

SOCIETY

A WANDERER'S WISE.

I wish I owned a little green lute plot,
Planted with old black rose and blue forget-me-not,
Deep in the heart of some small country spot.

I think my soul would be more comforted
If I could say, "Where'er my feet are led,
At the long last, this place will be my bed."

My plot would face the sun, and all day long
Soft checked light and shade should dance upon
My waiting bow amid that silent throng.

To me 'twould seem a have safe and sure,
Far from hot squall streets and city's glare,
A place forever quiet and secure.

I envy those who go with tinkling feet,
To plant with feeble hands a message sweet
Within their plot to those they soon may meet.

No wealth have I, no kindred, or a home;
Hither late alone can tell where I may roam
Before I sleep at last beneath the loam.

And oh! that I might know where I shall lie!
My weary days would pass more peacefully
We dread so many things, my soul and I.

STANHOPE SOCIAL.

Palatable Given Delightful Evening By Baracua.

Stanhope, May 13.—One of the most charming events of the season was a delightful reception given the Philanthropic class by the Baracua Saturdays evening from 8 to 11 in the east wing of the graded school building, which had been tastefully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. Punch was served as the guests arrived, the punch bowl being in a mound of flowers and gracefully presided over by Miss Temple Bunn and Mr. Fitzhugh Robinson. The dining room table was prettily set with roses. Here refreshments were served in three courses consisting of salads, sandwiches and cream, by Misses Emma Robertson, Nannie Finch and Evelyn Richardson. The rendition of several beautiful musical selections by have been eye-openers to the American people. Scores of food products have been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

One of the commonest faults—and a serious one—is the deficiency of mineral elements in white flour foods. To this lack is due, in large degree, nervous prostration, anemia, rickets in children, and many other ills.

Nearly a score of years ago a wonderful food—made from whole wheat and barley—was devised. It contains all the nutriment of the grain, including the valuable mineral salts so necessary for perfect building of body, brain, and nerves.

INTERESTING MEETING TO BE HELD TODAY

Department of Household Economics To Have Mrs. E. L. Carr as Speaker

There will be an interesting meeting of the Department of Household Economics this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Mrs. R. L. Carr, a bright, interesting speaker from the Eastern Carolina Training school at Greenville, will speak on "Household Hygiene," and, since this topic is so important and interesting to all housekeepers, there will doubtless be a large number of Raleigh women at this meeting to hear what Mrs. Carr has to say on this subject.

To add to the pleasure of the meeting, light refreshments will be served after the regular program is over, and there will be a kind of informal reception in honor of the speaker of the afternoon. During Mrs. Carr's stay in the city, she will be the guest of Mrs. T. B. Womack.

The Department of Household Economics has had good meetings this year. Miss Mattie Reese is chairman. Mrs. T. B. Womack vice-chairman and Mrs. Sam Norris, secretary. This is the department's last meeting for the club year.

Miss Browne Entertains.

Kelford, May 19.—The Country Book Club of Kelford was most excellently entertained on yesterday afternoon at the home of its president, Miss Amanda Browne.

After the regular business meeting of the club, the guests enjoyed a very interesting Magazine contest, which was won by Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Norfleet. The prize, which was a very pretty box of correspondence cards, was presented by Mr. Nelson White.

The guests were next invited to the beautifully lighted vine covered porch where the most sumptuous repast of the season was thoroughly enjoyed. The talented Miss Margie Spivey of Lewiston delighted the guests with her music. The club wishes to extend to Miss Browne its most sincere thanks for the excellent and most appreciated work during her term as the president of the club.

MRS. BURWELL HOSTESS.

Entertains in Auction Bridge at Her Henderson Home.

Henderson, May 19.—Mrs. Walter D. Burwell gave an elegant auction bridge party Saturday evening in honor of Miss Amy Butler, bride-elect, and her sister, Mrs. S. M. Cary, of Scotland Neck, at her home. There were six tables.

The color scheme was pink, with beautiful score cards.

