

ALUMNI BANQUET AT GOLDSBORO

Dr. Bernard, of the University Faculty, Orator of the Evening

(Special to The News and Observer.)
 Goldsboro, N. C., Jan. 3.—The University Alumni banquet, which took place at the Elks' Club Wednesday night was a pleasant success. The attendance was large, regardless of the unfavorable weather, and the speakers were well and wisely chosen. At nine o'clock the guests were ushered into the dining room, which was appropriately decorated. In Carolina night, every minute was so filled with enjoyment, as those present laughed and talked, relating personal experiences at "The Hill," both in the present year as well as in years gone by. After the various courses had been served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church, cigars and cigarettes were passed around and all pushed back their chairs and made themselves comfortable to enjoy the real treat of the evening—the speakers of the occasion. Dr. Bernard, of the University faculty, was the orator of the evening. He eloquently outlined the plan and aim of the University to extend its sphere of usefulness, not alone to those who were in a position to spend years of study in residence at the University, but to every citizen of the State. In every county town and hamlet, that "the boundaries of its campus might become co-extensive with those of the State." "There are two types of Universities," said Dr. Bernard. "Of the first type we might consider Johns Hopkins. Such a university works for the future. It is to it that we are largely responsible for our advanced civilization—our telephones, telegraphs, electricity and other great inventions of modern times. These are necessary and have their sphere of usefulness, but there is another type of university, after which the University of North Carolina is modeled, and it is this type which I wish to bring to your notice—a type best represented by the University of Wisconsin. This university endeavors to extend its usefulness in a practical way, endeavoring to render all possible aid to the State by making a study of the influx of population, of manufacturing, natural resources, dairy products and agriculture, and in so doing to open the eyes of the citizens of the State to a realization of the dormant possibilities that lie within. With just such an ideal in view, the University of North Carolina, through every possible agency, one of the greatest of which is the county clubs, is endeavoring to be of maximum usefulness to the State, and to give back to the hands of the State itself.

Following Dr. Bernard, Coach J. C. Tremont, of the University, made a most interesting talk on athletics, outlining a practical and admirable plan for better athletics at the University, leading us to understand that on next Thanksgiving day, despite of the present handicaps, Virginia would come to exercise dominion over us. Next on the program was Prof. M. C. S. Noble, who, with his characteristic joviality kept the entire audience in an uproar of laughter throughout his talk.

Mr. Matt H. Allen, of this city, treasurer of the occasion, introduced Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church of this city, who eloquently related some of his first experiences at "The Hill." Mr. Don C. Humphrey made a short talk on University Extension, concluding with an optimistic prophecy. The conclusion of the occasion was an interesting address by K. C. Royall, of this city, in behalf of the Wayne County Club at the University, in which he pleaded eloquently for greater co-operation between the alumni and the county club. BROWN-JENNINGS.

Pretty Marriage at Lutheran Parsonage. Father of Bride Performing Ceremony.

Burlington, Jan. 3.—The Lutheran parsonage was the scene of a pretty marriage Wednesday evening, December 31st, at six o'clock, when Rev. N. H. Brown officiated in the presence of his daughter, Mattie Jordan, to Mr. Robert B. Jennings. No invitations were issued and only the immediate family was present. The groom was attended by his best man, his brother, Mr. Julius Jennings, of Atlanta. The parsonage was decorated in holly and Christmas colors. The bride wore a traveling suit. Immediately after the ceremony they left for a week's visit to relatives in New York, and will be at home in Columbia, N. C., after January 10. The bride is a most charming young woman, and came here with her parents but a year ago from Lexington, S. C. The groom is a cotton broker of Columbia and is a prosperous young man.

the Camping Club at dinner at the Piedmont on New Year's evening. The party consisted of Messrs. and Mesdames R. H. Sellars, W. R. Sellars, D. E. Sellars, T. L. Sellars, J. A. Harwell and J. H. Brooks, and Misses Annie Morrow, Annie Hason, Edith Walker and Agnes White.

Mrs. Sellars' Reception.
 Mrs. D. E. Sellars gave a delightful afternoon reception at her home on Park avenue Tuesday at three o'clock. Christmas decorations were used in the parlor and hall, and the dining room was in pink. A huge centerpiece of pink roses graced the table and pink candles were used for lights. About thirty were present for the afternoon. The feature of the occasion was rook. Refreshments consisting of punch, salads and iced were served. Half a dozen of the married ladies were invited to remain and were joined at 8 o'clock by their husbands and the evening was spent in a spelling-bee and other old-fashioned amusements.

Watch Party.

Miss Pauline Coble gave a watch party at her home Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served. About twenty guests enjoyed the occasion. Fruits, candies and hot chocolate were served.

Miss Stafford's Party.

Miss Thelma Stafford gave a party at her home on Davis street Tuesday evening, 8 to 11. About forty guests were present. A contest was held in which Miss Martha Page won the prize, a book. Music and dancing made the hours speed by. Refreshments were served.

Embroidery Club Entertained.

Miss Beattie Holt charmingly entertained the Embroidery Club, and a dozen of her other friends at her home on Davis street New Year's afternoon at three o'clock. The house was decorated in potted plants. Graphophone music and vocal and instrumental music was rendered during the afternoon. A contest was engaged in in which the prize was given to Miss Sadie Fonville, while Mrs. A. D. Pate won the consolation. Refreshments were served in three courses. Those invited out of the club were Mesdames A. R. Kendall, D. H. Tuttle, W. R. Sellars, D. E. Sellars, E. Y. Speed, W. E. Sharrp, and H. M. Morrow, and Misses Dalley, Robertson, Holt, Tuttle, and Bennett.

