

WOMAN and SOCIETY

STRIKING MODEL OF SILK.

Today's drawing is a new and pretty model for an afternoon gown of striped silk. The stripes are made more prominent and consequently more effective by being cut to run in opposite directions on different parts of the gown. On the bodice, lower part of the skirt and cuff the stripes are made to run horizontally, the upper part of the skirt is draped into a shaped band of plain silk, the same shade as the striped material—a delicate heliotrope. A breadth of the striped silk which swaths the lower part of the bodice, forming beneath the mesh of sea and plain silk, and which crosses the left shoulder, introduces still another line for the stripes.

Ten Commandments for Girls.

First—Thou shalt think thyself the fairest one alive.
Nor tell thy friends, when thirty, Thou art only twenty-five.

Second—Thou shalt not flirt with men Nor spin their hearts in play.
The spinner of tomorrow Is the maiden of today.

Third—Go lightly on Talcum.
For before they're sweet sixteen Some girls chalk up their features Till they look like Marceline.

Fourth—If thou shouldst some day find Thy hair was growing thin,
Thou shalt not sport the pigtail Of a Chinese Mandarin.

Fifth—If indigestion's blight Upon thy life should come,
Partake of liquid poppin,
For thou shalt not chew Gum.

Sixth—Thou shalt not try to squeeze Thy fit into a shoe,
That ought to be a number four,
But is a number two.

Seventh—On trashy novels Thou shouldst never gloat,
But spend thy time on politics
If thou wouldst one day vote.

Eighth—Thou shalt not gossip Nor give ear to every tale,
The female of the speeches Would be better off in jail.

Ninth—Thou shalt not dangle vines When visitors come in,
And next day lead a bargain rush To buy a better one.

Tenth—Assist thy mother,
And don't be loath to roam,
The angel of the home.
—James W. Meeks

—Mrs. John Blake Henderson of Fayetteville, representing the Fayetteville Colonial Ladies, came yesterday to attend the unveiling of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence Tablet, the guest of Mrs. J. H. Gordon.

—Mrs. John Bowden has gone to Mapleswood to visit her mother. —Mrs. F. M. Williams, of Newton, is the guest of Mrs. Herbert E. Norris.

—Mrs. A. J. Wilson, who has been visiting her parents, President and Mrs. H. J. Stockard, has returned to her home in Galeburg, Ill. —Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Simpson left yesterday for Norfolk. —Mrs. E. H. Broughton went to Clayton yesterday. —Mrs. John Allen left yesterday for Durham to visit relatives.

Old Sores

that refuse to heal are caused by poison in the blood. Skin eruptions of all kinds are due to the same cause. The cure for such troubles is not an external application of some salve, ointment, etc. Such treatment does not penetrate to the cause of the trouble and consequently cannot really cure.

For obstinate sores and other eruptions of the skin, thousands of people have found a prompt relief and permanent cure by using

KETTERER'S Excelsior BLOOD PURIFIER (K. E. P.)

This successful remedy is made from pure vegetable ingredients, contains no minerals or harmful drugs and may be used by young or old with no injurious effect.

K. E. P. is sold under a positive guarantee that it will help you or your druggist will refund your money. It's helped thousands of other people. Don't you think it is reasonable to believe it will help you, too?

Ask your Druggist today

WHITE LACE HATS

—Mrs. W. H. Crawford has returned to Wilmington, after a visit to Mrs. H. T. Hicks and Mrs. C. H. Beckham. —Mrs. B. L. Billosly has returned from a visit to Portsmouth, Va. —Mrs. George A. Henn, of Norfolk, who has been visiting relatives in Durham, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. McLean. —Mrs. W. H. Harrington has gone to Moore county to visit relatives. —Mrs. William Spicer, who has been the guest of Mrs. P. D. Gold, Jr., returned yesterday to Goldsboro. —Mrs. E. C. McKelister and daughter, Mrs. G. Fayetteville, are the guests of Mrs. E. B. Crow. —Mrs. William Martin, of Fayetteville, is visiting Mrs. Franklin McNeill.

—Miss Dorothea Farmer, of Elm City, arrived yesterday to attend Peace Institute commencement.

