

SOLDIER INDORSES POU'S BONUS BILL

Hugh Preston Smith Says Doughboys Have Richly Earned Proposed Increase

SIXTY DOLLAR BONUS DECLARED INADEQUATE

Compares Services Rendered By Men Who Went To France With Those of Men Who Stayed at Home and Got Bet- ter Pay For It; Dissatisfac- tion Exists

Hugh Preston Smith, formerly with Company D, 321st Infantry, Eighty-first Division, American Expeditionary Forces, has written the following letter to Representative E. W. POU, who recently introduced a bill for increased bonus for discharged soldiers, sailors and marines:

McCallers, North Carolina,
August 13, 1919.
Hon. Edward W. POU,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Congressman and Friend:
I am exceedingly proud of the fact that you have caught a true and unprecedented vision of the present situation of the private soldiers, sailors and marines of the World's War, who have been crowned with laurels of praise for the performance of duty in the fields of service, but who at this hour are stepping down and out of their bloody, dirty, muddy uniforms into "civies" empty-handed. I am thankful that North Carolina has a man sitting at the table of justice of the richest and wisest nation of the earth to intercede for her men, and for the nation's men. As you have stated before, "those fighting men found that the conflict was hell, their object being to make brief work of the nasty job and dictate terms of peace from the palace of the Kaiser."

I assure you every soldier, sailor and marine who served in the war without the rank of a commissioned officer has watched and waited with profound eagerness for the time to come when their own individual interest would be considered. The bill which you recently introduced in the House of Representatives authorizing the payment of $180 in addition to the $60 bonus already available to every qualified service man, has brought a glad hour to every such person. I confess to you I feel a sense of dissatisfaction over the present situation, and a spirit of unrest in the fact of not having received a square deal. There are thousands and thousands of others who feel the same way.

I want to relate a few facts to you and in so doing I believe I can voice the sentiment of those who paid the "price," and of those whom God spared out of the bloodiest conflict the world has ever known. The great armies of American soldiers that were sent to Europe did not go there to augment the power and resources of their nation, nor to gain by conquest nor for national aggrandizement. They went there to "live" and to fight for the most sparkling ideal of ages past, namely, democracy.

On and on they pursued for life, liberty, and happiness, defying the powers of autocracy to hinder their progress. Many die. The saddest sight I ever saw was the death of my own comrade who spilt his last drop of blood for his country during the night of September 22, 1918. But how sweet the thought that in giving up life we can do so in the performance of duty! The duty of those that survived through the conflict was performed equally as well. They filled the gaps, climbed the rugged heights and traversed the plains and valleys of "No Mans Land," plunged into the fateful Argonne, turned the Germans back at the Marne, triumphed at Chateau Thierry, and at last on November 11, 1918, rose up out of a "past hell" clad in garments of mud and blood in many instances. God put out His hand and led us to victory. We realized it.

Then a great change came. They brushed away the mud, took new courage, and began to think of home again. Feeling confident that besides the great welcome that would be their joy to share when they returned to the States that they would be well remunerated by our honored government authorizing payment of a reasonable bonus, so that life could be begun again where left off. Sixty dollars will not pay a soldier's clothing bill when he buys his civilian clothes. It is enough to discourage the truest type of American manhood, and I hope we can realize the need of the hour.

At the time of my enlistment a rivet driver in a shipyard in this country received as much compensation in one day as I did in a month. The plantation laborer of the South today receives an approximate wage of $2.50 or $3.00 per day, while a laboring private of Verdun or St. Mihiel drew $1.10 per day upon being demobilized. A few days ago I saw a grocerman of my own home city (Raleigh, N. C.), enjoying trade and accumulating wealth never dreamed of before the war. In the same city I know a prominent business man who at the present time has an increase of practically 50 per cent in his income since the close of the war. Railroad men previous to the war worked for 31 cents per hour. A strike came, their wages were increased to 68 cents per hour, and at this very hour they are clamoring for a still higher wage. Since I came from France a few days ago, I learned that wages everywhere had increased more than could hardly be realized. I challenge you or any member of Congress to tell me the feeling of a private soldier, who upon his return home from Europe saw the nation he had fought for and sacrificed for piling up riches unknown, and this great, rich government of ours handed him the magnificent sum of $60! The war workers at Washington, D. C., who had a place to shelter them at night, a bed to sleep on that was neither made of wood, stone or earth, and whose salaries were three times as much as the private soldier's, received a bonus of $240.

