

AFFIRMATIVE VIEW WAS HIS KEYNOTE

Secretary Redfield's Speech at
New Haven

WELL, LOOK AT IT SANELY

Without Passion or Prejudice,
Said the Secretary, Get the
Horizon Big Enough, Else
Your Picture Will Be But
Partial—Subject, Business.

(By the Associated Press.)
New Haven, Conn., Jan. 24.—An affirmative view of business was the keynote of a speech Secretary Redfield made here today before the Chamber of Commerce. He praised American manufacturers for their ready readjustment to new conditions and declared that the flood of foreign manufactures which it was predicted would flood American markets with the passage of the new tariff had not materialized.

Where Are You Looking?

"Aye, but you say, look at the depression. Well, look at it," said Mr. Redfield. "Look at it sanely, without passion and without prejudice. What do you see? But before you answer let me ask a second question: Where are you looking? Get the horizon big enough, else your picture will be but partial and may mislead. Where then is trade depression found? In India, in Argentina, in Brazil, in Germany, in England, where is it least, in America. Where is the rising tide from such depression as exists felt first and most? Here, in America."

Leave Aside Parables of Prophets

Leave aside the pitiful parables of the prophets of evil who for political purposes preach national pain. Look calmly at the truth. America suffers from no disaster. She is better off when the worst is said than her sister nations. From the bottom, which at most was not deep, she has already risen far and is rising. There was just cause for hesitation in that which has happened in the past. The reaction from the Balkan war, which had the purse strings of Europe and shut down its mills, was naturally reflected here in some small degree.

Give Thoughtful heed

"It was perfectly proper that business men, whose output was affected more or less by the new tariff, should give thoughtful heed how to readjust themselves to it. They would have been foolish had they done otherwise. Frankly the men who dreaded tariff changes must have said, and are saying, that readjustments are over and the new is at its worst nothing like as bad as they feared and that if its best is helpful."

Weal of Whole People Supreme.

The men of financial and corporate power have had to learn that the weal of the whole people is a supreme law to which their private interests must obediently bow. The business conscience has itself awakened to a realization of wrongs committed in the name and on the alleged behalf of commerce and industry and will tolerate those wrongs no more. Even the men of night in finance are becoming men of light and leading in the necessary readjustments that are pending. The business conscientiousness is becoming less individual and more social.

Sanford, N. C., Jan. 24.—We learn from Holy "Write that for all ages we will have "wars and rumors of wars." We have had big wars and little wars, we have had political wars, neighborhood wars and family wars, and all kinds of wars. The legal battle that is now shaking the city of Sanford, in Lee county, makes the Mexican War and all other wars, past and present, appear like a school-boy row as compared with it.

CENTRAL FIGURES IN GRAFT STORY, WHICH MAY START ANOTHER UPHEAVAL IN NEW YORK

1—SENATOR O'GORMAN
2—EX-GOVERNOR SULZER 3—CHARLES F. MURPHY
4—J. E. GAFFNEY

New York, Jan. 24.—Sensational developments are expected in New York political life owing to the searching investigation conducted by District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, who has instituted John Doe proceedings before Justice McAdoo. Ex-Governor Sulzer under a grilling cross-examination by Mr. Whitman has revealed that Charles F. Murphy, the dominant power in the Democratic party in the State, has been accused in his own party of having a "bagman" to "shake down" contractors doing State work for financial contributions. Mr. Sulzer, now an assemblyman, testified that United States Senator O'Gorman told him that James E. Gaffney, the wealthy owner of the Boston National baseball club and long a power in New York politics, was Murphy's collector. Senator O'Gorman's charge arose over the attempt of a man who

(By MAMIE BAYS.)
Two meetings to be held in the near future will prove of special interest to Baptists of North Carolina. The first of these is the Baptist Sunday school meeting which is to be held at Lexington February 16-19 under the direction of the Sunday School Board of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. A series of Sunday school institutes is now in progress throughout the territory of the State and this series will continue for about four months, but the meeting to be held at Lexington is different from the institutes and special effort will be made by those in charge of the same to secure the attendance of as many pastors, superintendents and teachers of Sunday schools as possible. Three of the speakers already secured to take part in the program of this meeting are men who are recognized as leaders in Sunday school work and their work in this connection is known not only to Baptists of North Carolina, but to that denomination throughout the South. One of these speakers is Rev. Prince R. Burroughs, D.D., of Nashville, Tenn., educational secretary of the Sunday school board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The State takes a census of manufactures every year, the government every five years. Mr. Shipman has proposed the census director to use a special blank for North Carolina in which will be incorporated questions along the line of the State's work. The State census can be completed then from Uncle Sam's figures.

Freight Rate Hearing.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will hear arguments in the freight rate controversy between North Carolina and Virginia in Washington February 6th. The railroads have asked permission to put into effect the rates agreed upon by the railroads and the North Carolina Legislature. To do so the fourth section, providing that a short haul shall not cost more than a long haul, will be violated. The commission allows such violation every day, and the good will of the Virginia side fight, but the law has made the one come to the attention that it would otherwise be. Cases from Ohio River crossings, from the Chesapeake, from Greenville and Danbury and Huntsville, Ala., are the particular ones to be heard on the date named.