—Mrs. C. Elwood Brown, of San Francisco, Cal., attended the unveiling of the Mecklenburg Declaration Tablet.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Broughton arrived in the city yesterday from Wake Forest.

—Mrs. H. A. London, Jr., of Charlotte, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Edw. W. Jordan.

—Judge and Mrs. Henry A. Bryan of New Bern, are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Edwin H. Jordan.

—Miss Alice Newcomb has returned from Elizabeth City.

FOR BRAIN FOG

Take Hersford's Acid Phosphate. Recommended for tired nerves and best for following mental strain or overwork.

GRADUATING BECAL.

Miss Zona Shull, soprano, will be heard at St. Mary's tonight.

Miss Zona Shull, soprano, will give her graduating recital in St. Mary's auditorium this evening at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Shull will be assisted by Mr. Henry Thrash Miller, baritone.

—Mrs. Edwin H. Jordan, of Durham, is the guest of Mrs. J. W. McLean.

High-Broughton

The following invitation has been issued: Mr. and Mrs. J. G. High will give in marriage their daughter, Eva Mae.

Mr. Andrew Jackson Broughton on the afternoon of June the fifth, nineteen hundred and twelve, at eight o'clock.

Methodist Episcopal Church, Kenly, North Carolina.

PLUMMER-HAYWOOD

Charming Young Lady of This City to Wed in June.

The following invitations have been received: Doctor and Mrs. Hubert Haywood request the presence at the marriage of their daughter, Lucy Williams.

Mr. James Kemp Plummer, junior, on the evening of June the eighth, at eight o'clock at Christ Church, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. Plummer is the son of Mr. James K. Plummer, of Raleigh, N. C., and now holds the position of all chemist of the State Agricultural Department.

SENIORS WERE BANQUETED.

Delightful Affair at Yeavorough Saturday Night.

One of the most delightful affairs of the commencement week at Peace Institute was the annual banquet Saturday night, given by the seniors to the seniors, which took place at the Yeavorough Hotel.

The large dining room was very beautifully decorated in yellow and green, the class colors, studies, playing an important part. The center piece was especially attractive, being in the form of a large horn with flowers emptying on the table. The place-cards were very attractive with witty and appropriate sentiments, the cards being also decorated in class colors.

Miss Nellie Graves, of Carthage, was toastmistress, and she toasted the senior class. This toast was willingly responded to by Miss Cora Lee Montgomery, president of the senior class, and Mrs. H. J. Stockard, toastmistress, which was very appropriately responded to by him.

Besides the juniors and seniors there was present as guests of honor President and Mrs. H. J. Stockard, Miss Edith Haxlow, honorary member of the faculty to the juniors, Miss Rose Wadsworth, honorary member of the faculty to the seniors, and Mr. J. H. Pittsford.

PITTSFORD SOCIAL EVENT.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Farrell Hosts at a Delightful Reception.

Pittsford, May 20.—On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Farrell were the hosts at a delightful reception in honor of their guests, Misses Veranda and Margarette Campion, of Bayboro, N. C., and Misses Cornelia and Elizabeth Farrell, of Moore, N. C., and their mothers, Dr. J. M. Farrell and Mrs. Anna Farrell.

The guests were greeted in the hall which was lavishly in its decorations of pink roses and ferns, by Mr. and Mrs. Farrell and Mr. and Mrs. James J. Griffin. From the hall the guests were ushered into the parlor, which was profusely decorated in Maraschino Nell roses and palms with mantle-lamped with a profusion of honeyuckle and shaded lights, where they were greeted by the hostesses.

After being served with punch from a veritable tower of Virginia Creeper and Maraschino Nell roses by Miss Genevieve Campion and Mrs. Pittsford, the guests were presented with little booklets containing a clever contest of "Round Dances" Counties of North Carolina, after a merry half hour had been spent in "quizzing" study. It was found that Miss Camilla Landon had won the first prize and Miss Mary Noe the "two-by." Mr. James L. Griffin, in his usual happy and eloquent manner presented the prize—a box of candy,—to Miss Landon, and a miniature map of North Carolina to Miss Noe.

Then the doors of dining room, which was beautifully decorated in red roses, sweet peas and shaded lights, were thrown open and the guests were served with delicious refreshments.

The bride and groom were declaring they had spent a most delightful evening.

