

72,000 EXTRA VOTES FOR TWO DAYS ON OLD BUSINESS

25,000 Extra Votes on Every $20 Worth of Old Daily Business. Double Vote on Old Weekly Business. Vote Offer on Old Business.

TIME AND WORK VALUABLE NOW; CONTEST CLOSES IN TWO WEEKS

The Effort You Put Into Your Campaign During the Next Two Weeks May Be the Very Work That Will Win You the Prize You Have Had in Mind, and You Cannot Afford to Let a Single Opportunity Escape You.

Today and tomorrow remain of the last offer of extra votes that will be made on OLD subscriptions. For every $20 worth of old DAILY subscriptions turned in by midnight Saturday, May 13th, or in the mails by that time, The News and Observer Contest Department will issue certificates for 25,000 extra votes. During this period double votes will also be issued on old WEEKLY subscriptions turned in to this office. REMEMBER THIS IS THE LAST OFFER OF EXTRA VOTES THAT WILL BE MADE ON OLD BUSINESS. After Saturday, May 13th, only the regular number of votes will be given on old subscriptions. The Contest Department feels that it has afforded ample opportunity to every contestant, to realize handsomely on the old business thus far turned in. The remainder of the time should be devoted with extra zeal to securing new subscriptions.

Within a few days another splendid offer will be made on new subscriptions. The new business should predominate during the remainder of the contest. Not only more votes are given on the regular subscriptions, but the number of extra votes that will be offered makes the NEW business THE BUSINESS from now until May 13th. Remember that until two more days of this offer of extra votes on old subscriptions, both to the daily and weekly News and Observer. Of course the larger number are given on the daily.

Time for Real Business. The very fact that you have devoted considerable time to the contest up to this point is the very reason why you should make an extra effort during the next two weeks. The result of it upon what you accomplish during the next two weeks. The work you put off today will simply be harder to do tomorrow. It will not only be more difficult, but postponed tasks are notoriously distasteful. And you may rest assured that you are not going to have too many votes. No candidate ever did have, and you are not likely to prove the exception.

The chances are that you have many promises of renewals at some time during the contest. These renewals will never count for so many votes as they do during the present offer, which expires at midnight Saturday. This is the time to use the telephone and get all those promises into such shape that you can "cash" them for votes.

Get Busy Now. There is no use trying longer to dodge the responsibility that naturally falls on you to protect what business you have already turned in by adding to it. This is the time to add to your store of reserve votes. It is the reserve votes which will determine who are the winners of the prizes in just about two weeks. Two weeks is going to prove too little time for many candidates to do the work they have mapped out for themselves during the closing days of this race.

Every possible minute that you can give to the contest is going to be paid over and over again if you win the prize upon which you have undoubtedly fixed your mind by this time. About the best way to learn how much work you ought to do is to observe how much your nearest competitor is doing. And remember that you are not finding any obstacles that all other candidates are not meeting.

Contest Ends Soon. The gigantic competition in which over $12,000 worth of the most valuable prizes ever offered by a Southern newspaper are to be distributed is worthy of your best efforts during the next two weeks. The next two days can be made to yield handsome results if you apply yourself properly. The time for delay has passed and as this contest is strictly competitive, the candidates who do the greatest amount of successful work, naturally will have the greatest number of votes and will have the greater

CLARK FOR SENATOR Appeal From An Aycock Man

For All Progressive Democrats to Support the Chief Justice

To the Editor:—No man in modern history has done more to create his removal from the senatorial rank in our State when the people are either going right or going wrong, according to the leaders they follow. The State needed Aycock more at this time than at any other time of his masterful career, and while his death is a deplorable calamity to those of us who want to see our beloved State take her proper place in the procession of the progressive movements that are sweeping the nation; yet, it leaves the situation simplified and to a certain extent has clarified the atmosphere. With Aycock and Clark in the race, the truly progressive members of the Democratic party had some excuse for division. But now, with only one real progressive Democrat in the race, the men who truly and honestly believe that the people should control (and not the special interests and dishonest rich) can now get behind Judge Clark's candidacy and send him to the United States Senate, where he will be certain to champion the cause of the plain people as it has not been done since the death of Senator Vance. And this I believe they will do.

Since the awakening of the public conscience throughout the nation to a realization of the wrongs and injustices that are being heaped upon the people, we have never had a fair, square test of strength in this State between the forces that think the people should direct the affairs of government and the agents of the favored, who desire the interests to control.

