DOUGHTON MAKES FIGHT IS ONLY ON

The Democratic Candidate for Congress in the Eighth District Meets Cowles in Joint Debate-The Republican Congressman Extolled the "Virtues" of High Turiff and Still Declared for the Force Bill.

(Special to News and Observer.)
North Wilkesboro, Sept. 14.—Hona
R. L. Doughton and Chas. H. Cowles, the two candidates for Congress in the Eighth Congressional district, met in joint debate at the courthouse here packed to the utmost to hold the crowd in attendance. When the time for the speaking arrived Hon. R. N. Hackett arose and in a short stirring speech introduced Mr. Doughton who spoke first. Mr. Doughton spoke rap-idly, but with splepdid enunciation, so every one easily understood all he said. He severely arraigned Cowles for attempting to deceive the Wilkes people by stating in his speech at Jefferson that he had cast a reflection on the people of Wilkes county. He successfully defended his record in the Senate of the last Legislature in his advocacy of the passage of the oil inspection bill and other legislation which he advocated. He contrasted the difference in the management of the governmental affairs in the State under Republican and Democratic rule and showed clearly that whenever the Democratic party had been in power in the State we had had peace, prosperity and purity of government, good management for greater educational advantages and everything that meant for progress throughout every department of the government, whereas under Republican rule he showed that the people's money had been squandered, the de-partments run in debt, the treasury emptied, set scandals in every gov-ernmental department, and when the Democrats were returned to power they faced the herculcan task of cleaning every department of the fifth and mendal and freeing them from the debts which were the only legacies left by the Butler-Russel Hadical Fusion every This task under Demogang. This task under Demo-white man's rule has been accomplished. He said he would not blusse Butler, but would let Mose Har-shaw and the Industrial News do that.

He explained the reason for prosdeeper adversity and harder fimes during the panic under Roose- case; When the highest court-demite not been sufficient to get a Republican to even consider this bill.
