

FOUR CANDIDATES SUM TOTAL OF WEEK

Report From Goldsboro That Major Matt Allen Will Run For Congress

ABERNETHY SAYS HE HOPES REPORT IS TRUE

Messrs. Morrison, Gardner, Stubbs and Abernethy Visit Capital City and Talk Things Over; Members of Senate Say Brown Will Run For Commissioner Agriculture

Two candidates for Governor, one for Lieutenant Governor, and one for Congress is the sum total of aspirants visiting the Capital City this week.

In order came Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, here Wednesday; Harry W. Stubbs, of Williamson, here Wednesday and Thursday; O. Max Gardner, here Thursday and Friday, and Charles Lahan Abernethy, of New Bern, here Friday. On the heels of this quartette comes a piece of news, relayed through Goldsboro, that Major Matt H. Allen upon his return from France will get into the Congressional scrap in the Third. Mr. Abernethy had not been apprised of this report last night.

Both the candidates for Governor were expressing themselves fully satisfied with the situation up until the present time. Mr. Morrison declares that his friends are mobilizing to a man and are going to put him across in grand style. Mr. Gardner believes that he has the staunchest supporters in the country and that they are backing him until the last ballot is counted next June.

New Third District Name.

Capital City politicians attach one hundred per cent plausibility and half as much possibility to the story coming from Goldsboro that Major Matt Allen is going to run for Congress next time against Abernethy and Brinson. Major Allen has been in France just a little bit longer than a great many North Carolina soldiers and the report is that he is anxious to get back and get in touch with Tar Heel affairs, particularly affairs concerned with the job of representing nine Eastern Carolina counties in the National House of Representatives.

Mr. Abernethy, passing through Raleigh yesterday on his way to Washington, hopes the report is correct. He would, he said last night, be glad to see Major Allen in the race. He avows that he has more friends ready to pick up the trail where he left it last October than he did when he stopped at the request of the National Committee.

Senator Harry Stubbs, heading the Williamson delegation that appeared before the Highways Commission, also "declares" that he feels called upon to make the race for Lieutenant Governor this time irrespective of whether Frank Hampton, Senator Simmons' secretary, runs or not. Mr. Stubbs says that he doesn't want to enter the contest against Mr. Hampton but intends to be a candidate whether or why. W. N. Everett, of Rockingham, has positively declared himself out of the race and so has F. C. Harding, of Greenville, but Senator Cooper, now scouting in the Azores, will be a candidate just as certain as there is a primary.

Brown's Friends Are Talking.

Members of the Senate coming to Raleigh are assured that Senator Joseph A. Brown, of Columbus, will be a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture to succeed Major Graham. Colleagues of the Columbus Senator have approached him with the request that he make a positive announcement at an early date and this, they feel assured, will be forthcoming in a short while.

EARLY INSPECTION HOTELS OF STATE

Many Complaints Reaching Health Board, Particularly About Health Resorts

Representatives of the State Board of Health under instructions from the State health officer, will, in the next few days, begin a tour of inspection of the various resort hotels in the State. At the height of the vacation season numerous complaints are reaching the State health authorities of insanitary conditions existing in many of the resort hotels, and an investigation is ordered.

Discussing the condition Dr. W. E. Rankin, State health officer, yesterday said:

"From complaints being received it is evident that a number of the hotels at resort points are being so operated as to be dangerous to the health of large numbers of people spending their vacations in them. One complaint came by long distance telephone, and many others in person and by letter.

"There are two things that can be done about the situation. One is to make an inspection and when a hotel is found below standard established as safe for the health of its patrons to hale the proprietor into a magistrate's court and exact the penalty provided by law, a fine of five or ten dollars. The other thing is to turn the light of publicity upon such a case.

"The latter will be done. The inspections of all resort hotels to be made within the next few days will be thorough. The hotels will be rigidly scored, and the results will be made known to all the people of the State through the newspapers."

Here is a sample of the complaints received recently. It is from one of the best physicians in the State, and with regard to a very popular North Carolina resort:

"The breeze and surf is fine. The hotel and its management needs your inspection, and that badly. If you have any authority over hotels you certainly should inspect this joint's kitchen. The dining room and waiters are bad enough; I do not want to see into the kitchen; but somebody ought to. You would be rendering humanity a great service if you could condemn this place."