Think of the soldier's feelings in the matter when he returned from France and found the business he had begun before the war throttled by the hand of some one else. Consider his feelings when he found the position he held previous to his enlistment had been taken by some one else, while he was forced to be content with his $60. I know personally of one case where a soldier just back from France, a doughboy he was, went into a clothing store with his $60 bonus to purchase civilian clothes to take the place of his worn uniform and the prices of the things he had to have exceeded his bonus $3.00. How do you suppose men of college standing felt when they returned to the States realizing that the day of their education had passed; men who had given up their education to answer the call of their country? I gave up my own college training to answer that call during my junior year at Wake Forest College. I did it gladly. I did it with the determination to justify the ideal my country set me of a soldier and a man. But I am not content to stop my training for service to God and humanity, even if I am at sea wrestling with an ungrateful tide of circumstances.

"Get the meaning": Discharged almost empty-handed. There are thousands of men from overseas duty discharged in the atmosphere of admiration and lauded a $60 bonus. Can you comprehend the feeling of these men whose hope and ambition are as high as Heaven itself? Men who have not had time to "get set" so as to resume their places in the harness of American citizenship, out of which they were taken months ago and given the "snake" of responsibility as a soldier. I ask, what are you going to do for these men? Are they not entitled to your first consideration? Are you going to let the great army of American manhood lay down their guns and march home like they are doing and the riches of our sacred country remain idle or go to salaried men? Who "fills" the treasury of the government? The question needs no answer here.

As a doughboy who has seen active service "over there," I want to see our Congress wake up to its full duty, leave off "political" advantage, and before this extra session is over pass the bill you recently introduced in the House, authorizing the payment of $180 bonus in addition to the $60 bonus already available to every properly qualified service man. We appreciate what our government has done for us as private soldiers, sailors and marines. But there is a feeling of dissatisfaction over the deal handed down, and we ask for a more liberal consideration as men upon whom rested a great task.

LIFE OF A MILK BOTTLE

Statistics Show That Average Container Makes Seventeen Trips. Buffalo Express.

The average milk bottle makes only seventeen trips before it is broken or lost. For every consumer who has a quart of milk delivered at the door each day the dealer in the course of a year has to supply twenty new bottles. This is the report made by dairy experts of the Department of Agriculture, who have just completed an investigation of the waste of millions of milk bottles annually.

The investigation, conducted in eighty-six cities, shows that the average milk dealer buys 17,000 new bottles a month, which are largely, though not entirely, replacement stock.

In sixteen of the cities investigated more than 8,000,000 sound milk bottles are collected annually from the city dumps, the specialists report. In some cities the business carried on by junk dealers is one of the most serious sources of milk-bottle losses, they say. Not only do they sell the bottles to the dealers in the city, but often ship them to other towns. Most states have no laws restricting such traffic.

Only thirty-three cities had milk bottle exchanges or places where milk bottles from all sources are sorted out and returned to the owner, provided he is a member of the exchange. Nineteen states have regulations governing the use of milk bottles, the report concludes, and seventy-two cities

BISMARCKS WINE THIRST.

London Chronicle.

In his choice of drinks Bismarck displayed a somewhat unpatriotic spirit. Talking to Mr. John Booth in 1879, Bismarck confessed that when stationed at St. Petersburg he used to drink two bottles of champagne a day.

He estimated that, altogether he had drunk 5,000 bottles of champagne and smoked 100,000 cigars.

On another occasion Bismarck declared that beer "makes men stupid, lazy and useless. It is responsible for the democratic nonsense spouted over the tavern tables. A good rye whiskey is very much better."

BUSINESS WOMEN TO FORM LEAGUE

Will Meet In Senate Chamber Thursday Evening At Eight O'Clock

The business women of the city will meet in the Senate Chamber on Thursday evening at eight o'clock for the business of perfecting an organization, which will have for its object the betterment of woman's chances in the business field.

The State organization was perfected some time ago, and Miss Mary Palmer and Mrs. Alexander were selected to organize the club in this city. In Charlotte a most flourishing organization is an important factor with which to cope; in Asheville the retail clerks have a separate organization, yet the members belong to the larger body as well as the retail clerks. Raleigh employs some 250 women in business, there are several professional women, many proprietors of successful businesses, and from this group of thinking women it is hoped that much wisdom and executive ability may be secured, which later may be used to the good of all concerned. It is urged that all be present and lend moral support to making Raleigh Business Women's League the biggest and best in the State.

URCHIN DISCOVERS CAUSE OF GRANDPA'S WRINKLES.

Indianapolis News.

Teddy hated to wash his face more than once a day. Just as vehemently he liked to use the hose to sprinkle the flowers. Father had to remonstrate with him for oversprinkling his flowers. "You'll make them wilt if you sprinkle them at any time except in the morning," he told him.

A few days later mother was trying to persuade him to wash his face for lunch. Then grandmother tried to use her influence. "Why, I always wash my face before lunch," she told him.

Then Teddy looked at grandma's wrinkles and remembered the flowers. "Yes, and just see how wilted it is," he retorted.