Spivey-Boddie.

Invitations have been received by friends which read: Mrs. Willis Boddie invites you to be present at the marriage of her daughter, Frances Hicks.

to Mr. David Watford Spivey on Tuesday morning the fourth of June at eleven o'clock.

Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Loulburg, North Carolina.

Enclosed cards read: At home after June the fifteenth at Youngville, North Carolina.

WRENN-KIRKMAN.

Wedding of Prominent and Popular Young Couple of Siler City.

Siler City, May 20.—At the home of the bride Miss Pauline Kirkman was happily married to Mr. J. Spight Wrenn on last Thursday evening.

The marriage was a very quiet one, only the immediate members of the family being present, and was beautiful in its simplicity. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. H. Craven, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this place.

The bride is the attractive and accomplished daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Kirkman, of this place, and is admired by a host of friends.

The groom is a successful young business man of the town, the Assistant Cashier of the Citizens Bank here, and was graduated from Trinity College in 1908.

MCSAIN-CUNNINGHAM.

Wedding Announcement of Former Waxhaw People.

Waxhaw, May 20.—A wedding announcement of very great interest to the people of Waxhaw is that of Dr. H. W. McCain, a physician of High Point, to Miss Alma Cunningham, a teacher in one of the graded schools at this place.

They were former residents of Waxhaw, and are very popular here. They will be married in Charlotte on Friday, the 25th, and then come here, to Dr. McCain's mother, Mrs. M. J. McCain, to spend several days.

Miss Cunningham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cunningham, also live here. Dr. and Mrs. McCain will afterwards be at home in High Point, where Dr. McCain enjoys a wide and growing practice.

EARNHARDT-HARTMAN.

Spencer, May 20.—Invitations were sent out from Spencer today for the marriage of Miss Edna Hartman to Mr. L. M. Earnhardt, the ceremony to take place in Spencer, Methodist Church, June 1st.

They were former residents of Waxhaw, and are very popular here. They will be married in Charlotte on Friday, the 25th, and then come here, to Dr. McCain's mother, Mrs. M. J. McCain, to spend several days.

Miss Cunningham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cunningham, also live here. Dr. and Mrs. McCain will afterwards be at home in High Point, where Dr. McCain enjoys a wide and growing practice.

The following invitation has been issued: Mr. and Mrs. J. G. High will give in marriage their daughter, Eva Mae.

Mr. Andrew Jackson Broughton on the afternoon of June the fifth, nineteen hundred and twelve, at eight o'clock.

Methodist Episcopal Church, Kenly, North Carolina.

PLUMMER-HAYWOOD

Charming Young Lady of This City to Wed in June.

The following invitations have been received: Doctor and Mrs. Hubert Haywood request the presence at the marriage of their daughter, Lucy Williams.

Mr. James Kemp Plummer, junior, on the evening of June the eighth, at eight o'clock at Christ Church, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. Plummer is the son of Mr. James K. Plummer, of Raleigh, N. C., and now holds the position of all chemist of the State Agricultural Department.

SENIORS WERE BANQUETED.

Delightful Affair at Yeavorough Saturday Night.

One of the most delightful affairs of the commencement week at Peace Institute was the annual banquet Saturday night, given by the seniors to the seniors, which took place at the Yeavorough Hotel.

The large dining room was very beautifully decorated in yellow and green, the class colors, studies, playing an important part. The center piece was especially attractive, being in the form of a large horn with flowers emptying on the table. The place-cards were very attractive with witty and appropriate sentiments, the cards being also decorated in class colors.

Miss Nellie Graves, of Carthage, was toastmistress, and she toasted the senior class. This toast was willingly responded to by Miss Cora Lee Montgomery, president of the senior class, and Mrs. H. J. Stockard, toastmistress, which was very appropriately responded to by him.

Besides the juniors and seniors there was present as guests of honor President and Mrs. H. J. Stockard, Miss Edith Haxlow, honorary member of the faculty to the juniors, Miss Rose Wadsworth, honorary member of the faculty to the seniors, and Mr. J. H. Pittsford.

PITTSFORD SOCIAL EVENT.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Farrell Hosts at a Delightful Reception.