PUBLIC MAY BUY UTILITIES STOCK

Carolina Power and Light Co. Inaugurates New Feature of Financial Policy

The Carolina Power and Light Company has announced an offering of its 7 per cent preferred stock at par and accrued dividend to its consumers and to the public in each community where the company operates. This is the first offering of this nature which has been made by the company to the public generally. Colonel Charles E. Johnson, president of the company, has issued the following statement regarding the object of the company in this departure from its customary practice.

"The purpose of this offering of our preferred stock to the public generally and especially to our customers, is in order to establish partnership relations between the company, its consumers, and such other citizens of the communities in which the company operates as may desire to invest in securities of the company. The company feels that by establishing such partnership relations with its consumers and other citizens that this will promote the interest of the public generally in the utility which serves it, and will assist in promoting cordial relations between the company and the public. The company also feels that its offering will prove very attractive to those who desire a safe investment with a substantial return as the stock is preferred both as to assets and dividends and cumulative. The annual dividend of 7 per cent (1 3-4 payable quarterly), has been paid regularly since the organization of the company. It is the desire of the company to have the stock as largely distributed as possible, and for this reason it is being offered either for cash or on a partial payment plan which will put it within the reach of everyone.

The business of the company has grown very rapidly during the past few years and the territory which it serves has been largely extended. Such expansion and extensions are continually under way and the necessary new capital for same is provided largely through the sale of stock and all proceeds from such sales are used for additions to plants, lines and equipment.

"The company does not anticipate, and it is not its desire, to raise any large amount of capital through the offering of its stock locally, but it wishes to have each of its consumers become a stockholder and such other members of the public who may desire to do so, thus becoming interested in the affairs of the company. This plan has been adopted quite generally in recent years by companies desiring to establish and promote more cordial relations with the communities served.

"The company had planned a similar offering at the outbreak of the war but deferred making the offering at that time as it did not wish to offer its securities in competition in any way with the Liberty Loans."

The company has described its offering and the purposes of same in a circular which is being mailed to its patrons, and applications for subscriptions are being received through employees of the company.

PROPERTY IS SOLD BY PULLEN CHURCH

Land Left Church By Late John Pullen; 11 Transfers Recorded Friday

In carrying out plans for building a handsome church on another site, the trustees of Pullen Memorial Baptist Church have sold two pieces of property willed the church by the late John T. Pullen.

The property was bequeathed to the church upon condition that it could be sold only when the congregation decided to build another church on a new site. Some time ago it was announced that the newly organized congregation of Pullen Memorial Church would, in the near future, build a handsome church in Cameron Park.

The property deeded yesterday embraces two houses and lots on North Blount street. One house near the intersection of Blount and Franklin streets was sold by E. V. Denton for $2,100. Another house located on Blount and Pine streets was transferred to A. J. Honeycutt for $3,000.

Among the real estate deals consummated yesterday was the transfer of 283 acres of farm land in different sections of Wake county.

The largest tract sold is a 256-acre farm in Swift Creek township which was transferred to E. L. Upchurch and others to B. F. Upchurch. The price was not stated.

A farm of 64 acres in Swift Creek township near Fuquay Springs was sold by Albert F. Lawrence to Winston E. Irving and J. C. Lawrence for $1,500.

J. R. Raines purchased a tract of 50 acres on the Raleigh Wake Forest highway in Wake Forest township from the Raleigh Real Estate and Trust Company for $100 and other considerations.

Including the two transfers from the Pullen Memorial Church, five other Raleigh tracts of Raleigh property were transferred yesterday. Among the deeds recorded was also a piece of property in Zebulon which the Zebulon Hosiery Mills bought from A. H. Martin for $10 and other considerations.

The Pilot Cotton Mills has purchased two houses on North Blount street near the mill village. One is located on Blount and Franklin streets and was bought from Fred W. Habel and wife. The other is on Blount and Pine streets and was bought from A. J. Honeycutt.

A house and lot on Boylan avenue and West Lane street was sold by James W. Holman and J. R. Rogers to W. G. Goodwin.

The Raleigh Real Estate and Trust Company has sold a lot in Raleigh township near Bloomsbury to J. R. Holder for $100 and other considerations.

The Enterprise Realty Company sold four acres of the "Lewis Farm" property to T. B. Moseley.

TO FORM LOCAL POST OF AMERICAN LEGION

Soldiers and Sailors Called To Meet Monday Evening in Chamber Rooms

A meeting of the returned soldiers and sailors of Raleigh and Wake county has been called for Monday night at 8:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The purpose of the meeting is to organize permanently a local post of the American Legion.

