Farmers Agree To Allot A Portion of Their Tobacco To Red Cross

JUNIOR ORDER TO GIVE FLAG TO HOME GUARD

Milton W. Harrison Makes Address In Interest War Savings Stamps

Durham, N. C., Sept. 4 .- The Durham tobacco market opened this morning under most auspacious circumstances. Bright and early every form of conveyance used in modern times brought' tobacco farmers and their wares into

While no estimate could be placed on the number of pounds placed on the floors of the warehouses this morning, tobacco men expressed the opinion that it was the biggest break on the local market in years. The warehouses were well filled with the leaf.

A feature of the opening of the market was the action of tobacco farmers in agreeing to allot a portion of their tobacco to be sold for the Red Cross. The Red Cross realized $84.34 from tobacco sales at the Banner warehouse this morning. Will Present Play Sunday.

Canteen Fund. The Durham ladies in charge of the Raleigh canteen fund are reporting new donations daily. Raising this fund is of State-wide interest as other towns are giving liberally. New Bern, however, is the first town to raise the alloted amount, $500. Durham, with its usual patriotic ardor, is endeavoring to reach the same notch. The last report shows a collection of $219 and $24.50 has been collected since, making a total of $248,50.

Spoke For War Stamp Drive. Milton W. Harrison, of the American Bankers' Association, addressed a mass meeting of men and women in the interest of the coming War Savings Stamp drive, to be waged in Durham county September 9 to 15, in the Superior court room of the court house tonight at eight o'clock. A very good sized crowd heard him.

Sunday School Class Entertained. Mrs. Minnie Carden was a charming hostess to the members of her Sunday school class (of Christian church) last vening from eight to eleven o'clock at her home on Shepherd street. Japanese lanterns were fetchingly hung on the lawn where many interesting games were played. The house was prettily decorated with garden flowers. Miss Vera Maynard delighted all with piano selections. A watermelon slicing on the lawn was greatly enjoyed by all.

A Surprise Party.
A complete surprise to Mr. Bruce Cameron was the party given by his sis ters, Misses Margaret, Viola and Rebeeca Cameron, last evening at 9 o'clock at the Cameron's home on Mangum street, in honor of Mr. Cameron's 17th

The honoree came home about 9:15 and found the whole house dark. As he entered each room the lights were turned on and he was greeted by his friends. Good wishes were expressed by all and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent. Several interesting games were played, among them being a Roman numeral contest in which Miss Carrie Belvin won the prize,-a friendship book. A delicious iced course was served by the three sisters. Garden flowers were prettily used in decoration.

The remains of Mr. Zachariah Hampton, for years one of the most prominent citizens of Durham county, who died in Hendersonville yesterday morning, were brought to Durham this morning, and will be interred in the Hampton family burying ground, in the county, tomorrow afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted at the old Hampton home, about 20 miles from the city, Thursday afternoon at two

Mr. Hampton made his home in Durham until about four years ago, when he went to Hendersonville to engage in the hosiery mill business, being con-nected with his son-in-law, Mr. W. W.

Ho was 78 years of age, and practically all of his life was spent in Durham county. He was a leader in all public matters, and served a number of terms on the board of county commissioners. He was a man of deep religious convictions, and took an active part in all religious matters of the

"Hold Our Own And Not Let Ourselves Be Vanguished," He Says

(By The Associated Press.)

Amsterdam, Sept. 4 .- The German dea of victory as defined by the Crown Prince in an interview published in the Budapest Az Est is an intention to 'hold our own and not let ourselves be vanquished." The Crown Prince is quoted as saying that this was clear to him the moment England entered the war. The Crown Prince denied that he was

"fire eater," and continued: "If Germany had wanted war we would not have chosen this moment. No moment could have been more unfavorable for Germany.

In reply to the question as to how he thought the end of the war would come, he replied:

"Through the enemy perceiving the colossal stake which they are not equal to winning, and that they cannot win as much as they are bound to lose." In discussing the present operations on the western front, the Crown Prince

"The enemy attacks and the withdrawal on our front at several places is often wrongly interpreted in some circles. Some of our people are too accustomed to a continuous advance. and when a battle occurs wherein the enemy makes attacks and we have to defend ourselves, the situation is not always correctly understood. In judging the situation, both military and political, we must never forget one thing-that we are waging a war of The war is one of annihilation only for the enemy, not for us. We want to annihilate none of our enemies. We mean, however, to hold

Regarding the American forces in France, the Crown Prince said: "I've found that the majority don't know what they are fighting for, but we feel, of course, the effect of the entry of the Americans. They have sent over very much material and now are sending very much human mate

"We speak openly of victory," the Crown Prince added. "The word victory must not be understood to mean that we want to annihilate the enemy, but only that we mean to hold our own and not let ourselves be vanquished. The moment England entered the war that was clear to me, and I always emphasized it."

When the interviewer remarked that the Crown Prince was considered abroad as a "fire enter," he answered: "I am aware of these accusations,

De I need to say that not a word of them is truef"

Reverting to the question of what nation wanted the war, he declared that "it was clear that England would take advantage of the opportunity.'
