NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New Orleans, Jan. 10. Heavy selling and violent breaks today sent the price of cotton on this market half a cent a pound under yesterday's close. It was a professional market and speculative short interests hammered early and late, meeting their greetest success following the report that a local steamship line had withdrawn is rates on cotton to Liverpool. There were periods of steadiness in the early trading and at ore time a small net advance, but in the afternoon the market furned soft. The closs was feverish at a net loss of $2 to 52 points.

In the early trading prices fell away 19 to 29 points, parily in sympathy with a break in Liverpool. Good support met the initial decline and by the middle of the morning the market had recovered completely and stood at a rise of 5 to 10 points above yesterday's close. Some of the stendiness was due to the reported sinking of a vessel which cleared the port late in December with about 7,000 bales of cotton.

Colaing bids: January 17.77; March 17.77; July 18.19; October 16.78.
