

AS HE SAW THE REUNION

Member of Old Confederate Drum Corps Writes of It

The North Carolina Veterans Had the Best Time of Their Lives and Were Royally Treated at Norfolk—Covered Themselves With Glory.

To the Editor: We left on the 1:30 train Monday morning and had a most pleasant trip, thanks to the conductor and other officials of the R. A. L., who extended to us the courtesy and kindness for which they are noted. We arrived at Norfolk about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, and were escorted to the city hall and given the freedom of the city, which was immense.

After brushing up a little we marched to the Odd Fellows' Hall which was decorated most beautifully and then the good time commenced. Gen. Carr gave us a few words as to how we would be welcomed, and then the mayor of the city, in his eloquent way, gave us a welcome and turned the city over to us. Then Dr. Elison, in his inimitable style, responded, and I can tell you he left nothing unsaid that was pertinent to the occasion (God bless him!), and when it comes to his time to answer, he said, "I hope he will be ready to cross over the river in peace and join the ever blessed Father."

The ladies then gave us some of the best old-time music, such as Dixie and other old airs, and I must say that I had never heard Dixie sung so splendidly and with such fervor as it was rendered by the young lady of Portsmouth, Mrs. Griff Edwards. God be with them all forever!

After other matters were attended to, Gen. Carr called on Brother Orrin Smith (who is the designer of the Confederate flag) and he was escorted to the platform by some gentlemen. As he ascended the platform he was so overcome with emotion that he could not talk, and asked the gentleman to please read the paper that he had written for the occasion. It was the designer of that great Confederate flag which so many great Confederates had their all to protect. May his days be long, and in his declining years may he have strength and health, and when the last trump sounds may he be found with the chosen of the Father in Heaven.

And then our old, true-blue friend, Brother Betts who is always with us at all our reunions, asked the blessing of our Heavenly Father on us all and we were dismissed.

After dinner we all went down to Ocean View and there our annual business meeting was held. All of the old officers were re-elected and then we had a wonderful address by Governor Mann of Virginia, and it was highly appreciated by all. The old drum corps of Raleigh participated in all these exercises and came through with flying colors.

The most pleasant feature of the entire encampment and the one that I especially want to mention was the care and attention that were given to the old soldiers at the city hall. The First and Second Companies of Coastal Artillery were detailed to look after them, and they certainly did perform their duty to perfection. They would go out on the streets and wherever one was found who had fallen by the wayside from exhaustion or from lack of money, they would take him to the city hall, and there they would carry him to the city hall where he was given every attention. Oh, how it made my heart swell with gratitude towards them for such kindness to the old soldiers. Now, I stayed at the city hall, and at any hour of the night you could see them going around with the water, taking each man if he would have some, or if there was anything that he needed they would take care of it. These brave boys for the care and attention they gave us, and I hope that the officers and all of the men of that past year through their lives may be watched over by the one who

and knows all things, and at the end may they be received in the arms of the Blessed Father with the words "Enter thou into the joys of thy Lord!"

Well, the Old Confederate drum corps covered themselves with glory. We played for everything on the march. The military companies had brass bands to lead them, and we led the old sets, and you may be sure we did it to perfection.

I would say more, but Brother Johnson is going to say something, and I will leave the field, with best wishes for Norfolk and her citizens, especially the ladies.

Kindly yours,
 J. J. LEWIS,

CONCRETE BRIDGE ROAD MEMORIAL

let has inscribed the names of the Highway Commission, as follows: "Built by the Carolina Concrete Company, Greensboro, Guilford county, N. C."

Another substantial honor and additional reward followed soon upon receipt of the one thousand dollar prize. The Motor Era, an entertaining journal of Atlanta, forwarded to Chairman King a large and beautiful silver cup with water. On the cup was the following inscription: "Presented by Motor Era of Atlanta, Ga., to John L. King, who had charge of building the prize winning road in the southern section of the Journal-Herald run, 1909."

Chairman King has since had inscribed on the opposite side of the cup the names of all the members of the Highway Commission.

Interesting History.

A brief recap of facts leading to the final solution of the local question: "What shall we do with the money" which became a burning one after the prize had been awarded to Guilford by the road experts, judges in the park at Guilford Court House trip with the automobile party last October may prove entertaining. The Highway Commission was embarrassed with suggestions, demands and requests (church, societies, suggested that it be donated to charity, a patriotic ladies' association asked that it be contributed to a soldiers' monument fund, some desired the money expended in building concrete walks in the park at Guilford Court House battle ground, where Cornwallis and Greene fought the celebrated battle just preceding the surrender at Yorktown. It was asked as a contribution to the Foreign Missions, some thought it should be turned into the general county fund, others suggested the building of a short section of perfect road not only as a specimen, but as an enduring memorial. Let us come to the final solution of the question, "What shall we do with the money?" which merited the prize, a memorial bridge of lasting material, so that the honor of the county and the enterprise of the donor may be perpetuated for all time, and securing in this way a bridge, a memorial and an everlasting advertisement of our progress.

