

RINGSTERS USED DRASS AND HELP Abuse of Daniels, Bailey, Sikes, News and Observer

DEFENSE VERY WEAKE

Ringster Candidate Make Five Trades About Mrs. West Candidate for Office, With Explanations That Did Not Explain and Without Declarations as to Very Important Matters on Which the People Desire Light.

The ring gave its only advertised performance last night. It was a two-ring performance under two tents and was the greatest show on earth, run on the Barnum theory. The people love to be humbugged. The meeting had been advertised at the courthouse but it is said to have been given out that it could be filled an adjournment would be made to the Academy of Music. There were fewer people in the courthouse than were present at the Sikes speaking when, with a grand flourish, the chairman announced that so many people wanted to get in the meeting would be adjourned to the Academy of Music. That was a part of the circus performance not on the program and was only to draw the people to the inner circle of the ringsters. The theatrical announcement was received with applause and shouting. In the main, by the regulation ring posters, assisted by the Ringers, who, like Augustus Belmont, Bernard, were conspicuously present. The solid citizens present, who had come to hear and who had comfortable seats, did not remain in the truck and wanted the show to go under the smaller canvas. But that was not the Barnum theory and so the band marched, and the cheering from the courthouse and the army of music present in the courthouse when the procession headed with true ring step and follow your leader, command march, led by the Ringers. There the crowd increased and those who spoke first had a large crowd to hear them and a noisy and cheering one as to the men in the lead of the Ring and Bailey at the close of the speech a good company departed so that those who spoke last had not so many hearers as those who spoke first. The band played lively tunes every now and then and was the best part of the performance. While the performance was going on and the chief tragedian Buck Jones, was speaking in his remarkable thrilling style, he has been known in front of the Academy to hear. "What is the play tonight?" he asked of a bystander. "The Day in the Man With a Ring in His Nose." The boy answered, "Is it the last act?" "Yes," said the man dryly. "And it will be the last. I will show nobody could tell the proportion of the crowd favored the Ring ticket. Quite a number of known anti-Ring men were seen in the audience and a good number of solid citizens who had not identified themselves with either the Ring or anti-Ring ticket were present to hear. They did not join in the applause but laughed at some of the jokes.

That Steamship Line Man Works for Press

A. P. ISSUES STATEMENT

The Party Alleged to Have Been Released from the Service of the Associated Press—Not Because Any Wrong Has Been Done, as Alleged, But for the Reason That His Connection With It Is Subject to Misinterpretation—What a Congressman Humphrey Charged—Implicates Steel and Other Trusts.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, June 15.—Representative Humphrey, of Washington, introduced the ship subsidy bill today in the House upon various terms of combinations among foreign steamship lines teaching material classes and referred to discriminatory rates charged for sending American produce abroad. In the course of his speech he charged that certain foreign lines were represented in Washington by a member of the staff of the Associated Press. In that connection the following was issued by the Associated Press: "It having come to the knowledge of the executive officers of the Associated Press that an employee in the Washington office has been engaged to furnish to them, gratuitously, information in connection with the investigation which has been disclosed that while such employment did not at any time involve any act on the part of the employee which would tend to reflect upon the integrity of the service, nor even interfere with its legitimate and proper work for the Associated Press, nevertheless such employment is not subject to misinterpretation and is, therefore, his usefulness, and his relation to the Associated Press has in consequence ceased by the acceptance of this termination of his long, useful and honorable service does not justify any assumption that he has been consciously guilty of any misconduct or that he is being paid for the information for the steamship companies. He has done nothing which one not connected with the Associated Press might not have done with perfect propriety. This is what Mr. Humphrey said on the subject. "The hired representative of Herr Ballin and interests is here in Washington today on the staff of the Associated Press. He is a German, a gathering agent in the world. This gentleman's name is Mr. Jerome J. Wilber, and when you remember how close the German merchant marine is to the German government, at least suggestive that this representative of the German steamship trust should also be the representative of the Associated Press, 'Navy Department, War and Navy Departments. "When he was on the witness stand the other day, he refused to testify as to the amount of money that he was being paid for his services. The next day after that Mr. Hoar, of New York, American general manager of the Hamburg American Packet Company, testified upon the witness stand that he had paid Mr. Wilber $10,000 a year. "What are the services that he renders to this company?" Mr. Hoar testified. "He has had reference to testimony given before the House committee which had been investigating the alleged existence of a 'lobby' in opposition to the ship subsidy bill. "Certain great American trusts, said Mr. Humphrey, received special rates and privileges from the foreign ships. He mentioned the 'Steel Trust' and the 'Trust for the United States' in connection with the investigation. "The Hamburg American Packet Company is the greatest power, is the most gigantic trust, combine and monopoly that exists in the world," declared Mr. Humphrey. "All the different combines and companies on the Atlantic ocean, are also under that gigantic working scheme and have their headquarters in the United States, the greatest of all trusts is the Hamburg American Line. It is also probable that this line exerts, together with the 'Steel Trust', a controlling interest in all of the Pacific conferences. "Mr. Patten issues statement. New York, June 15.—The following statement was issued tonight on behalf of Mr. Patten: "Mr. Patten was no party to any of these spinner contracts; he knew nothing about them and took no part of their negotiation in them, directly or indirectly. Mr. Patten being a man of high standing in his own community, hated very much to be indicted, particularly with the fact that there might be no foundation for it, but now that it is done there is nothing for us to do except to have the federal courts determine whether anything has been done by him directly or indirectly, that is legally or morally culpable. "Hester's Cotton Statement. By the Associated Press. New Orleans, La., June 15.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, issued today shows the total visible to be 2,700,790 bales, against 2,624,841 last week and 3,488,000 last year. Of this the total of American cotton is 1,628,790 bales, against 1,707,841 last week and 2,172,907 last year, and of all other countries, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 1,071,999, against 957,053 last week and 1,205,893 last year. "Of the world's visible supply of cotton there is now about and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,028,000 bales, against 1,248,000 last year; in Egypt 87,000, against 151,000 last year; in India 708,900, against 420,000 last year; and in the United States 128,000, against 44,000 last year. "NOTICE. Sealed proposal will be received until July 7th, 1910, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the erection and completion of a graded school building for the town of Oxford, N. C. Each proposal must be accompanied with a certified check for $500, made payable to the chairman of the Building Committee, as a surety that the bidder will give satisfactory bond in some good reliable bonding company, for the sum of twenty-five per cent of the amount of his proposal. The faithful performance of the contract will be secured by bonds to Mr. W. E. Ballou, chairman Building Committee, Oxford, N. C. Drawings and specifications can be obtained of Lanthorn & Ross, Architects, Durham, N. C. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Chairman Building Committee, Lanthorn & Ross, Durham, N. C. 6-9-Thurs 21.

