The Academy of Music on Monday night, October 25, the public will have an opportunity of seeing a new style of play. The play, which is in three acts, contains a real plot, is extremely well written and constructed and contains a number of features and novelties out of the beaten path.

"Twin Beds." Selwyn and Company, whose name is to a theatrical production what the name of Selwyn is to the production of "Within the Law," "Under Cover," "The Show Shop," "Under Fire" and "Rolling Stones" will bring their Laugh Festival, "Twin Beds," from its run of fifty-two weeks in New York to the Academy of Music on Thursday night, October 28, with a splendid cast of comedians.

"Twin Beds" is the joint work of Elizabeth City, Oct. 23. William C. S. Baglin and Miss Mildred J. Booker were married this afternoon, by Rev. J. N. Loftin, pastor of Blackwell Memorial Baptist church of this city.

The groom is the son of H. T. Baglin, president and owner of the Kearney Hat Works of Newark, N. J., one of the North's foremost hat manufacturers and fashion designers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Booker, of Bar Harbor, Me., and is well known in society circles both North and South.

The bride and groom returned to Norfolk on the through train this afternoon, as he is on duty there at the United States Naval Hospital.

Hollingsworth-Tart. Reeboro, Oct. 23.—An especially pretty scene was that at the home of Mr. James Hollingsworth when Tuesday evening amidst a veritable bower of roses, sunnax and ferns, Miss Anne Ethel Hollingsworth became the wife of Mr. Clarence Tart, formerly of Clinton, but now of this place. Rev. H. E. Lance officiated.

The guests were met at the door and shown to the guest room by Mrs. E. P. Howell and Mrs. W. O. Mills. Mrs. Howell was gowned in lavender crepe-de-chine, Mrs. Mills in white embroidered net over taffeta. Miss Clyde Underwood sang sweetly "I Love You Truly."

The bride entered with her brother, Mr. James Hollingsworth, Jr. The bride is an especially attractive young woman and looked most charming in a going-away gown of midnight blue with hat and gloves to match. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The maid of honor was gowned in pink chiffon over pink mesaline and carried pink Killarney roses.

After the customary much merriment was afforded in the cutting of the bride's cake, presided over by D. W. Tart, gowned in blue mesaline.

The many handsome presents attended the popularity of the couple. A part of this week will be spent in Raleigh and returning Mr. and Mrs. Tart will be at home to their friends October 24th.

HAYWOOD-MANOR The Harrisonburg, Va., Daily News-Record gives the following account of the wedding last Tuesday of Dr. Hubert Haywood, Jr., and Miss Marguerite Manor

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized at 3 o'clock last evening in Emmanuel Episcopal church when Miss Marguerite Manor became the bride of Dr. Hubert Haywood, Jr., of Raleigh, N. C. The church was attractively decorated in palms and American beauties, the altar being a mass of silver candelabra, the small chandeliers which shed sweetness over the solemn scenes. Mrs. Thomas Seibrell, Jr., attended her sister as dame of honor, and Mr. Benbury Haywood acted as best man. Miss Dorsey Sipe, of Harrisonburg, and Miss Betsey John Haywood, of Raleigh, were the two maids of honor. The groomsmen included Messrs. Baxter Durham, George Little, of Raleigh; Hyman Phillips, of Tarboro; Laid L. Conrad, Ab Fletcher, of Thomas E. Seibrell, Jr., Grattan Price and Everett Manor, of Harrisonburg.

The bride entered the church with her uncle, Mr. J. D. Manor, of New Market, Va., who gave her in marriage, she wore a gown of duchesse satin with court train of real lace. Her veil of illusion was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Seibrell was the bridesmaid, wearing in turquoise taffeta embroidered in old gold and her flowers were a shower of American beauties. Miss Sipe and Miss Haywood wore dainty frocks of gold silk net over yellow taffeta and carried American beauties. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. H. S. Osborn, rector of the church.

Masters Sam Pasco Conrad and Frank Gould held the ribbons.

After the wedding the bridal party was entertained at the residence of Mrs. W. E. Manor, Dr. and Mrs. Haywood left for a wedding journey to New England and Canada, after which they will make their home at Raleigh.

Among the out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Haywood, Miss Betsey John Haywood, Mr. Burke Haywood, Mr. Benbury Haywood, Mrs. William H. Bagley, Mr. Baxter Durham, Mr. George Little, of Raleigh, Mr. Hyman Phillips, of Tarboro; Mrs. C. H. Erner, Mrs. T. L. McDowell, Mrs. T. R. Kiddick, Miss Inogen Kiddick, of Richmond; Mr. Frank Mitchell, Mr. Battle of Beaver Falls, Pa., and Mr. Charles Paul, of Newson, N. C.

The New-Record also gives in account of social events preliminary to the wedding, as follows:

Miss Mary Dorsey Sipe gave a small dance last night at her home on South Main street in compliment to Miss Marguerite Manor, who will be married tonight to Dr. Hubert Haywood, of Raleigh, N. C., the bridal party and wedding guests. The home was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, the color scheme being yellow and green.

On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. John

H. Downing entertained at cards at their home on Franklin street, in honor of Miss Manor. About 10 o'clock a delicious supper was served. The guests included: Miss Manor, Mrs. Henry Bagley, of Raleigh; Miss Haywood, of Raleigh; Mrs. D. O. Dechert, Miss Inogen Kiddick, of Richmond; Mrs. T. E. Seibrell, Miss Mary Dorsey Sipe, Mrs. C. Grattan Price, Mr. Charles Chandler, Mr. Charley Paul, Mr. T. E. Seibrell, Jr., and Mr. A. K. Fletcher.

On Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Sublett entertained at their home on South Main street by giving a dance in honor of Miss Manor and her house guests. The attractive home was artistically decorated for the occasion and a delightful supper was served.

About twenty-five guests were present.

What Shall We Read To The Children? The general appreciation of Clara W. Hunt's "What Shall We Read to the Children?" is voiced in the following opinion of a prominent Eastern educator:

"It is excellent, so charmingly written that one would thoroughly enjoy reading it whether he had a special interest in children's books, or not. At the same time, the advice given is very wise, bearing evidence of a real insight into child nature and a thorough knowledge of books."

"The point of view is constructive. It is very easy to indicate the objectionable features of current practice, much more difficult to point out the better way. Miss Hunt makes perfectly clear her contempt for the trash which is offered so freely for children's consumption, but she wastes little time in condemnation of what

A grotto fungus, extremely rare, and described as a stalk about an inch in diameter, which supported a wax-like collar of lacework, above which was a bright green ball with a mouth-like orifice at the top, was found growing in a Brockport (N. Y.) doorway the other day. So far as is known this is a tropical growth, transplanted by insects. A bunch of bananas may have been the medium.

Wilson, Oct. 23.—The biggest "catches" of sheephead fish, with hook and line, ever reported at Morehead City for two days fishing were made last Wednesday and Thursday by Mayor E. P. Killebrew, of this city, and Mr. R. J. Grantham, superintendent of Wilson's water and light plants. Think of it, 650 pounds of sheephead, and some of them weighing ten pounds and more. On Monday and Tuesday their "luck" was not so good—the "catch" tipped the scales at 130 pounds—trout, black fish and mackerel—and not a single sheephead.

Both gentlemen say the muscles of their arms are so sore as if they had been at a logrolling.
