Roosevelt Consulted Bosses in Running For Governor

dit in 1898 about your New York tax assessment? "Yes, made it in Washington."

Mr. Roosevelt said that since 1897 he had not lived in New York and that he was then a resident of Washington. He reads Section of Constitution, article 4, of the State constitution which provides that a person is not eligible for the governorship unless he has for five years continuously had been a resident of New York State.

"I do not remember. But I did become a resident of New York at that period." "When did you first hear a discussion of your name as a possible candidate for the governorship?"

"As well as I remember, beyond gossip, it was after I returned from Santiago. I do not remember the exact date. It was about the end of August 1895."

"Who first spoke to you about it?"

"The first man of any prominence was Mr. Quigg."

"After you talked to Mr. Quigg did you meet Mr. Platt and Mr. Odell in New York?"

"Yes. Other persons were there, too, Mr. Root, among them."

"Was Mr. Platt the Republican boss of this State?"

"He was."

"Did you discuss with Mr. Platt and Mr. Odell candidates for other State offices?"

"I don't remember."

eligibility for the governorship brought up?"

"My remembrance is that Mr. Root was present during the first discussion of that question."

"Root To Advocate Nomination." "Was Mr. Root asked to advocate your nomination and asked to justify your eligibility?"

"I think he was."

"Was Mr. Choate asked to do the same thing?"

"I do not recollect. My memory is that I was told Mr. Choate had said I was not eligible."

"Had you learned that Louis Payne and Governor Black had also said you were not eligible?"

"I think I heard that."

"Do you remember a discussion between all these gentlemen about your eligibility?"

"I do. Mr. Odell was there, too."

"Do you remember Mr. Odell asking the lawyers there who could raise the question of your eligibility, if you were elected?"

"No, I do not remember that. I believe some one said the attorney general alone could."

"Did someone ask what difference that made as if you were elected the whole ticket including an attorney general would be elected?"

"Wouldn't Question Eligibility." "Not just that. It was said no one would ever question the eligibility after my election."

Mr. Ivins returned to the question of taxes. Colonel Roosevelt said: "After I returned from the Spanish war in 1898 I found that my taxes had not been paid. My uncle, James A. Roosevelt, was supposed to pay them but he died before he had the opportunity."

"When I got back from Cuba the books had been closed, so I could not pay the taxes."

"Do you remember writing to your cousin John in 1898 asking him whether you had to pay these personal taxes if you were a resident of Washington and not of New York?"

"I do," the Colonel replied.

"Did you intend to stand by Platt and Odell when the Republican machine nominated you?"

"Yes, as long as they went straight. They knew I would stand by everybody as long as they were honest. They knew I would stand for no dishonesty."

"If you stand for righteousness with due regard for opportunism?"

"I do not stand for righteousness and always have."

DURHAM WATER PLANT WORK SOON

Commencement of Durham County Schools Began Last Evening

Durham, April 22.—That the new plant for the municipal water plant can be built at a cost within the estimate of Engineer Gilbert C. White is indicated by the fact that among the fifty bidders for certain portions of the plant which were opened today there were a large number which were considerably under the estimate of the engineer.

Whether or not the plant could be constructed for half a million dollars was one of the bones of contention in the fight for the bond issue, and it has been used by friends of the water company since that time.

The board of aldermen expect to complete the letting of the different sections of this contract during the next few days.

This means that the work on the municipal water plant of the city will begin some time during the coming summer season.

The commencement of the Durham county schools began this evening with the declamation and recitation contests, but the biggest portion of the exercises are reserved for tomorrow, when most of the plans for the first county commencement will be held at Lakewood park.

The program for Friday embraces many different kinds of contests, including track meets, races, and a baseball game in the afternoon. The annual address will be delivered at 11 o'clock by Mr. Z. V. Judd, of the University faculty. A picnic dinner will be served at the park, and it is expected that thousands of farmers, their wives and children will gather from all sections of the county.

PICTURES VISION OF CHINA AWAKENED

President Wilson Addresses Potomac Presbytery of Presbyterian Church

REFERS TO HIS BOYHOOD

Says His Father Was The Best Instructor and Most Inspiring Companion, a Youngster Ever Had; Forgets Self As President But As Son of Joseph R. Wilson

Washington, April 21.—President Wilson in an address at a meeting here tonight of the Potomac Presbytery of the Presbyterian church, pictured a vision of China awakened by the voice of Christ, furnishing a great momentum in future to the moral forces of the world.

The President's address was devoted largely to incidents of his boyhood, when he assisted his father, a Presbyterian clergyman. "He had the risky habit of saying exactly what he thought," said the President, "a habit which in part inherited, and of which I have diligently tried to cure myself."

"But he was the best instructor, the most inspiring companion I venture to say, a youngster ever had, and in facing a Southern Presbytery I cannot think of myself as the President of the United States; I can only think of myself as the son of Joseph E. Wilson, and I only wish I could claim some of the vital connection with the church which he could claim. Because those who stand outside of the active ministrations of the church so to say, are an illegitimate usury from it. We do not seem to add a great deal to its capital but we do live on its investments. We do live on its great investments of spirit."

20,000 TROOPS OF ALLIES AROUND ENOS

Indications Point to Strong Action Against Deserters At Early Date.

Berlin, via wireless, April 21.—The Tages Zeitung today published a special dispatch, the origin of which is not given, saying that 20,000 British and French troops have been landed near Enos, in European Turkey, on the north side of the Gulf of Saros.

A heavy cannonading took place between the Turkish batteries around Enos and the warships of the allies, says the dispatch.

An Athens dispatch says great activity has been noted among the British forces on the island of Lemnos, west of the entrance to the Dardanelles. Troop transports are arriving daily at Lemnos from Alexandria, Egypt; the censorship is more rigid, and all indications point to strong action against the deserters at an early date.

KILLED TRYING TO GET ON MOVING TRAIN

Body of Carl Ramsauer to Be Taken to Brevard For Burial.

Payetteville, April 21.—The funeral of Carl Ramsauer, this city, who was killed by a Southern train at Spartanburg, S. C., yesterday afternoon, will be held in Brevard, N. C., tomorrow afternoon. His body will be buried there, beside that of his wife, who died several years ago. The news of Mr. Ramsauer's tragic death was a great shock to his many friends here. He was very popular in Payetteville and his sad death has cast a shadow of sorrow over the community.

Mr. Ramsauer, who came to Payetteville from Charlotte, until recently with his brothers, Hubert and Allen Ramsauer, conducted a large garage and automobile supply house here but had just sold, the business and was preparing to remove to Lumberton next week.

Mr. Ramsauer met death while attempting to board a moving train at Spartanburg. He was on his way back from Brevard to Payetteville, together with Hovey Smith, of Greenville, S. C. He was looking over the Southern yards at Spartanburg where some interesting work was being carried on, and their train was beginning to move when they returned. Both men tried to "hop" the moving train. Smith succeeded, but Ramsauer's grip on the grabiron slipped and he was thrown under the train. One leg was cut off instantly. He was taken to a hospital where the other leg was amputated in an effort to save his life. But the young man died on the operating table.