Pittsford, May 20.—On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Farrell were the hosts at a delightful reception in honor of their guests, Misses Veranda and Margarette Campion, of Bayboro, N. C., and Misses Cornelia and Elizabeth Farrell, of Moore, N. C., and their mothers, Dr. J. M. Farrell and Mrs. Anna Farrell.

The guests were greeted in the hall which was lavishly in its decorations of pink roses and ferns, by Mr. and Mrs. Farrell and Mr. and Mrs. James J. Griffin. From the hall the guests were ushered into the parlor, which was profusely decorated in Maraschino Nell roses and palms with mantle-lamped with a profusion of honeyuckle and shaded lights, where they were greeted by the hostesses.

After being served with punch from a veritable tower of Virginia Creeper and Maraschino Nell roses by Miss Genevieve Campion and Mrs. Pittsford, the guests were presented with little booklets containing a clever contest of "Round Dances" Counties of North Carolina, after a merry half hour had been spent in "quizzing" study. It was found that Miss Camilla Landon had won the first prize and Miss Mary Noe the "two-by." Mr. James L. Griffin, in his usual happy and eloquent manner presented the prize—a box of candy,—to Miss Landon, and a miniature map of North Carolina to Miss Noe.

Then the doors of dining room, which was beautifully decorated in red roses, sweet peas and shaded lights, were thrown open and the guests were served with delicious refreshments.

The bride and groom were declaring they had spent a most delightful evening.

Spivey-Boddie.

Invitations have been received by friends which read: Mrs. Willis Boddie invites you to be present at the marriage of her daughter, Frances Hicks.

THREE YEARS OF MISERY

Mr. Burnside Escaped an Operation.

Compound.

Maehoningtown, Pa.—"For three years I suffered untold misery every month, and had to stay in bed the first two or three days. I also had a displacement and other ailments peculiar to women. I became so weak and run down I could scarcely walk across the floor.

"The doctor told me I would never be well unless I would undergo an operation, but I was advised by my mother to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after I had taken four bottles I am strong and well. I have got others to take your medicine with the same good results and they cannot say enough for it." Mrs. J. A. BURNSIDE, Maehoningtown, Pa.

Thousands of unswerving and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Bickett entertained at cards in honor of Mrs. John O'Donnell and Mrs. Mack Bradley, of Lakeland, Fla.

The guests were met by Mrs. Joe Burrow, Mrs. W. Berry Neal and Mrs. George Griffin, and a delicious fruit punch in the hall, and Mrs. William Bailey presented the guests to the receiving party, which consisted of Mrs. Bickett and her guests.

Bridge was played in the parlor and five hundred in the library after which delicious refreshments were served.

Every one voted the evening delightful, and left much pleased to have met the charming ladies from Florida.

COMMENCEMENT AT BINGHAM SCHOOL.

Winners of Scholarships, Athletic Prizes; Splendid Year and Fine Outlook.

Bingham School, Mebane, N. C., May 20.—The commencement exercises of the Bingham School, located near Mebane, have been concluded.

The University night, the Kappa Phi Literary Society contest was held Friday morning a delightful band concert was given on the lawn which was followed by various interesting military exercises.

Friday afternoon the "Field Day" was held and another band concert given. The athletic prizes were awarded as follows:

The hundred yard dash, to Mr. John J. Paul, the hammer throw to Mr. John J. Paul, the shot to Mr. James D. McGill, the pole vault, to Mr. Henry McFadden, the high jump to Mr. Charlie McFadden, and the broad jump to Mr. John J. Paul.

Friday night the graduating exercises were held. A delightful musical program was rendered by the Bingham Military Band and the Bingham Orchestra and the honors were then awarded.

The University scholarships were awarded as follows: University of North Carolina, to David Thomas Taylor, Jr., of Reaumur county.

Washington and Lee, Wm. Bingham (Tenn.) of Orange county.

University of Tennessee, to Mr. James D. McGill, of Cleveland.

The Tulane University, to Mr. Paul Vernon Phillips of Wayne county.

The Herbert Bingham scholarship to Mr. Luther Stokes, of Orange county.

President Gray stated that the session just closed has been thoroughly satisfactory and one of the best for many years.

