

WISCONSIN VOTES IN PRIMARY TODAY

Woodrow Wilson Expected to Win in Primary Which is Two Weeks Off

Washington, April 1.—The following statement was issued tonight from Woodrow Wilson headquarters: "Two States will soon afford Democrats an opportunity to express their preference for Presidential candidates, these being Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, and when the primaries are held in those two States Woodrow Wilson will take the lead over all other candidates, which commanding position will be maintained by the New Jersey executive throughout the contest."

"The Wisconsin primary occurs Tuesday and the Pennsylvania primary will be held two weeks hence. In these States the biggest contests among Democratic Presidential aspirants are now being waged, and the Wilson forces feel certain of victory in both instances. The two States will be represented by 102 delegates, nearly one-fourth of the total membership of the convention that will name the Democratic Presidential nominee."

"Up to the present time 126 of the total 1094 delegates to the convention have been chosen. Although the majority of these delegates were elected from Champ Clark's territory, where conventions were called early to boost the Speaker's candidacy, forty-six of the delegates already elected can be claimed for Governor Wilson. These delegates are:

Oklahoma (instructed)	10
Maine (uninstructed, but conceded)	5
Kansas (after first ballot)	20
North Dakota (second choice)	45

"Speaker Clark has the advantage of the showing made by the thirty-six delegates from his home State of Missouri. Had New Jersey Democrats met early Woodrow Wilson would have been in the lead from the first. Of course, the Clark people claim Kansas, as they are entitled by right to do, but the second choice of the Kansas delegation is Wilson. The friends

MR. FARMER: GROW

It is early. It will stand the frost. It is very prolific. It will stand the dry weather. It grows a beautiful rich glossy wine color, with extra white lint, and made during the year 1911 at the rate of 3 bales to the acre. I am shipping Wine Sap seed in peck and bushel lots over Texas, Miss., Ala., Ark., Okla., S. C., Tenn. and Va. Next season there will be big demand for N. C. grown Wine Sap seed at high prices. You won't have Wine Sap seed to spill next spring unless you plant Wine Sap this spring. You can get them put up in nicely labeled Peck bags at $1.00 per peck, $2.00 per bushel, 5 or more bushels $2.50 per bushel. I am going to give $15.00 in gold to the N. C. Farmer that grows in the year 1912 the most seed cotton, of this variety, per acre, and $10.00 to the second highest. Conditions: The seed must be purchased from me. The must not fall below 1,000 pounds, and the contestants must furnish proper affidavits. For the convenience of buyers I have placed Wine Sap seed with Crowder and Rand, Raleigh, N. C.; T. R. Hood, Smithfield, N. C.; and Ashley Horns & Son, Clayton, S. C. You can order seed from them, or from

of the New Jersey executive carried six of the eight Congressional districts, electing the bulk of the delegates, and fourteen of the twenty do not hesitate to say that Wilson is their choice, although they will obey the instructions of the State convention, which prevailed by a scant 27 majority. "After Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, Texas, with 46 delegates in the convention, and Nebraska, with 16, will swing into the Woodrow Wilson column. Governor Wilson is running in all of the States, while the other candidates are only contesting in spots. The news that comes to the Wilson headquarters from every State in the Union is highly encouraging. Hundreds of letters have been received during the past few days expressing the opinion that Governor Wilson has made tremendous gains in strength as the result of evidence showing conclusively a territorial division of the States by the allies. These letters indicate very clearly that the public understands the working arrangement of all of the States, while the other can-

That the delegates from North Dakota to the Baltimore convention, which were chosen in the recent State-wide preferential primaries, are for the nomination of Governor Woodrow Wilson, in the event that Governor Burke fails to develop nation-wide Presidential strength, was a bit of interesting political information brought to Washington today by Hon. T. J. Walsh, one of the leading Democrats of Montana, who recently concluded a trip to Dakota and several Northwest States.

