

RECEPTIONS GIVEN YORK AND READ

Army and Navy-Aviation Heroes Lined at M. E. Exposition's Closing Day

PRESENTED WITH MEDALS STRUCK IN THEIR HONOR

York, Pa. Assemblage He Believes in 'Continual Prayer' and That Without God's Help, Allies Would Not Have Won; Rural and Grange Day Celebrated at Columbus

(By the Associated Press.)

Columbus, Ohio, July 12.—Sergt. Alvin C. York, the great war hero, and Lieut. Com. A. C. Read, of the N.C., were the idolized favorites at the Methodist Centenary Exposition today.

Separate receptions were accorded the heroes in the Coliseum, which was crowded to the doors. Sergeant York, in a brief response to his introduction, said:

"I wish I could make a fine speech to you, but I am not a speaker. I'm just a plain mountain boy from Tennessee. All I have to say about the war in France is in honor of God, for without His help we would not have won."

Sergeant York is deeply religious and this fact was brought out in the few words he said to the assembled thousands today.

"I live and practice a full salvation," he said, "and I believe in continual prayer. While I was in France I prayed continually to God that I might come home without a scratch from the Germans, and I did."

Lieutenant Commander Read in response to his introduction commented on the lack of enthusiasm over flying in this country as compared with that manifested in England and France. He modestly stated that the entire Navy Department deserved credit for the success of its venture in crossing the Atlantic.

Meat For First Time.

Three thousand York and Read meat cans were for the first time at a luncheon tendered them by the Centenary officials. After a tour of the exposition, exhibits the men were presented with medals struck in their honor. During the day thousands pressed forward frantically to shake hands with the heroes who were protected from the anxious crowds by a guard of soldiers from the Columbus barracks.

Rural day and Grange day were celebrated today by a series of important addresses, speakers including L. J. Talbot, of the Ohio Grange; Chas. A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organizations, President W. O. Thompson, of Ohio State University; Miles Campbell, president of the National Milk Producers Association and Prof. G. W. Dyer, of Vanderbilt University.

Today Centenary Day. Tomorrow the closing day of the exposition will be consecration day. An old-fashioned Methodist "love feast" will be held in the morning and consecration services in the afternoon.

weakness both of omission and commission, provisions inserted which have been left out, and provisions left out which might better have been inserted.

"Such a document must, however, be examined both against the background of its creation and in the large sweep of its spirit. From that point of view we may call it a stepping stone from the old international methods to the new. If it still holds some of the distasteful and hateful of the war which Germany has full well earned for herself, if its construction has been hindered by memories of secret pacts and promises, it must be borne in mind that it carries with it the evident purpose to throw off the old methods of international intrigue and plotting.

"It remains to execute them." "But the present treaties are but the starting point of world reconstruction. Now that the general principles have been laid down it remains to execute them. And by that I mean, not so much retributive action against nations which have recently run amuck in the world, but rather the healing and cleaning processes that shall really make good our hopes and aspirations.

"Undoubtedly there is a great danger in the world today. Many people have thought that the mere signing of the treaty with Germany marks the ending of the world peril. Public opinion seems to have breathed a sigh of relief and lapsed back into apathy. Concentration of thought on local problems is weakening now when it is most essential, and the forces of disintegration and reaction have been given a freedom of action far greater than when the world was on its guard.

"Situation Today is Serious. Western civilization is still dazed by the shock of four and a half years of destruction. Industry and commerce are not yet restored. All of Europe is impoverished; parts of it are starving. The whole political fabric has been shored up by unwise and hasty decisions; Austria-Hungary and Turkey are crumbling; Poland and Czechoslovakia are struggling to their feet as members of the family of nations. All this complicated machinery of society which took decades to elaborate and a world war to tear down, cannot be replaced overnight by a wholly different machinery.

"Many Problems Remain Unsolved. International adjustments to secure the rights of people to live under their own flag or for as possible in the tangled skein of European nationalities may be made effective. Attainment of the Polish frontier on all sides, particularly in view of the very difficult. The Trench and fields are still a source of contention between Poland and Czechoslovakia; Hungary is interrupting the trade of all Central Europe. The Adriatic problem is still unsolved, as well as the fate of those large territories formerly under the Turk, including especially Asia Minor and Armenia.

Cooperation of Nations Necessary. "World citizenship will be sorely tried in the next few years. Two things are essential, first, an alert, intelligent, interested public opinion, and, second, cooperation of the nations. The former is needed both as a check on any sinister purposes that may crop up and as the great support for common action. The second is essential, unless the nations are to return to a selfish particularism which can only breed the most dangerous disputes.

"The peace conference has been history's greatest instance of a united world statesmanship, directing the moral and material resources of the world's family of nations. To allow the spirit behind it to disintegrate at this moment of emergency, when united action is imperative, would be fatal to all the hopes of permanent peace which we entered the war.

"It is true that one nation can destroy the equilibrium of all, it is all the more true that each nation is bound by its own law of self preservation to cooperate with the others to check ironies before they get their headway.

"Pleased, But Not Complacent." "So, I leave for home tonight, pleased but not over complacent with the outcome of the past six months, and hopeful, but not in the least unmindful of the problems of the next few years."

demands they should come to some agreement about what they want him to do. They should agree whether they want him to desist from further advising with them as suggested by Senator Lodge or attend their daily meetings and show them the way.

Democrats Want Offer Accepted. Democratic Senators express the hope that the President's offer to appear before the committee to tell all he knows about the treaty will be accepted, for they believe that President Wilson's knowledge of the Peace Conference performance and his views on all points pertaining to the treaty would be of inestimable value to the committee. They believe he could aid them in reaching a speedy conclusion in behalf of ratification.

