

WAR REJOICES
TAIING-TAU

Celebration All Over Island Empire; Many Defenders Made Escape
(By the Associated Press.)
Tokyo, Japan, Nov. 8.—9:30 p. m.—Japan still is celebrating the fall of Tsingtau with extraordinary enthusiasm. In every city there are lantern processions and merriment nightly. On every house there is a flag.
In Tokyo cheering crowds serenade high officers of the army and navy and diplomats of all countries. Everywhere there is recognition of Great Britain in the victory. Edicts congratulate the British as well as Japanese.
The admirals of Great Britain and Japan have exchanged felicitations and the municipality of Tokyo cabled congratulations to King George.
It is stated that combatants not captured during the final assaults upon Tsingtau will be surrendered November 10. Every steamer in the harbor of Kiao Chow was sunk and navigation has been made perilous by mines. It is understood the terms of surrender were practically unconditional.
A rumor that Governor Mayer Waldeck of Kiao Chow was mortally wounded and committed suicide, gained some credence.
It also is reported the garrisons of the coast forts fought to the last and then tried to escape in a train, firing their small arms as they fled.
Many, it is said, did escape across the bay in junk and are now being pursued.
Emperor Yoshihito's message of appreciation to the Japanese who fought at Tsingtau expressed gratitude for the "faithful discharge of their duties." The following was sent to the British force:
"The Emperor deeply appreciates the brilliant deeds of the British army and navy which co-operating with the Japanese fought bravely and achieved the object of the war."
The Emperor sent similar messages. The surrender of Tsingtau is officially described as follows:
"The German and Japanese plenipotentiaries on the evening of November 7, concluded the parleys for the surrender of Tsingtau. Our terms were accepted in their entirety. Another meeting will be held at ten o'clock tomorrow. On November 10, the forts and equipment will be turned over to us."
"Our casualties on the night of November 6, and on the following morning when Tsingtau surrendered, were 14 officers wounded and 423 soldiers killed or wounded. We took 2,300 prisoners in the battle."
German Casualties Small.
Peking, China, Nov. 8.—The German legation has received a telegram from Tsingtau stating that all German soldiers whose lives were spared there are about 100 women and children here the legation accepts the message as indicating that the German casualties were few.

GERMANS RELEASE
BAPTIST PASTOR

Rev. R. M. Von Miller of Jacksonville in German Jail Several Weeks

(By the Associated Press.)
Wilmington, Nov. 8.—Word has been received here that Rev. R. M. von Miller, pastor of the Jacksonville and Highlands Baptist churches, who has been confined in prison in Halle, Germany, ever since soon after he arrived in his native country on a pleasure and business trip in July, has been released through the efforts of the State department at Washington. He has already left Germany and is on his way to America. He is expected at Jacksonville, where his wife and four children are anxiously awaiting his coming about the 15th or 20th of the month. Mr. Miller went to Germany in July to look after an estate left him by his father. He was accompanied by Rev. C. T. Rogers, formerly of this city, but now pastor of the Methodist church at Jacksonville, who returned to his home as soon as possible after the war broke out. Shortly thereafter Mr. Miller was placed in prison, presumably by enemies of his in the settlement of his father's estate.
Three weeks ago word was received of the imprisonment of Mr. von Miller and the executive committee of the Wilmington Baptist Association, of which Rev. W. O. Hall, of this city, is chairman, took the matter up with Congressman Godwin and Senators Simmons and Overman, who interested the State department in the case. The result was that Mr. von Miller was released and is now on his way home. Mr. von Miller has been in this country for 15 or 20 years, and for the past five years has been a member of the Wilmington Baptist Association. He lived in Wilmington for some time and is well known and popular here. His friends, most of whom did not know of his plight, are pleased to learn of his release and the prospects of his early return home.

MANY a man thinks he's bowed down under a weight o' care when what he really needs is a squar' meal an' a pipe o' VELVET.

North Carolina Grand Lodge Sued

ratified December 20, 1797, was created a corporation in law.
The defendant says that the lodge has no other mission, that all property, income and revenues of every kind is exclusively devoted to charitable purposes; to the relief of worthy distressed members of the order, their widows and orphans.

The answer continues: "That such a corporation whose purposes and revenues are thus dedicated and used, are quasi-public benefits, aids the State in its duty to provide for the poor, the helpless, the sick, and the distressed; as recognized in the grants of exemption from taxation of the property so used, and the defendant, therefore, in this regard, specially pleads that the corporation itself, nor any officer thereof, by an act cannot divert the property so dedicated, and no judgment herein can be rendered, the effect of which would be to divert the assets of the defendant from the charitable purposes to which they are dedicated, or subject them to the payment of damages alleged to have arisen in the manner herein claimed by the plaintiff.

The defendants allege that the terms and expressions used in the report were not libelous per se, and deny that the plaintiff was injured in reputation by them. The terms as used implied that the order was irregular as far as the Grand Lodge of North Carolina is concerned, according to the answer.

The statement is made that the Grand Lodge is the governing body of the Blue Lodges which confer three degrees: Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft, and Master Mason; that the Grand Lodge is in friendly relations with the Grand Lodges of every State and territory in the Union.

The answer states that there are other bodies recognized historically, including the Royal Arch Masons, Knights Templar, and others. Also certain bodies of Scottish Rite Masonry.

The defendant avers that while some American authorities contend that Free-masonry consists only of the said three first or symbolic degrees of a rite known as the York rite, the great majority of Masonic Grand Lodges recognize all the bodies heretofore referred to as lawful Masonic bodies, and hold fraternal relations with them.