Mr. Walsh, one of the most popular of the delegates, was in Woodrow Wilson headquarters today, in company with United States Senator Myers, of Montana, who has talked with a number of the delegates, and that Governor Wilson is their choice of all the other candidates. The North Dakota delegation to the Democratic National convention is headed by former United States Senator W. E. Purcell, who is well remembered in Washington. Mr. Purcell is one of the most sincere admirers of Governor Wilson in the nation. He is authority for the statement that North Dakota's second choice is the New Jersey executive.

"Montana Democrats have never sent an instructed delegation to a National convention, but they will make an exception this year," declared Mr. Walsh, "and instruct the delegation that goes to Baltimore to vote for Woodrow Wilson first, last and all the time. The New Jersey Governor is the overwhelming choice of Montana Democrats. They like him because of the things he stands for, and they will not only give him their support at Baltimore, but they will roll up a great majority for him in the November election. Governor Wilson is the strongest Presidential possibility in either party among Western people in our State both Governor Norris and Senator Myers favor his nomination, but his strength is not confined to the party. He would get every independent vote and a good part of the Republican progressive vote if nominated."

"It is difficult to correctly estimate the wonderful hold Governor Wilson has on the people. When I was in North Dakota a few days since I was assured by a number of prominent Republicans that Wilson would easily carry the State against Taft. The primary returns in North Dakota justify the statement that Governor Wilson would easily defeat President Taft in that State. I can not speak with accuracy of the situation in South Dakota, but I do know that Governor Wilson is tremendously strong in Washington, and will have the support of the delegation from that State at Baltimore."

It's Easy to Peel Off All Your Freckles

(From American Home.) The contrast between the freckles and the clear skin usually is so great that no bleach can be more than partially successful in obliterating the disfigurements. Ordinary mercuric wax is far better. It literally peels off the freckles. Get an ounce of it at the nearest drug store and tonight spread on enough to completely cover your face, remove in the morning with warm water. Repeat daily until every freckle has disappeared. Rough, blotchy pimped skin also common at this season may be entirely gotten rid of by this same method, without discomfort or inconvenience. The effort is decidedly worth while, the new complexion obtained being so clear, smooth and youthful. If bothered with wrinkles, bathe the face in a lotion made by after washing off the mercuric wax dissolving an ounce of powdered asphaltum in a half pint of witch hazel.

IS FOR JUDGE PELL

Hon. Hugh G. Chatham Calls on Democracy to Nominate Him for Corporation Commissioner

To the Editor: I am much pleased to see the announcement that Judge Pell of Winston-Salem, has decided to become a candidate for the position on the Corporation Commission, to be made vacant by the voluntary retirement of Mr. McNeill. I greatly regret Mr. McNeill's decision to decline re-election. His services have been invaluable to North Carolina, and I wish he had a life tenure, but if his successor must be chosen, I feel that the State Convention ought to unanimously nominate Judge Pell. I assume Mr. Travis will be renominated, and he should be. He worthily and well represents Eastern North Carolina. Mr. Lee, in like manner, represents the West. And while they both are loyal as can be to the whole State, the great industrial section of the State, Piedmont or Middle North Carolina, should be represented on that board.

As every one knows, who has had business with the Commission, its duties are all the time becoming more arduous and responsible. It is well now the most important and potential branch of the State Government. Its powers are legislative, judicial and executive, and the wisest men in the State should comprise it. I have no sort of criticism for any of the other aspirants, and Judge Pell has not asked me to support him, but when I saw his announcement, I instinctively felt that an opportunity was offered the Democratic party to do the State another service, and at the same time gracefully extend a hand to one, who in the service of his fellow man is battle scarred. Judge Pell is in my judgment, the kind of man we want on the Corporation Commission. I have known him all his life, and I know him to be a just and able man, a Christian gentleman, who has not many su-

He is suffering from an infirmity that prevents his convenient attendance upon the courts of the State, but I have noticed, and many have remarked, that so patiently has he borne it that his affliction seems rather to have broadened his intellect, ripened his judgment and made him a stronger man.