Game of Rook Watchnight.

Misses Edith and Ella Rae Carroll gave a "watch party" at their home on Front street Wednesday night from nine to twelve. The guests numbered about twenty. Music was played. Refreshments were served in two courses.

Annual Party Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Gant held their annual family reunion and watchnight at their home here on Christmas day. This is the regular winding of the 400-day clock, and is witnessed by the entire family. A sumptuous dinner was served. There were present, Mr. Joseph Gant and family, of Atlanta; Kenneth, Gant, of Newns; Carl Gant, of Swann, Tenn.; Edwin Gant, of Altamaha; Allan Gant, of Blue Ridge, Va.; Russell Gant, of Raleigh; and John and Roger Gant, and Misses Jeannette and Corinna Gant, of this place. Miss Virginia, of Kentucky, was also present.

Forty Relatives at Christmas Tree.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hay on Christmas afternoon gave their annual Christmas tree to their immediate relatives, forty in number. The large tree was full of gifts for the guests. They were the families of Messrs. W. K. Holt, T. Holt, R. E. Holt, H. M. Morrow, and J. A. Holt. Punch, candies, and peanuts were served to the children lavishly.

Rural Mail Carriers Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hines entertained the rural mail carriers, ten in number, and a few friends at an oyster supper at their home New Year's evening at seven o'clock. The occasion was very enjoyable.

NORTH CAROLINIANS IN THE METROPOLIS

(By R. S. CARRAWAY.)
 New York, Jan. 3.—North Carolinians were more or less silently honored upon the opening of New Year's Eve of the new ten-million-dollar Biltmore Hotel, owned and directed by the Vanderbilts and named after nothing more than George W. Vanderbilt's famous estate in the western part of North Carolina.

It is not known who first conceived the name for the new hotel, but it has already made a decided hit. Biltmore was on the end of every tongue throughout the hotel district during the week.

The Biltmore, which was begun last March and which has been completed two months ahead of contract requirements, occupies the block between Vanderbilt and Madison avenues and Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets. Right underneath its twenty-six floors are the tracks of the Grand Central Station. The exterior of the hotel harmonizes with the architecture of the grand central terminal.

Stoane Gordon, magazine writer, was at the dinner given in Washington recently to Secretary Bryan. Like all others in attendance, Mr. Gordon was called upon to make a speech on the efficacy of grape juice. He says that he has never had such a time getting through as he did with his few remarks on such a soulless subject. He says further that Secretary Bryan was not easily made the hit of the occasion. Mr. Daniels said: "I was the original Bryan man, others have claimed that distinction, but I have patent rights to it. Down in North Carolina in 1886, they were in the Navy. Daniels was member of the Democratic National Committee. I'll tell you how I won that honor. The man the leader had selected for the job was called had selected for the whether he believed in the coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. Irrespective of what any other nation might do. This man thoughtfully replied: "Well, I believe in silver all right, but I'm not going to make a darned fool out of myself about it." "Then they selected me," said Secretary Daniels.

Brigadier-General Edwin Louis Hayes, the living general in the United States, celebrated his ninety-fourth birthday anniversary Monday at his home in Bloomfield, N. J. He is in good physical condition. General Hayes served throughout the Civil War in the Union army, and afterward acted for six months as Governor of North Carolina. "Live right," advises General Hayes, "be contented with your lot, love your neighbor, and your days will be long and happy."

George O. Jones, manager of the Hotel Buckingham in this city, has gone to Durham to visit his mother for a fortnight. Mr. Jones will take advantage of his trip South to indulge in his favorite pastime, quail hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Minthorne Woolsey, former North Carolinians, who have been living in New York for the past six or eight years, left early in the week to visit their daughter in Waynesville over the holidays. From there they will travel South, touching possibly Palm Beach and fetching around in New Orleans for Mardi Gras week, and in the spring they plan to take a trip to Europe. Mrs.

FRUIT LAXATIVE IF CONSTIPATED, TAKE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Best liver and bowel regulator for mamma, daddy and children.

If you're headachy, constipated, bilious or stomach is disordered and you want to enjoy the nicest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced, take a tablespoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" tonight and in the morning all the constipated, bilious, bloated and clogged-up waste will gently move out of the system without griping and you will feel splendid. Every member of the family should use this fruit laxative as occasion demands. It is just as effective for grandpa as it is for baby. It simply cannot injure. Even cross, sick, feverish children just love its pleasant taste and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing."

For thirty years "California Syrup of Figs" has been recommended by physicians as the ideal stomach, liver and bowel cleanser. Millions of families who are well informed use nothing else, but recently there has come a flood of spurious fig syrups, so we warn the public to look plainly at drug stores for a 5 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," and see that it is prepared by "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no cheaper imitations. Hand in any "counterfeit" with contempt.

FIRST PUBLIC WOMAN SUFFRAGE ADDRESS
 Delivered at Fayetteville by Wife of California Congressman.

(Special to The News and Observer.)
 Fayetteville, Jan. 3.—The first public address in advocacy of woman suffrage ever delivered in North Carolina was made here tonight by Mrs. William Kent, wife of Congressman William Kent of California. Mrs. Kent was followed by Mrs. John M. Rogers, Jr., of New York, who also spoke for equal suffrage. The addresses were given under the auspices of the Civic Association and were made in the civic library in the old market house, which is the property of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent have been spending the holidays at their home "Asheville" near Fayetteville, and Mrs. Rogers has been their guest. At the conclusion of the speeches the party caught an Atlantic Coast line train for New York.