About two months ago a temporary organization was formed but permanent organization was delayed until after the national meeting at St. Louis, when details of the legion were completed.

At the meeting Monday night officers are to be elected and a name selected for the Raleigh post. In many of the cities the local posts have been named for prominent citizens who gave their lives during the world war.

JAMES WHITAKER HELD UNDER $1,000 BOND

Prominent Wake Farmer Is Charged With Retailing and Concealing Whiskey

Waiving examination at a hearing before Commissioner Batchelor, James L. Whitaker, a well known Wake county farmer, yesterday was bound over to Federal court under $1,000 bond for trial on a charge of retailing, concealing and removing blockade whiskey.

Whitaker was arrested about a week ago at his country home about six miles from Raleigh after federal and county officers waited several hours for him. When the officers reached the house, he was absent on a trip to Raleigh. A search of the place, however, revealed a quantity of blockade whiskey, a large number of empty jugs and bottles and measuring pots.

During the absence of the defendant from his home on the night of the arrest, the officers saw a number of people visit the Whitaker place. Some were on foot and others were in autos.

"AMERICAN" COMPANY ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

C. E. Boone Is President and E. A. Womble Managing Director New Daily

Organization of the Raleigh American Company, the new corporation recently chartered to publish an afternoon daily in Raleigh, was perfected at a meeting of the stockholders yesterday afternoon. C. E. Boone was elected president of the company; George L. H. White, vice president, and Edgar A. Womble, secretary-treasurer and managing editor.

In addition to the officers named, J. P. Beaves was elected a member of the board of directors. It is the purpose of the company to have a directorate of seven members, the other three to be chosen after all stock has been disposed of. So far about two-thirds of the authorized capital has been sold.

The managing director could not state yesterday at just what time the American would begin publication in Raleigh, the date being contingent on the receipt of machinery.

SPECIAL BEQUESTS BY MRS. WILLIAMSON

Raleigh Woman Leaves $1,000 To Christ Church and $10,000 To Orphanage

The Thompson Orphanage at Charlotte and Christ Church of this city are among the many beneficiaries of the late Mrs. Sadie Tucker Williamson, wife of Mr. William H. Williamson, who willed the majority of her property to her husband and two children. The orphanage is given $10,000 and Christ church gets $1,000. Mrs. Williamson died May 18 at her residence, 720 Hillsboro street.

The special bequests of Mrs. Williamson are as follows:

Thompson Orphanage, $10,000; Christ church, $1,000; Mrs. Annie Y. Perkins, Monroe, Va., $1,000; Miss Margaret Spencer, Martinville, Va., $300; Miss Flora E. Creech, Raleigh, $250; Sarah Williamson Norris, Raleigh, $300; Miss Augusta W. Landis, Washington City, $300; Miss Virginia Barber, Raleigh, formerly a housekeeper in her mother's family, $100; Bert Moran (colored), a faithful employe, $100; Sally Boyd Perry, a faithful nurse, $50; Mrs. Kinsey Boylan Thompson, a niece, $100; Mrs. Ella M. Wright, a cousin, $100; Miss Frederika M. Sundholm, a faithful nurse who was with her when she died, $100. The last three bequests were verbal ones.

To her husband, Mrs. Williamson gives her winter home at Deland, Fla., and also all the furniture and personal effects in the Florida and Raleigh homes.

After the special bequests are made in accordance with the will, the residue of the estate goes to the two children, William H., Jr., and Sarah Tucker Williamson. The children also get that part of Mrs. Williamson's estate which was left her in trust by her mother, the late Mrs. Florence P. Tucker. Mrs. Williamson had no power to will it as the Tucker will stipulated that it should go to the two children upon the death of Mrs. Williamson.

Go to Church

THERE ARE FOUR ACTS TO A CHURCH SERVICE

Preaching—Praying—Singing—Giving

The PREACHING is the preacher's part.

THE SINGING,
THE PRAYING,
THE GIVING
is the congregation's part.

If you pray, you will enjoy the preaching.

If there is joy in your heart, you will express that joy in singing and in giving.

If you give, you will be the richer thereby.

Remember these things when you go to church tomorrow.

If you go only from a sense of duty, you will derive little if any benefit from the services, then you will have wasted your time and God's time.
