COMING HOME.

I.
They're coming home for the Christmas Day
from over the country, far away,
for in our dreams we've heard 'em say:
"We must see the home where the old folks stay!"
For they've had only the lonesome years,
and looked our way through a fall of tears.
The birds that flew from the nest away,
we must see the home where the old folks stay!"

II.

That's what we heard when the dreams went by
and whispered sweet of the loved home sky.
The hills, the valleys and the singing streams,
the mother's face in the bright gleams,
and we knew that the children would read the dreams!
For the birds that wander far in flight,
miss the brooding wings o'er the nest at night.
Oh, but they've wandered a weary way,
but they come to the home where the old folks stay!"

The same sweet stars in the skies above,
the same old home and the same old love,
the light in the window for those that roam,
and the voice of the mother, calling home,
and joy of joys, and sweetest rest
in the arms that fold them to her breast.
"The children" still! O they come to day to the heart's own home, where the old folks stay.

FILM MADE NEAR ASHEVILLE.
"Heart of the Blue Ridge," at Superba, Monday, Made in North State Mountains.
The Superba offers its patrons Monday a World Film Corporation feature, in which beautiful Miss Clara Kimball Young is featured in a superb setting, for it was acted in the "Land of the Sky," near Asheville.
This story was only taken last summer and is fresh from the finishing touches received at the World Studio. Don't miss this opportunity to get the real home atmosphere in a photoplay, a quality seldom offered in Raleigh.

Weddings and Engagements

Blanton-West.
Magnolia, Dec. 24.—Miss Annie Blanton was quietly married to C. C. West last night at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Ed. Blanton. Miss Blanton is 16 years old and Mr. West, who has been married once before, is 45 years old. Mr. West is a successful farmer and they will make their home on his farm about one mile south of here. The Rev. R. F. Munna, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated.

Harvard-Mangum

A quiet but pretty home wedding was solemnized last night at Henderson when Miss Annie Carolyn Mangum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Mangum, was married to Mr. R. Frank Harvard, of Raleigh. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents at 9:30 o'clock and was performed by Rev. S. L. Morgan, pastor of the First Baptist Church.
The bride is an attractive young woman and has many friends who will be interested to learn of her marriage. The groom is a well known and esteemed young insurance man of Raleigh.
Mr. and Mrs. Harvard came through Raleigh last night on their way South for a wedding trip. They will be at home in Raleigh after January 1.

Burnett-Deaton

Troy, Dec. 24.—A pretty home wedding was solemnized in Troy Wednesday evening, Miss Ruth Deaton, of Troy, and Mr. J. H. Burnett, of Burgaw, being the contracting parties.
The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. N. Page, pastor of the Baptist church, at the home of the bride in the presence of the family and a small number of friends. Following the ceremony the bridal party went in automobiles to Biscoe, where the bride and groom boarded the 8:30 p. m. train going south. Mrs. Burnett is the accomplished

THE OUT OF TOWN GUESTS WERE: MR. W. B. LEWIS AND TWO SONS, OF DURHAM, N. C.; MR. M. W. LEWIS, OF MOUNT AIRY, N. C.; MISS KATE LEWIS, GREENVILLE, N. C.; MR. HIRAM FORD, SPRAY, N. C.; MR. AND MRS. J. W. BURNETT, OF BURGAW, AND IS LOCATED AT BURGAW, WHERE HE IS BUILDING UP A LUCRATIVE LAW PRACTICE AND TAKING A LEADING POSITION IN THE POLITICS OF HIS COUNTY.

Milton, Dec. 24.

In the presence of a large gathering of friends of the contracting parties, at the home of Mrs. K. A. Watkins at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon Miss Sallie Walker Lewis, the only daughter of Mrs. Lizzie Lewis, of this place, was united in marriage with Dr. Richard Boyd Davis, of Warrenton, N. C.

The home was tastefully decorated for this occasion and formed a fitting frame for the impressive and beautiful tableau, as the marriage party stood grouped before the officiating clergyman, the Rev. N. E. Claytor, the pastor of the bride.

Mrs. Connie Walker played for the processional the Mendelssohn march. To the strains the bridal party entered from the hall. First came the dame of honor, Mrs. K. A. Watkins, aunt of the bride, wearing a handsome black imported gown and carrying a bouquet of white carnations. Then the maid of honor, Miss Kate Lewis, sister of the bride, attired in gown of tulle and taffeta, a large picture hat, and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations.
After the processional party had taken their places, the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. M. W. Lewis, of Mount Airy, N. C., entered preceded by her cousin, little Miss Elizabeth Pomeroy, carrying a silver waiter on which was the ring. There she met the groom with his best man, his brother, Mr. Martin Davis, of Warrenton, N. C.

The bride was gowned in a tailored suit of dark brown with hat, gloves and shoes to match. She wore a corsage bouquet of valley lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for Warrenton, where they will spend their Christmas with the groom's parents.
The bride is a graduate of Grace Street Hospital, Richmond, Va., where she has spent the last five years. She is of striking personal attractiveness and possesses many graces of character and disposition and is very popular here, where she has lived until recent years.
The groom is a leading young physician of Weaverville, N. C.
Many and handsome presents were in evidence as a testimony of the high esteem in which the contracting parties are held.

See all the big offerings for next week in this space tomorrow.