Faith also begets joy, and joy is strength. To have faith is to have the promised reward, the future victory, as vivid present to the soul that the heart begins to be roared almost when the seed is being sown. It is not at all necessary that we go forth with weeping sowing the precious seed on the hillsides, but the best seed sows are those that go forth with a shout and a song because by faith we see the broad fields of grain already whitening in the sun.

"The men who met him rounded on their heels."

And wandered after him, because they saw the countenance of a priest hooded by a flame about a sacrifice. Enticed by fire from heaven, so glad was he."

In the third place, faith makes things not seen. It is "The evidence of things not seen." Now, the things that count for most in life are just these unseen things. God is the great-est of all realities, but He is invisible to the eye of sense. "No man hath seen God at any time." The most convincing of all voices is that of conscience—unheard by the physical ear. The most positive presence is that of God's spirit—unfelt by the physical touch. Faith, hope, love—friendship, justice, peace and truth—are all ideal, unseen realities. No man ever headed honor or weighed it in a balance, but it has directed the course of history more than all the money markets of the world. We speak of home, but that which makes it dear to us is not its brick and mortar, furniture and furnishings—not its seen things at all, but the unseen presence of its family affection—its common hopes and fears, struggles, defeats and victories—It is these that make it home to us.

"Faith sees visions. It is conscious of powers and presences to which the natural man is blind and deaf. It has its transfiguration moments when the gates of the spiritual world are opened, and the glory yet to be revealed becomes manifest. Righteous men, blind as servants to Elshah when the spirits

PARADOX OF FAITH

Normal Hear Beautiful Sermon Delivered by Rev. Dr.

mond, Virginia

(Special to News and Observer.)

Greensboro, May 20.—There was an overflow audience of students and visitors in the auditorium of the State Normal College to hear the sermon to the graduating class by Rev. Dr. MacLachlan of Richmond. It was a magnificent discourse on "The Paradox of Faith." After reading from Hebrews, eleventh chapter, fifth verse, Dr. MacLachlan began by saying that the text was one that has given a good deal of trouble to the translators. The old version of the Bible translates it in the form most familiar probably to us all: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

The revised version translates: "Faith is the assurance of things hoped for, a conviction of things not seen." The rendering of Moffat's New Testament is: "Faith is to be confident of what we hope for, to be convinced of what we do not see." But the difficulties of the translation do not obscure the real sense of the passage. It is a description of the function or office of faith, setting it forth as the magician of the soul, which is able to make man free of a supernatural world. Faith, this writer tells us, is that which enables us to rise above the limitations of earth into a region where time and space are transcended and the deepest longings of the soul are eternally realized. Faith is paradoxical. It contradicts the testimony of what we call common sense. It transvaluates earth's values. It gives primacy to the distant, unseen, ideal goods of life, and that to such an extent that for it they actually become the near, the seen, and the real.

"Continuing, he said in part: "In the first place, faith makes the ideal real. It is the substance of things hoped for. The substance of a thing is that which underlies it, which furnishes the real ground for its existence. Hence faith is that which gives us the assurance or confidence that the ideals which shine on the horizon of our hopes are not mere capes of cloud, but really the first dim outlines of the promised land. To have faith is to be sure that God is not making us with the visions that are like the Northern lights. It is the voice that never was on sea or land is not, therefore, unreal, but rather the most real of all the voices that disturb the slough of our souls; that the ideals we follow so slowly and heavily, are not jack-of-lanterns hung out by some inexplicable, maleficent power to lead us into the mire of the very lamps of God to light our feet in the paths of peace and power. For many of us—for most of us perhaps, inasmuch as we are in the things of sense—ideals are but rare visitants from another world, and then come only to glitter fitfully a while on the horizon like the Northern lights. But for the truth man of faith the ideal is a fixed star, the ever-present inspiration and motive-power of his life.

"In the second place, faith makes the future present. It is to be confident of what we hope for. Hope is the future, faith is the present. If I merely hope for a thing I may sit down and fold my arms and wait for its happening. If I have faith in it I reach a hand into the future and I see as though the thing hoped for were already, as it were, in some sense here. Hope is an attitude of expectation; faith is an attitude of possession. Hope is passive; faith is active. Hope is emotional; faith is volitional. Hope has a remnant of doubt still clinging to its skirts; faith has already trampled all doubt under foot. Hope lives by the timpanere of earth which crawls from hour to hour; faith lives by the clock of God, which is always at high noon.