The defendant alleges that it is the exclusive right and privilege for the Grand Lodge to determine with which bodies it will have relations. It also alleges that Cernescu is not recognized by the Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

The answer continues: "In the exercise of its fundamental prerogative, the Grand Lodge, defendant, has legislated on this subject and recognized as lawful Scottish Rite bodies established and chartered by the body known as the Supreme Council of the Thirty-third Degree of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free-masonry of the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States of America, whose 'see' is at Charleston, S. C., and of which the Hon. J. D. Richardson, of Tennessee, is the head under the style and title of Sovereign Grand Commander."

The defendant alleges that the plaintiff wrongfully tried to draw Master Masons in the lodge, knowing the attitude of the Grand Lodge of this State in the matter.

The defendant concludes by asking for punitive damages of the plaintiff in the sum of $2,500.

The case has been called on a number of occasions, but will be tried on the first day of the November Term of this year, the case having been set for that time.

Several months ago, an effort was made by the plaintiff to amend its complaint. But permission to amend the complaint was refused. The plaintiff appealed the point to the Supreme Court of North Carolina, but the appeal was dismissed.

CATTLE EPIDEMIC
GROWS ALARMING

Eleven States Are Now Under Quarantine for Mouth and Hoof Disease

(By the Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—An order quarantining Rhode Island against interstate shipments of livestock, was prepared tonight by the Department of Agriculture for issuance tomorrow. Cases of foot and mouth disease were reported during the day from the vicinity of Johnson and Washington.
Rhode Island will make the eleventh State to be quarantined. Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Maryland, Wisconsin, and Iowa compose the area already affected.
Secretary Houston tonight said this epidemic of "one of the most contagious and destructive diseases of cattle, swine, and sheep, exceeded in area affected any of the five previous outbreaks in this country."
Unless it can be immediately localized and eradicated, he said, it threatens untold losses among livestock.

Stockyard Disinfected.

(By the Associated Press.)
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—Disinfection of the stockyards for foot and mouth disease had progressed as far as the packing plants today. All hides that have accumulated there since October 1st, will be dipped in disinfectant before being shipped.
Four new cases were said to have appeared today among the prize dairy herd brought here for the National dairy show and now under quarantine.

Deaths and Funerals

DR. A. D. McDONALD.

Physician of Wilmington Dies After Forty Years Service.
(Special to The News and Observer.)
Wilmington, Nov. 8.—After an illness of some time, Dr. Alexander Donaldson McDonald died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 313 north Fourth street, in the 83d year of his age. Funeral services were held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon from St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and interment followed in Oakdale cemetery with Masonic honors. The hymns sung at the services were "I will against thee, Donald, I will" and "I will against thee, Donald, I will" by the choir of St. John's Masonic Lodge, also at his request.

Dr. McDonald was born on May 31, 1831, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McDonald, of Carthage, Moore county, who were natives of Scotland. Soon after his graduation from the Baltimore School of Physicians and Surgeons, he came to Wilmington and has practiced his profession here for more than 40 years. He was held in loving esteem by the people of the entire community. All through his life he had to battle with his indomitable will against frail health, which ever was a difficulty in the way of his endeavors. For this reason, after volunteering three times, he was not allowed to enlist as a soldier in the Confederate Army.

His wife, formerly Miss Mary J. Powers, of Pender county, died in July, 1913. Surviving are his adopted daughter, Miss Mary Thompson, a nephew, Mr. Alexander McDonald, of Kinston, and a half sister, Mrs. Alexander Butler, of Lumberton.

Since March 16, 1884, Dr. McDonald has been an elder in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. He was also affiliated with the Masons, Pythians, and Red Men.

OUTLOOK GOOD IN BUSINESS AFFAIRS

Funds Raised at Eastern Carolina Christian Conference As An Evidence

"As I see affairs, the business conditions are improving right along," said Dr. W. A. Harper, president of Elon College, who was in the city last night. Dr. Harper was on his way home from Henderson where he had been in attendance on the Eastern North Carolina Christian Conference.
"An evidence of the feeling of optimism was to be found in the action of the conference in financial matters. More money was raised on general apportionments than usual, and nearly two thousand dollars was raised on the floor of the conference for mission points in the bounds of the conference, particularly for Chapel Hill, Henderson and Franklinton. It is a regrettable matter that when there is any talk of depression in business that men cut off subscriptions to benevolences, the orphanages, churches, colleges and other institutions, and these are our future. But there was no spirit of this kind at the conference.
"Taking the action there as a barometer, I feel that in that alone I am justified in saying that conditions are improving. It is a good sign when men show their liberality and the men of the conference in Henderson did this most generously."

LAY RELIGIOUS TRAINING.

Voluntary Course of Study Organized by Trinity Students.
(Special to The News and Observer.)
Trinity College, Nov. 8.—In view of the noticeably increasing demand for specific organized college courses for training young men and women for lay religious teaching and leadership, a voluntary course of this character recently organized in this institution and now in progress with some thirty students enrolled, is very significant and so far as can be ascertained, this is the beginning of college work of this kind in this State.

The course is given jointly by the department of education and the department of biblical literature, and concerns itself with the thorough study of the Bible for the purpose of teaching it, of the principles of teaching as applied to the scriptures, and of the organization, management and management of Sunday schools. The purpose of the course is to train teachers, supervisors and superintendents of religious schools in the light of the best educational principles, to promote the wise selection and effective use of graded subject-matter materials, and to study conditions for class and school efficiency.

This marks the beginning of a series of courses at Trinity for such purposes.