We thought we were to have a fair trial of strength in the coming year, but have proved beyond cavil that the tobacco farmers of North Carolina, who had been systematically robbed for thirty years, and the robbers had been fighting side by side.

But fairness compels me to say that this was so because the farmers were ignorant of the fact. Hence, I say that the voters in our State who believe in equal and exact justice to all and those who align themselves on the other side of this burning question have never really measured arms. This they can do this good year, 1922. The lines of battle are sharply drawn, the demarcation is clear and the issue is plain. It is up arms against the people it will be from choice and not because he does not know which candidate stands for (and will stand for as strongly after election as before) those things that are to the interest, advancement and betterment of the whole people. I am not assuming to dictate; but every Democrat in North Carolina, who at heart is a progressive, that wants to see the forward movements that are sweeping the country like a prairie fire prevail, will enlist in the fight for Judge Clark. The Republicans can virtually concede the presidency and the next House of Representatives to the Democrats, and still be entrenched robbery will make its last stand behind the diamond-studded doors of the "Millionaire Club"—the United States Senate.

Do you want to send a man to represent us that we know will contend with John Sharp Williams, Reed of Missouri, Hoke Smith, Ollie James, and other progressives, or do we want to send men to the Senate, who from their past acts and conduct are forced to realize will train with Bailey, Martin, and their ilk? If a man fools the people once it is not their fault, but if he fools them the second time, it is their fault.

But the time has come when the unscrupulous and soulless corporations to scramble for the gratuities that are tossed to them as occasion demands to keep their niggardly souls in suspension, have started to wall throughout the State, almost as one man: "We cannot spare Judge Clark from the Supreme Court. He ought to stay right where he is. We cannot find a man to take his place on the bench," etc. Shameless hypocrisy! I'll wager ten cents against a glass of buttermilk that this is the same crowd, at least dominated and controlled by the same influences, that moved to send and earth in 1902 in an effort to defeat Judge Clark for the position that he now occupies. It would be interesting reading to have the things they said in 1902 and the things they are now saying printed in parallel columns. And again, where they cannot catch any sensible man with the above rot, they then tell him that Judge Clark has no chance of election; and that if he votes for Clark that he will be throwing away his vote and that he will to this extent be aiding the election of Simmons or Kitchen, according to the predilections of the man that is doing the talking. An absurd insult to tell a man that when he votes for a man that stands for the things that the voter stands for and who casts his vote from a sense of duty, that he is throwing his vote away. And, besides, I have faith in the good judgment and honest intentions of the plain people of North Carolina; that when they see the facts as they exist; that Judge Clark is the farmer's and laboring man's friend, and that neither the Southern Railway, nor the American Tobacco Company's influence and material aid is behind him; but that they are fighting him to the

EAGLE-THISTLE SODA

Here's the way—'Stir together one quart of flour, one-half teaspoon of salt. With this mix thoroughly a lump of lard the size of an egg. Dissolve three-fourths of a teaspoonful of Eagle-Thistle Soda (of other brands a full spoonful is required) in a pint of sour milk. Milk that has been sour for a day or two is better. Use enough sour milk in which the soda has been dissolved to make a rather stiff dough. Knead the dough until it becomes smooth and glossy. The amount of soda necessary is governed largely by the sourness of the milk."

Missed, of Course. (Washington Star.) Joseph H. Choate, at the Three Arts Club benefit at the Republic Theater, in New York told after his witty speech: "Two young girls were drinking tea when a young man passed. As he passed the first girl blushed, displayed a beautiful ring on her white hand and murmured: "Well, Jack and I are to be married Easter week." "But," said the other girl, "I thought you had thrown Jack over." "Oh, so I did," the first replied, "but—but you know how a girl throws."

Nurse the baby by the clock. "Meals at all hours" cause indigestion in babies as well as adults. Do not feed the baby every time he cries. Crying is not a sign of hunger. Nursing may mean more discomfort. Often he is thirsty. Do not think he is crying from temper until you are sure there are no other causes. Feed a new baby every two hours during the daytime and once or twice during the night. After he is four or five weeks old, nursing every three hours during the day and once at night is sufficient. If you suspect that you have not enough milk, that your milk does not agree with the baby, or if any other question arises, ask the doctor before changing him to the bottle. He may be able to remedy the difficulty. Your diet may be too rich or too poor in certain food properties. Perhaps you are overworked or worried, or you may lack sleep, fresh air, or exercise. All these affect the mother's milk supply and may make it injurious to the little one.