"You can readily see, therefore, what the writer means when he says that 'faith is the confidence of things hoped for.' He means that it is the bringing of the power of future blessings so to bear on the present, that the life that now is irradiated with the glory of that which is to come. To have faith in the promises of God is not merely to believe that such and such good things will come to pass, but to help him fulfil his promises by living as though they were already in some sense already fulfilled realities.

"Faith, therefore, in this sense, produces two qualities of soul that are of inestimable value. The first is confidence. To go into the light area of success because God is on our side is to have the basis already half won. Confidence in this sense is as far from optimism and self-conceit as day is from night at one strengthening the man who possesses it, and proportionately discourages the enemy.

"Faith also begets joy, and joy is strength. To have faith is to have the promised reward, the future victory, as vivid present to the soul that the heart begins to be roared almost when the seed is being sown. It is not at all necessary that we go forth with weeping sowing the precious seed on the hillsides, but the best seed sows are those that go forth with a shout and a song because by faith we see the broad fields of grain already whitening in the sun.

"The men who met him rounded on their heels."

And wandered after him, because they saw the countenance of a priest hooded by a flame about a sacrifice. Enticed by fire from heaven, so glad was he."

In the third place, faith makes things not seen. It is "The evidence of things not seen." Now, the things that count for most in life are just these unseen things. God is the greatest of all realities, but He is invisible to the eye of sense. "No man hath seen God at any time." The most convincing of all voices is that of conscience—unheard by the physical ear. The most positive presence is that of God's spirit—unfelt by the physical touch. Faith, hope, love—friendship, justice, peace and truth—are all ideal, unseen realities. No man ever headed honor or weighed it in a balance, but it has directed the course of history more than all the money markets of the world. We speak of home, but that which makes it dear to us is not its brick and mortar, furniture and furnishings—not its seen things at all, but the unseen presence of its family affection—its common hopes and fears, struggles, defeats and victories—It is these that make it home to us.

"Faith sees visions. It is conscious of powers and presences to which the natural man is blind and deaf. It has its transfiguration moments when the gates of the spiritual world are opened, and the glory yet to be revealed becomes manifest. Righteous men, blind as servants to Elshah when the spirits

FOOT-EASE FOOT-WEAR

Every time you purchase a pair of shoes—white or colored ones—you should experience Footcase.

Shoes that are made right and fitted to the feet WILL give satisfaction.

We are showing the season's rage in White Pumps.

POOL & CROCKER

We Fit The Feet

124 Fayetteville St. Raleigh, N. C.

KRAKAUER PIANOS

The latest acquisition to our list of famous piano representation.

THE "KRAKAUER" stands in the front rank of the world's list.

We have always said that the truly cheap piano was the good piano.

The Krakauer will prove the argument.

Come in and let us show you the piano that has set the musical world talking.

Darnell & Thomas

RALEIGH, N. C. Miller and other Pianos.

Cut Flowers for Commencement

Any kind, arranged in any way, at any price.

Send in the order and it shall have our careful attention.

It is our business to please.

VAN HINDLEY CO. FLORISTS

GREENSBORO, N. C.

fresh style work in a higher grade, where faith is light, and hope fruition, and love once the task and the reward."

Why do they say, "As good as Sauer's?" SAUER'S PURE FLAVORED EXTRACTS have received Thirteen Higher American and European Awards.

Five Indian Students Burned To Death.

(By the Associated Press.) Muskogee, Okla., Jan. 20.—Five Indian boys, all under fifteen years of age, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the territory of the Creek and Seminole College at Boley, Oklahoma early Saturday.

The fire originated in the kitchen of the structure and spread with great rapidity. Seven boys and four teachers, the only other occupants of the building, were rescued with difficulty.

The origin of the fire is undetermined.

Head Aches? Go To Your Doctor

Headaches.	Headaches.	Headaches.	Headaches.
Biliousness.	Biliousness.	Biliousness.	Biliousness.
Constipation.	Constipation.	Constipation.	Constipation.
Ayer's Pills.	Ayer's Pills.	Ayer's Pills.	Ayer's Pills.

If your doctor says this is all right, remember it!