Small crepe baskets, with tiny silver bells on the handles, filled with salted almonds and a profusion of pink roses and pansies, were placed in the halls, on the porch, and in the parlor.

The dining room was pretty. A cut glass bowl of handsome pink lily-lilies, roses, clung lace cover, pins and ribbons adorned the table with cut glass dishes filled with mints and ice cream, both in pink, were served.

As the guests were leaving each was awarded with a souvenir of the occasion—a dainty pink slipper filled with rice.

INTERESTING AFTERNOON.

First and Second Year Students at Meredith Give Fine Recital.

At Meredith College yesterday afternoon the first and second year students in music under Mrs. J. W. Ferrell, gave a recital that was most interesting in every respect.

The program was fully carried out, each number being so well rendered that it is impossible to mention any one especially. The children, who have been studying music for only one or two years, showed evidence of having received remarkably fine instruction. Their excellent fingerings

WELDON BOOK CLUB.

Mrs. J. C. Green Entertains at Last Meeting of the Year.

Weldon, May 18.—Tuesday the Book Club held the last meeting of the season with Mrs. J. C. Green as hostess.

A most profitable and enjoyable program completed the course of the club session.

At the roll-call the responses were quotations from favorite authors.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. William A. Pierce, president; Mrs. W. L. Scott, vice-president; Mrs. N. C. Hughes, Jr., secretary; Mrs. Ida T. Wilkins, treasurer; Mrs. T. C. Harrison, reporter; Miss Mary Sledge, censor.

Mrs. William M. Cohen, the retiring president, made most appropriate remarks, thanking the officers, committee, and each individual club member for her support.

On account of the election of officers, the program consisted of one paper which was most instructive. This was written and read by Mrs. S. B. Pierce.

The club was invited into the library where a surprise awaited the retiring president. A lovely handwritten book was filled with good wishes. Mrs. Wilkins in words of

DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

Scalp Itched, Dandruff Scaled Off, Showed in Hair and Covered Coat Collar. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Hair Stopped Coming Out and Scalp Clean.

Byron, Ga.—"For six years or more I have been troubled with dandruff and falling hair. My scalp would itch so that some times I would be compelled to scratch even in company and I was losing my hair very fast. The dandruff would scale off and show in my hair and when I would comb it the dandruff would almost cover my coat around the collar.

"I used different kinds of hair tonics and skin soaps but none seemed to do any good for me. I was advised by a friend to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment which I did, and now my hair has stopped coming out and my scalp is clean of dandruff. My hair is thick as it ever was. I also had pimples and blackheads on my face but Cuticura Soap and Ointment has healed them." (Signed) Curtis Sullivan, July 31, 1914.

Weddings and Engagements

JEWELL-MORTON.

Wilmington, May 19.—Of interest in Wilmington was the marriage at Goldsboro Monday of Mr. Herndon Jewell, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Jewell, and Miss Flossie Morton, of Rocky Point, the ceremony being performed by Rev. R. C. McWhorter, of New Bern. It was a surprise marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Jewell will live at Clinton.

RICHARDSON-THOMPSON.

Friends received a big surprise yesterday when it became known that in the afternoon Mr. Cleveland A. Richardson, president of the Realty Loan and Trust Company, and Miss Elgett Thompson of Cary were married at the home of Rev. M. T. Plyler. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Wilmington and thence to various southern points. Only the closest friends knew of the event.

Mr. Richardson is a well known business man of this city and Miss Thompson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thompson of Cary. She spent some time in Raleigh, several years ago as a student of Meredith College.

Howard Johnson.

The engagement of Miss Eleanor Johnson to Mr. Curtis Howard, both of Henderson, was announced at the meeting of the Nu Nu Sorority of Peace in Raleigh last night following the commencement exercises.

The Sigma Psi and the Alpha Delta Gamma Sororities participated in happy occasion. Friends of Miss Johnson were here to witness her graduation at Peace, were also present.