Progress of Demobilization.

Washington, July 12.—Demobilization is proceeding at a rate of more than 10,000 men per day and the total should pass the 3,000,000 mark by or before July 16.

A War Department report today showed 2,847,696 officers and men discharged, with some camps yet to be heard from.

Enlistments have begun to show the impetus of the department's advertising campaign. The total is now 75,000, returns from July 5 to 12 having been more than 20,000.

Army Dirigible Circled Washington.

Washington, July 12.—Starting out from Akron, Ohio, last night, the army dirigible A-1, flying against strong head winds, circled here this morning, circled over the city and then proceeded to Langley Field, Va., arriving there late today. Reports to aviation headquarters here said the dirigible covered the distance of 407 miles in 18 hours flying time, at an average speed of a little more than 21 miles an hour.

SUCCESSFUL TRIP BY REVENUE MEN

Five Alleged Blockaders Arrested During Raids in Four Counties

Returning from a week's raiding trip in Bertie, Nash, Wilson and Edgecombe counties, revenue officers yesterday reported to Collector Bailey the destruction of five complete illicit stills, about 1,400 gallons of beer, numerous fermenters and other still equipment and the arrest of five alleged blockaders. The raiding party was composed of Revenue Officers E. G. Richardson, N. E. Raines and J. A. Hutchins. They started out from Raleigh last Monday and returned early yesterday morning. The trip carried them in all kinds of land, from swamps and marshes to dense wooded sections.

The largest still was captured about five miles from Elm City, near the home of June Reynor, a white man, who was arrested. About 800 gallons of beer was destroyed at the two plants. One still was of 20-gallon capacity, while the other was of 30-gallon variety.

Near Nashville the officers found a small still hidden near the home of Joe Brantley. A quantity of beer was found in Brantley's yard. He was arrested.

The visit to Bertie county resulted in the capture of a still and arrest of Alfred Spivey in the village of Woodville. The still, according to officers, was operated in Spivey's house.

A complete old government still was captured near the home of Henry Priddy, about four miles from Spring Hope. About 400 gallons of beer was also found there.

SOCIAL WORK TO BE SUBJECT OF STUDY

Conference at State University This Week Will Be Largely Attended

Chapel Hill, July 12.—Social workers from all over the State began to arrive in Chapel Hill tonight for the Social Work Conference, which opens here tomorrow morning for an eight day session. At the opening meeting tomorrow morning in the Methodist Church, Rev. L. B. Hayes, of Franklin, who is chairman of the conference, will talk on the subject of "Our Southern Church Problems." There will be an illustrated lecture Sunday night on "The Salvage of Waste Humanity."

Church workers, Y. M. C. A. and W. C. A. leaders, Red Cross organizers, representatives of the State and National health services, educators, and social welfare workers will participate in the conference. Many representatives from the State Board of Health will be here. The program provides speakers who are leaders in the many welfare organizations of the community and State.

The second teachers' institute for high school teachers and principals, supervisors and superintendents, also begins the coming week and continues until July 25. A number of teachers from the secondary schools and superintendents will be here for this special work. The lecturers before the institute, in addition to the regular summer faculty here, are Dr. Henry Jackson, of the U. S. Bureau of Education, and Prof. L. L. Friend, high school inspector in the State of West Virginia. During the past week State Superintendent E. C. Brooks has addressed the teachers, and Dr. Alexander Johnson, of the Home Service of the Red Cross, Southern Division, has spoken on "The Good Neighbor in Peace and War" and "The Origin and Development of Public Relief." Dr. Eva M. Hinks, of the National Y. W. C. A., New York, will make several talks to the women students during the coming week on problems of social morality. She will also give one general lecture.

the post office at that place are resigning on account of inadequate compensation. Two clerks, it was said, resigned today and the department sent two inspectors to that city to make an investigation of the cause and to see if satisfactory adjustment could be made.

It was candidly admitted at the Post Office Department that the reason the clerks would not remain in the postal service was because they could earn more money in the service of private enterprise. One of the clerks, who had previously left the post office, was found employed in a butcher shop cutting meat at $150 per month. It is admitted that the service will be greatly handicapped if something is not speedily done to meet the condition.

BROTHERS OF BELL MAY COME TO HIS ASSISTANCE

Headerson, July 12.—B. B. Bell, clerk of superior court in Currituck county and C. R. Bell, merchant, both of Shawboro, brothers of former Sheriff J. E. C. Bell, were here this week to make inquiries regarding the reported shortage of $45,000. After the visit of the two men it was learned that friends of Bell, whether he returns or not, are talking of undertaking to make up the amount of money necessary to liquidate the accounts with the county. There are many here who believe that Bell will return on his own initiative to make good the missing funds while others believe that he is gone for good. It was reported this week that he was in Canada. However, there seems to be no definite information as to his whereabouts.

The Scissors Test

Take a sample piece of tube 1/4 in. by 3 in. Stretch to 9 in. or three times its original length. Cut on the edge with scissors. The cut should not be more than 1/8 in. across the sample. If the strip tears apart the rubber is inferior.

Stretched, as in the tire, good tubes do not slip when cut. They cut but do not rip.

Norwalk Tubes do not rip

Neither blow-out nor puncture can destroy Norwalk Tubes. The unavoidable cut remains a cut—it does not rip and destroy the tube. The scissors test proves this before you buy.

Norwalk Tubes are floating stock. Norwalk rubber floats. Compound rubber sinks. Your pencil eraser is compounded. Test its weakness.

Norwalk Tubes, red and gray, set a new standard—the standard of absolute quality. File away a dated sample of Norwalk Tube and others and compare them at the end of a year.

Norwalk Casings are as good as Norwalk Tubes.
