beautify our city would be to use wire fences and privet hedges, which grow rapidly, in the place of the many unsightly board fences now used in Raleigh. Cities that have tried this plan are delighted with it."

The president of the Chamber of Commerce, Col. Chas. E. Johnson, spoke of the new park idea as follows: "In the original plans of the city when it was laid out, in 1790, there was a sufficient park system arranged, but later two of the original parks were used for State and public buildings, so that Raleigh could well utilize these two proposed locations for another park. A city, especially in a southern climate, could not have too many breathing places and all possible available space should be utilized for the health and recreation of the people. The best cities are recognizing this fact and are acting accordingly by establishing public squares wherever they can."

Police Justice Alex. Stronach stated his approval of the plan, saying "The more parks a city has the better and healthier it is for the citizens. Many cities have neglected to establish parks when they had the opportunity of doing so at very little cost and later they had to condemn valuable property and go to great expense to place these breathing places advantageously. The plot in question is in the heart of Raleigh and would make a pretty and welcome resting place for the people of the city."

Mr. Joseph G. Brown, president of the Citizens' National Bank, gave his opinion by saying "The city should seize every opportunity to get places for parks and these two plots would greatly benefit the people of our city."

Capt. J. J. Thomas, president of the Board of Directors of the Commercial National Bank, made the following statement: "If the government and country would allow the city the privilege of placing a fountain in the center of the government plot, constructing walks and covering the fence surrounding the jail with pretty vines it would be a God-send to the city and a great benefit to the health and enjoyment of its citizens."

To Whom It May Concern,
Port Chester, N. Y.
"About three years ago I was troubled with my hair falling out at an alarming rate. A friend of mine induced me to try a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, which I did, and it did me so much good that I have used it ever since. I can gladly say it has made my hair grow very thick and stopped it from falling out. It certainly has no equal and I gladly recommend it."

ALL SIGNS POINT TO GUILT OF EASTMAN

Woman's Jewels Implicates the Man

HE WAS SUDDENLY "FLUSH"

Eastman's Letter to His Wife in Which He Gives His Version of the Killing—Foreman of Coroner's Jury Believes in Missive, But Facts Show to Contrary.

(By the Associated Press.)
St. Michaels, Md., June 26.—Telltale shafts of light continued today to filter in upon the tragedy of the lonely bungalow of Broad creek. As the tangled skeins of the story are picked up one by one they tend more and more to dissipate the claim advanced by Robert Eastman that it was a woman and not he who killed Edith Woodhill.

Today the jewels worn by the woman at the time of her disappearance were found in a pawn shop in Baltimore, placed there last Tuesday by a man who answered fully the description of Eastman. The man secured $200 on the two diamond rings and an oriental pearl brooch. Two hundred dollars which Mrs. Woodhill had in her possession when she left her foster father's home last week is missing. Eastman repaid a loan last week of $200 and when he returned from Baltimore on Tuesday night he seemed plentifully supplied with money.

In all of the phases of this most extraordinary case there has been no more weird feature than the burial to-night of the body of Eastman in a grave beneath the scrubby pines of his own farm and near the unfinished bungalow where Mrs. Woodhill was done to death. No church yard of the section above would permit the burial of a man who had been a member of the community refused to dig his grave. Two white laborers were finally induced to undertake the task.

There promised for a time today to be a high fever in the legal body of Eastman's body. A. S. Rosenthal of New York, an attorney who represented Eastman when he was charged with grand larceny, and who secured for him the bail which he forfeited by flight, arrived upon the scene and, acting for Mrs. Ida S. Easton, of New York, one of the sureties who lost heavily by the forfeiture of the bond, demanded the custody of the body in order that he might make delivery of it to the New York authorities, by whom a reward of $1,500 had been offered.

The local authorities declined to give up the body.
The letter of the suicide, in which he gave his wife his version of the killing of Mrs. Woodhill by a Jewish woman, was made public to-day and deeply impressed many who read its circumstantial account of the tragedy, for which the writer claimed he was in no way responsible. The letter follows:

"Vienna:—Take this money and go at once to McDaniel, Talbot County, Md., and claim my body and all my property. The property consists of 22 acres of land and a bungalow. There is also a motor boat. Have a sale and convert the whole thing into cash. I don't owe a cent excepting for the paint and pump, etc., which Shananan and Wright, of Easton, will be glad to get back, as it is not broken, just as it was shipped.

"Little girl" had no hand in the tragedy. She there and removed the evidence after the other two couples fled. I did this for self-preservation and am haunted. The victim was my particular friend and we were well mated. Have only known her two weeks. We all, that is, two men and two other women from Annapolis, went to the bungalow for a time. Every one got full excepting Edith and myself. Edith tried to win one of the girls' fellows while lying on the bed with him and was hit three times on the side of the head with a full bottle of champagne and the fellow hit once. She fell over on the floor and died. The man did not come for an hour. I was left with the corpse and cannot take a chance for a trial. Life to me and Shananan and I will pull down the shades and say good-bye. You can claim my property and say as little as possible, but get it. I am fully sorry for you and our boy, and I have been hustling madly to make your path clear, but fate is against me.

(Signed) Rob.
"Take Pennsylvania Railroad to Easton, Md., and then change to B. C. and a. Don't neglect this. The property is valuable."
Foreman Radcliffe, of the coroner's jury, declared himself convinced of the truth of the strange missive and urged the authorities to investigate further into the matter. With his disclaimer of responsibility, however, Eastman admitted in the letter that he did not care to take the chance of a trial. Life to me and Shananan and I will pull down the shades and say good-bye. You can claim my property and say as little as possible, but get it. I am fully sorry for you and our boy, and I have been hustling madly to make your path clear, but fate is against me.

While many others were as deeply impressed as the jury foreman, the searching investigations of the authorities fail to substantiate any of Eastman's claims.
The witness, William Sutton, who it was said last night, had heard a party of men an duoman merrymaking in the bungalow on Sunday night declared to-day that it was late Saturday night and that he heard only the voice of one man and one woman; that the voice of the woman was that of Mrs. Woodhill.
When the cabin was searched following the discovery of the body places at the table were set for two.

TOO MUCH FORCE

Large Number of Employees in Department of Commerce and Labor Will Be Dismissed.
(By the Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., June 26.—Approximately ten per cent of the employees of the Department of Commerce and Labor in and out of Washington, are involved unfavorably in reports made to Secretary Nagel by the bureau chiefs of the department. The employees reported upon unfavorably will be either dismissed from the service or reduced. The reports show, in some instances, a serious discrepancy from the work that reasonably should be accomplished in the bureau.
No announcement of the action of the officials will be made prior to the beginning of the new fiscal year when the dismissals or reductions will be promulgated in the ordinary way.

SEVERE THUNDER STORM

THREE HOUSES STRUCK BY LIGHTNING—MRS. BARRETT RECEIVED SHOCK.

Wilson, N. C., June 25.—Yesterday afternoon a severe thunderstorm came up suddenly. During the deluge a fire alarm was sent in. The fire department responded. It proved to be the Clayton boarding house which had been struck by lightning. The damage was slight.

The residence of Mr. J. E. Barrett was also struck and Mrs. Barrett received a shock. The bolt struck the chimney, displacing several bricks, ripped up several sheets of slate, and passed down the side of the house and demolished a window casing, shattering glass and tearing the plastering from the room.

The house of Hardy Johnson, colored, was also struck, the front porch demolished and the house fired, but was extinguished by the rain. A number of transformers were put out of commission by the storm.
A number of cotton blooms have been brought in from different sections of the county.