Practical and level-headed men were the Highway Commissioners. They made no complaint of the numerous demands and entreaties for suggestions, and entreaties and demands. Finally, out of it all when they announced that they had decided to build a memorial bridge everybody was satisfied, recognizing its utility and appropriateness, and the splendid concrete structure dedicated today is the wisest result.

In the past six years Guilford county has built 119 miles of macadam roads, exclusive of city road building. Road construction now is being done with regular road taxes and by contract work at the rate of fifteen miles per annum in addition to keeping in repair all other roads.

The stretch of road that won the prize is about forty miles in Guilford county, running from the Forsyth county line via Oak Ridge and Sumnerfield to Greensboro, the county seat, thence to High Point.

Owing to heavy automobile travel between High Point and Greensboro this macadam is fast losing its surface, and the commissioners have called a special meeting for Monday of next week to award a contract for surfacing the entire roadway, a distance of sixteen miles, with bituminous paving over the rock foundation, it being estimated to cost $700 per mile.

No, the probabilities are that when the next endurance run is made next spring from New York to Atlanta, the party will spin over this extended line of bituminous roadway and will find their memorial bridge crossing a superior road to even that which won the prize a year and a half before.

How to Get Rid of Catarrh

A Simple Safe, Reliable Way, and It Costs Nothing to Try.

Those who suffer from catarrh know its misery. There is no need of this suffering. You can get rid of it by a simple, safe, inexpensive, home treatment discovered by Dr. Blosser, who, for over thirty-five years, has been treating catarrh successfully.

His treatment is unlike any other. It is not a spray, douche, salve, cream or inhaler, but is a more direct and thorough treatment than any of these. It cleans out the head, nose, throat and lungs so that you can again breathe freely and sleep without that stopped-up feeling that all catarrh sufferers have. It heals the diseased mucous membranes and arrests the flow of discharge, so that you will not be constantly blowing your nose and spitting, and at the same time it does not poison the system and ruin the stomach, as internal medicines do.

If you want to test this treatment without cost, send your address to Dr. J. W. Blosser, 139 Walton Street, Atlantic City, and he will send you by return mail coupon and the medicine to satisfy you that it is all catarrh, catarrh, bronchitis, colds and all catarrhal headaches, catarrhal deafness, catarrhal cough, colds and all catarrhal complications. He will also send you free an illustrated booklet. Write him immediately.

TRUE MISSION OF A NEWSPAPER

(Asheboro Courier.)

Mr. Joseph Daniels, president of The News and Observer Publishing Company, in his annual report made to the stockholders, discussed the policy of the News and Observer, "The True Mission of a Newspaper," in a most interesting manner. He emphasized the need of an independent and courageous party newspaper. The report was published in full in The News and Observer of August 14. It rings true and clear. Editor Daniels shows that the party paper can do better service in securing such good government as will make the party worthy of support and the instrument of good government of every age and creed. The News and Observer has not only met with success in securing the largest circulation in the State but it has become a great and influential newspaper.

THE CONFESSION

There shines in her eyes
 The light of a love
 As pure as the stars
 As meek as a dove.

Romantic is she
 And winsome in ways,
 As frolicsome, free,
 As fairyland fays.

She practices arts
 Which never deceive
 Nor dailies with hearts
 Their yearnings to give.

Her ringlets are jet—
 Replenish their shade!
 And gracefully set
 As ever were made.

Her rosiest beams
 In pride not amiss,
 Her rubies it seems
 Were made just to kiss.

She's lovable, sweet,
 With graces divine,
 And life's incompleter
 Discovered I find.

And thus with a look
 Of eloquence rare,
 My chances I took
 To mention I there.

A moment I whiled
 To hear her confess
 Then sweetly she smiled:
 "I would, but I—yes!"

25c. A DAY IS ALL IT COSTS MOST PEOPLE TO RUN THIS CAR

There are 7,500 Hupmobile owners in America. The great majority keep their cars at home and run them for about 25c a day. This means everything—oil, gasoline, repairs—everything. You may moralize all you like about the expense of keeping automobiles, but you'll not find a Hupmobile owner who will admit that his car is an expense at all. At 25c a day, he maintains that his Hupmobile is cheaper than street cars—indefinitely less expensive than more costly.

Cheaper because it covers so much more ground. An economy because it enables the owner to do two or three times as much work and still have leisure. The Hupmobile is just the right size to save money in first cost; and it saves money, because it is just the right size on tires, gasoline and repairs. And isn't it the handsomest, smartest car of its type on the market? Chat with a Hupmobile owner (doubtless your acquaintances include one or more). Note his enthusiastic talk. Then look us up or write for the catalog.