WANTED: TEN FIRST-CLASS BROTHERS

Jury against James Patten, Morris E. Botchell, F. B. Hayes, Wm. F. Brown, Eugene G. Boston, Sidney J. Harman, Robert M. Thompson, charging the defendants with conspiring to defraud the so-called 'cotton pool' which was organized in February, 1910, and which had advanced the cotton market in the city of New York. The indictment was returned by the grand jury of the Southern District of New York on June 14, 1910, and is the first indictment of the kind since the passage of the anti-trust law. The indictment is a result of an investigation conducted by the department of justice some time since the passage of the anti-trust law. The indictment charges that the defendants conspired to defraud the cotton pool by the purchase of cotton at a price below the market value and the resale of the same at a higher price. The indictment also charges that the defendants conspired to defraud the cotton pool by the purchase of cotton at a price below the market value and the resale of the same at a higher price. The indictment also charges that the defendants conspired to defraud the cotton pool by the purchase of cotton at a price below the market value and the resale of the same at a higher price.

which the much desired price will go to the highest bidder. Why Attorney-General's Petition Was Denied. One of the objects of the day was the denial of a petition made by Attorney-General Webb to Superior Judge Van Nostrand for an injunction restraining the Kaufman and Langstaff firms and one of their associates from the purchase of cotton. The petition was denied because the court found that the petitioners had not shown that they were injured by the purchase of cotton by the defendants. The court also found that the purchase of cotton by the defendants was a legitimate business transaction and that the petitioners had no right to interfere with it.

By the Associated Press. Manassas, Va., June 15.—"Not guilty" was the verdict of the jury rendered today in the case of Prof. J. D. Harris, former principal of the Warrenton High School, who was tried here on the charge of having murdered W. A. Thompson, associate editor of the Warrenton Virginian on the streets of Warrenton, April 1910. The case went to the jury at 1:15 o'clock and the verdict was announced at 4 o'clock. When the announcement of "not guilty" was made by the foreman of the jury, several women in the courtroom applauded and the accused sprang to his feet and embraced his sister, who had sat by his side during the trial. His many friends who had gathered in contempt of court, but afterwards remitted the fines.

Wilmingtonians Ref. About $25,000 of "Wireless" Stock Owned in City by the Sea. (Special to News and Observer.) Wilmington, N. C., June 15.—The people of Wilmington are perhaps more deeply interested in the affairs of the United Wireless Telegraph Company than in any other town in the State and the news that all of the officers of the company, save one, have resigned, has caused a great deal of talk in the city. The news that the company was to be sold to the United States Government has also caused a great deal of talk in the city.
