THE FIELDS OF FLANDERS.

Over the fields of Flanders
The tilted list laid its wrath,
To blight with utter ruin
The people in its path.

One knock upon the portal—
"A highway, or you die!"
And all the world but Austria
Thrilled with the proud reply:

"Across the fields of Flanders
But one broad highway runs,
And he who treads it tramples first
The life blood of her sons!"

"From God, who made the nations,
We hold our native land,
Since Caesar's swords fell blunted,
Before our fathers' stand!"

Then rose that little nation
And stayed the foe's advance—
Safe were the shores of France
And saved the life of England.

But on the fields of Flanders
The withering tempest fell,
The mercy of the Teuton
That rises straight from hell!

What need of legal parley,
Of shifting fault or blame?
The deed they did is nameless!
Save by its own foul name!

And till the race that wrought it
Pays to the last degree,
And till the race that suffered
Stands forth, forever free.

God keep us from forgetting
That fateful August day,
When Belgium's soul arose in flame
To show the world the way!
—Arthur Hobson Quinn, in New York Tribune.

The newly married couple left on an afternoon train for the home of the parents of the groom, who live in Lemon Springs. There they will spend their honeymoon.

Street Dance Friday Night.
A street dance will be given on Hargett street in front of Thompson School on Friday night, September 6, for the benefit of the dancing pavilion for children, soldiers and their wives. Mr. J. A. Sapp, director of Pilot Mills band, has consented to offer the services of his musicians from 8:30 until 11 o'clock. Captain Ball has also given his permission for the Technicians to attend. This pavilion, when completed, will be under the direction of the Raleigh Recreation Commission and will be used by all children, soldiers and soldiers' wives free of charge.

Red Cross Workers Needed.
Many more workers are needed at the Red Cross work room than reported on Wednesday morning. There are cases filled with garments and knitted articles that must have a label sewed on them before they can be shipped. Headquarters request that they be shipped as soon as finished that is needed are the women to sew the labels on.

These labels which are marked "Compliments of American Red Cross, Raleigh, N. C. Chapter," are of interest to each chapter, since it makes their work seem more personal, and it must be a pleasure to a soldier to be given a garment so marked. There is always a chance that this article may be from the soldier's own home chapter. The work room officials feel that the women need only to realize that they are needed to do this work and their response will be immediate.

There are several kinds of work to be done in the work room: folding the cut-out garments, sewing them, making button-holes and sewing labels. All of this work has to be done to fill the allotment of garments. Labels must be sewed on at least five hundred garments in order that they may be shipped by the end of this week.

Won't fifty or more women report for work on Thursday and Friday mornings at ten o'clock?

"WATCH YOUR STEP."

Will appear at the Academy of Music tonight.

One of the liveliest musical attractions that will come to this city this season is Irving Berlin's international syncopated success entitled "Watch Your Step," which will open at the Academy of Music tonight.

"Watch Your Step" fulfills the definition of musical comedy in every particular. It possesses exquisite light music, excellent chorus numbers, bright and witty dialogue, plenty of wholesome fun and is presented by a company that makes it fizz and bubble with that intangible "something" that seems to breathe the odor of Broadway into a show.

The story of the play concerns an eccentric's will, leaving two million to the man or woman who has never known love, and then introduces an English dancing master and a dainty little Quaker maid as rival contestants for the money. Of course it becomes the proper thing to take the two (pretend) innocents out and show them New York, and incidentally the audience gets a look in at some very lively cabarets, the Metropolitan Opera House and several other places. That the inheritance ultimately goes where it should and the untold young people find their affinities, is, of course, to be guessed.

One of the greatest charms to "Watch Your Step" is that it is extremely original, especially in the stage settings and arrangements, the opera house scene in the second act being one of the most striking and unique ever shown on any stage.—Press Agent.

Between You and Me
By KATE BREW VAUGHN

Several weeks ago I was in Durham and participated in a demonstration at the high school. This meeting was attended by many of Durham's most enthusiastic war workers, who asked particularly of the canteen. When asked how they could help I told of how soldiers were always hungry for sweets, and suggested that next to money, which was always needed, jellies, jams and preserves were most welcome. As a result, Mrs. Jones Fuller, acting as chairman, came to Raleigh yesterday with a most generous supply of marmalade, jelly, etc. This was prepared in the high school basement by the ladies who contributed fruit and sugar, and they were helped by Mrs. Whitted, Emergency Demonstrator for Durham. Mrs. Jones Fuller and Mrs. Rawls, spent the day in Raleigh and visited the canteen. They were disappointed that no trains came in during their stay, but they saw enough to realize what pleasure and comfort the generous gift was going to give the fine boys coming through Raleigh on their way "over there" or maybe it will be used to refresh the boys returning—broken physically and needing not only food and protection, but needing always to know that America reverences them for the sacrifice they have made. Three cheers for Durham women—when they decide to do a thing you may be sure it will be well and beautifully done.

