Paris, Feb. 17.—Under the caption, "Let us be just to America," Deputy Maurice Damour makes in LeJournal a strong protest against "the nationalism, as exasperating as it is ridiculous, of certain of my fellow countrymen, which if allowed to go unchecked is likely to aleniate our most devoted and most trusty friends. "There are," he continues, "French

Long, of Montgomery, Would Prepare Way For Counties To Stop Loafing

SENATE BALKS ON GAME COMMISSION

Many Measures Sent Through Legislative Mill During Short Session Yesterday

No gaps are left open in a vagrancy bill introduced in the Senate yesterday by, Senator N. V. Long, of Montgomery, by which an idle person can escape the penalties of the present statute, if the police authorities enforce it. The bill as effectually covers the situation as does a certain wire reputed to be "pig tight, bull strong and horse high." While a lot was being said about necessary laws for the protection of health, the education of children, the buildings of roads, nobody had broached the question that reached such an acute stage last year that many public spirited citizens advocated a special ession of the Legislature to pass a statute that would meet the situation.

Game Law Starts Talk. Senator Long's bill wasn't the only important thing that came up in the Senate during the hour and a half that it was in session yesterday afternoon. Senator Brock's bill providing for a State game commission, a State game warden and county, wardens, and placing the enforcement of the State game laws was about to go through without any discussion until somebody woke up to its import. When some of its revolutionary features, such as the requiring of a license to hunt off one's own land, were read to the Senators, they wanted to study about it some more and it went over until today. The bill is all inclusive and yet Senator Lovill was afraid it didn't include protection for the deer in Watauga. Many State-Wide Bills.

Other State-wide bills passed included one to double the fees for stock running at large; another to require a uniform licease tax on all building and loan associations in the State; another

BONDSMAN TURNS OVER DEFENDANT

Progress of Trial of Men Charged With Being Implicated in Winston Riot

(Special to the News and Observer.) Winston-Salem, Feb. 17,-The trial of the Winston-Salem riot cases was resumed in Surry Superior Court at Dobson this morning. It was announced that Solicitor Graves had decided to take a not pros in the case of None Myers, one of the defendants who failed to appear for trial last week and who was called out and capias issued against his bondsmen, it appearing from the court records that he was under a bond of $3,500 to appear for trial. It developed that it had been decided not to continue the prosecution of Myers, it being held by the prosecution of election and, much fo the surprise of House lenders after it was over, the that the evidence against him was not sufficient to secure a conviction. The bondsmen for Arthur Manly, one of the defendants, have surrendered him to the sheriff and he is now in the custody of that officer. This action was the result of the damaging evidence which developed last week against Manly, Castevens, Fields and Mabe. Several of the defendants and character witnesses for them were examined today. The defendants put up the plea that they were in no wise responsible for the riot, merely being spectators. After all of the evidence for the defendants is submitted, the State will put on witnesses to rebut that given in behalf of the men under indictment. It is thought now that the trials will not be concluded before Thursday.

(ISER COMES BACK AND GAINS VICTORY

More Money For Pensions and Larger Subsistence Allowance To Prisoners

Back from the Republican convention in Greensboro where, on Saturday, they ussed the Democratic election law and its administration to their hearts' content, the minority members of the House lined up yesterday against a bill to raise the pay of judges and registrars House followed them in sending the bill to the legislative scrap heap. The measure originated in the Senate and came up in the House yesterday on second reading. It proposed to increase the per diem of judges and registrars of election from $1 to $3 per day, although in some counties they have been receiving as much as $2.00. Williams, minority leader, locked askance at such a proposal and stood in awe of any bill to treble the costs of the bi-ennial balloting. While he was talking, Representa-tive David L. Boyd, of Haywood, was drawing an amendment to make the pay $2.00 uniformly and the House adopted the amendment by a large vote. Then Mr. Grier moved that it lie upon the table and it was so.

Just why the amendment should have been adopted puzzied several members of the House after a little reflection. The House was paying scant attention when the bill came up, for one reason, and another was that several Democratic members were out of the ball. It was indicated yesterday that another hill would be introduced today or the vote by which the measure failed to pass

The House, however, didn't look with much favor upon increasing anything but the pay of Candidate Clayton's drainage commissioners, raising them from $3.00 to $5.00 per day. It offered a mild protest to a bill originating in the Senate that would allow the State

CHANCE YET OPEN FOR 30TH PARADE IN RALEIGH

War Department Tells Overman It's Possible If Troops Land in N. Y. or Va.

News and Observer Bureau.

By S. R. WINTERS.
(By Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Feb. 17.—Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass has preslegislation about to be enacted to authorize the next issue of Victory Liberty Loan Bonds, a provision amending the War Finance Corporation act so as to authorize the War Finance Corporation, in order to promote commerce with foreign nations through the extension of credits, to lend money for periods not exceeding five years to any person, firm, corporation of associa-

raw materials, agricultural products mounties to foreign countries, or to make such advances to any bank, bank, er or trust company conducting busi-ness in the United States which shall have made such advances to any such person, firm, corporation or association for the purpose of promoting and stimulating exports of such materials and commodities; the advances to be made to be limited in the aggregate to 81, billion. The purpose of this legislation is to promote the sale of our products and manufactures to foreign countries. At the present time Great Britain, France and most of the other countries of En-"ope, and many of the countries of South America, are unable to purchase our surplus products for the that they are unable to export further gold, and also for the reason that exhange between those countries and the United States is at such a discount that export business cannot profitably be

Recently these foreign countries have erented a practical embargo against the contracting of debts by their citizens and business concerns in the United States which would require the expor-tation of gold. It will be practically impossible for the business concerns of the United States to obtain their share of the foreign trade at the present time unless credits are established in the manner proposed, or in some other entis-factory way. Those who have studied the question say that the enactment of this legislation would have a very beneficial effect at the present time on all the commodities produced or manufactured in the U. S. and practically cotton, copper,

The people of North Carolina and the South are particularly interested it this legislation because of its beneficial effect upon cotton exports. It may be noted that the present time there is not substantial exportation of cetton, and something must be done to restore cotton exports to normal since the cessation of the war.

A. W. McLean, of Lumberton, is a member of the war finance corporation and his efforts will be instrumental in shaping this constructive undertaking Chance For 30th Parade Yet.

Major General Henry Jerrey of the War Department today informed Sen-ator Lee S. Overman that if the North Carolina troops of the Thirtieth Division landed at New York or Newport News, Virginia, that it would be practicable to route them to Raleigh on their way to demobilization camps and thus afford them an opportunity to stop over in the North Carolina Capital for a parade and reception.

However, if the North Carolina troops land at Charleston, S. C., it will be im-practicable for them to visit Raleigh before being mustered out of the service. The expensiveness of relaying the soldiers by train would render the plan impracticable. For the North-Carolina troops to visit Charlotte, at any event, is not feasible according to General Jervey. Camp - Greene has already been abandoned. That the soldiers will visit Raleigh is only a remote possibility. General Jervey states that the present plans of the war department are to have the Thirtieth Division land at Charleston, S. C., and be sent to Camp Jackson for the period of disinfection. This plan does not contemplate the landing of the North Carolina troops at Newport News or New York.

All of which auguers the futility of the efforts of the collective strength of the Tar Heel delegation to see Secretary of War Newton D. Baker tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in behalf of landing the troops at Camp Greene and parading through Raleigh.