Miss Johnson stood in the doorway as the folding doors were opened and Mrs. Lulu Daughtridge threw rice on her.

The color scheme of lavender and white were carried out. The cream which was served was lavender color. Bright lavender colored paper hearts which had the inside bore the inscription Johnson and Howard June, 1915. There was a big cake which was cut by Miss Johnson who found the money.

DRISKILL-KRAUS.

Charlotte, May 19.—Few weddings of this season have been of such wide interest as the marriage of Miss Jewell Kraus, of Krausville, the country home of Mr. Frank Kraus near Waxhaw, to Mr. Roy Burnet Driskill of Hamlet. The wedding took place at 10:30 o'clock at the parsonage of Tryon Street Methodist church. The beautiful and impressive service of the Methodist church was used, and Rev. E. K. McLarty officiated. Only a few of the family's nearest friends attended the wedding. The bride is a handsome brunette accomplished and admired by a wide circle of friends. She was educated at Blackstone, Va.

The bridegroom comes of one of Tennessee's most prominent families. He holds a position with the Seaboard Railway Company at Hamlet. He commands the esteem of a wide circle of friends.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Driskill left for Knoxville, Tennessee, where they will spend part of their honeymoon.

A LEADER IN EDUCATION

Work in McDowell Gave Him Wide Recognition; Chairman Sears Says Board Holds a Woman Is Not Prevented by Law From Holding the Place

Prof. D. F. Giles, of Marion, will become county superintendent of education for Wake county on the first of July. The county board met yesterday at noon in the county superintendent's office and unanimously selected Mr. Giles. He is in the city and has accepted the position.

Mr. Giles accepted at a salary some $1,000 less than he is now receiving. It has been ascertained, and when questioned as to why he did this, stated that he just could not keep out of the work. "During the past two years since I gave up the work as county superintendent of McDowell I have been attending county institutes during the summer, and I have not attended a one but what I felt that I would like to get right in and help some county superintendent solve his problems." When the call came to Wake county, Mr. Giles stated he could not roll back the inclination to get back in the work in which he has spent practically all his life since leaving college. He has watched with considerable interest the development in Wake county, and if I can carry forward the work begun and laid on such stable foundation I shall be satisfied." He said further that it was the opportunity for constructive work in the State that was the final deciding factor in causing him to give up a larger salary. The capstone was the chance of getting here in Wake county where so many big things have been done in an educational way and of getting in touch with Miss Edith Royster, who knows how to do things; this coupled with the fact that Wake county had as the chairman of its board of education a man who was thoroughly in touch with the work all along the line, acquainted with all the details, full of enthusiastic interest and so generous with time and effort, concluded the superintendent-elect.

The superintendent-elect is thirty-four years old, but is a man of broad experience in the work he will again take up in July. He is likewise a man of successful accomplishment. His record of public school work in increasing the revenues of the schools he has been equally as successful, having waged successfully special tax campaigns in thirty-one out of fifty-four districts of the county, losing the cause in only two elections. McDowell now has 33 special tax districts, Mr. Giles took office, but one of which he was instrumental in carrying.

Mr. Giles was educated at Trinity and the University. At both places he was one of the most active and popular students, a fine athlete in baseball and football, fondly dubbed "Fatty" by his fellow students. Mr. Giles can still fill the qualifications of the title. He married Miss Katherine Reed, of St. Louis, and to them have been born two daughters, Jewel Reed, aged five and Katherine Claire, not quite a year old. Mrs. Giles visited in Raleigh last winter when her husband was in the State Senate representing McDowell and Burke and was shown much social attention. Mr. Giles is a native of McDowell, the son of a Methodist minister. His first work after leaving college was the founding of Nebo High School, at Nebo, of which he was principal for two years. He was superintendent of the Marion school for two years and county superintendent seven years. While in the State Senate last winter he took a strong stand on educational matters, was chairman of the Committee on Education and was highly successful with legislation proposed by the committee.