Miss Mary—I don't believe that you are insane—but some one has said very properly that insanity is egotism gone to seed, so I would be very careful and not let egotism blossom too luxuriantly if I were you. Talking about yourself, being too careful for yourself, pitying yourself, seeing up a new disease for yourself, these are nothing more than forms of egotism, as well as thinking and talking about literary and musical genius. Don't think for a moment that you have a monopoly on grief or trouble, and while sympathizing with you I should like to say the deepest grief as well as the greatest joy may be met in such a way as to add new strength and power for other use if we only have a sound philosophy and a well-guided and wholesome body.

I wish the women of all towns had a gymnasium in which several nights or days a week they might have some physical training such as the soldiers in the army are getting. It is making such excellent specimens out of the office man, or the dyspeptic.

A judge of city court near Raleigh tells the following as being original. He had before him an aged negro of tender, there several times before for the same offence—selling liquor. This judge is known for his genial humor until provoked, and is also known as a lenient judge to the old-fashioned negro. He tells many of his choicest stories about them. On this occasion he believed that Hustus was lying about his age—it seemed that several years were added every time he was haled to the tribunal of justice, presumably to inspire sympathy for an old man. "Yes sah, Judge, I be 65 my las' b'udday, sah." Hustus, you mean to tell me you are 65? When is your birthday?" "Judge, what you want to know my b'udday for? You ain't goin' give me no b'udday present, is you?"

Right now people are thinking about coal for winter and we are all anxious to be comfortable ourselves, and want to know that every one else is equally comfortable. Gas as a fuel is economy for us and for the country. The companies manufacturing gas can manufacture gas in large quantities and distribute same with less waste than each family can accomplish by burning coal fires in the kitchens. Not for the gas companies, but as a means of winning the war let us arrange to use gas as much as possible during the winter.

Three hundred and thirty-nine colored soldiers on their way to France received a bath at the Red Cross Canteen Bath House yesterday. Who says they did not like to bathe? These boys made so much pleasurable noise that you would have thought it was Christmas. Fourth of July and a circus all in one. These colored boys are so grateful for everything that is done for their comfort that it makes a lump in your throat.

By the way—there is a canteen in Denver, Colorado. When a soldier comes through there travelling east—there is just one inference to put on the occurrence—he is going to France—he is leaving the beautiful golden West which he knows and loves as no other class of people in any other part of the land know and love their native home.

These westerners love the hills and valleys—the dimples, as it were, in God's universe, and they are going to France to fight—to be all missed up as it were, to seek in gore and see sights which the westerner look upon in only one way—a neck-tie party. So it may be that a man with a vivid imagination, or a big heart, one or the other or both, has given to it the name of Red Cross Canteen "Lump-in-the-throat." I have it from a friend that it is true to name—and "lump in the eye" might have been added for a full expression.

The rice flour we can procure in Raleigh can be used to the exclusion of wheat flour, in certain foods. We are all longing for sweet things these days and I think you will find these are very good.

Rice Wafers.
1-4 cup shortening.
1-4 cup sugar.
1 egg (unbeaten).
Grated rind, 1-2 lemons.
3-4 cup rice flour.
Make into stiff dough (a tiny bit more of flour may be necessary), roll very thin, cut in fancy shapes, and bake in very moderate oven.

Cereal Wafers.
1-4 cup rolled oats.
1-4 cup corn meal.
1-2 cup boiling water.
1 tablespoon syrup.
1-4 teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon season oil.
1-2 cup barley or rice flour.

Boil water and pour over rolled oats and corn meal, cook 1 minute; add syrup, salt and oil lastly the flour, knead thoroughly and roll thin, shape and bake in moderate oven.

I am reliably informed that Atlanta with an excellent Red Cross organization is green with jealousy of Raleigh's work for soldiers in every way. The fame of the canteen has gone far, and wide and we hear that Atlanta is vowing to get ahead of us. Don't let us allow that.

The canteen needs a fine fruit press for squeezing lemons when a hurry up call comes. They need about four new lard stands and three large saucepans, six carving knives and several long handle kitchen spoons. I suggest that

WHY DO ALL DOCTORS PRESCRIBE CALOMEL?

Of all the medicines in the world, doctors prescribe calomel most often and depend upon it most universally. There must be a good and sufficient reason—what is it?

If you will study the doctors' books you will find that the medical authorities prescribe calomel for almost every disease. The reason is that calomel is the greatest and only thorough system-purifier. It makes the liver active, drives out the poisons from the stomach, bowels and kidneys and thereby purifies the blood. Calomel puts the entire system in the most favorable condition for Nature to exercise her recuperative power. Your doctor will tell you that drugs merely assist Nature. That is why he prescribes calomel so often.

The new kind of calomel, called "Calstab," is refined and purified from all of the nauseating and dangerous qualities of the old style calomel and is rapidly taking its place, for it is more effective than the old style calomel as a liver-cleanser and system-purifier. One Calstab at bedtime, with a swallow of water—that's all. No nausea, nor the slightest unpleasantness. Next morning you awake feeling fine—with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—fruits, acids or anything. No restrictions of habit or diet.

Calstabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists everywhere. Your money back if you are not satisfied.—Adv.
