

COUNTY AGENTS TO MEET HERE TODAY

Will Start Annual Session of Three Days in Patterson Hall, State College

DR. PERCY AHRONS WILL BE THE OPENING SPEAKER

Public Health Service Man Will Address Agents on Rural Sanitation; This Conference Is Second in Series of Three Extending Over Two Weeks Time

This week and next, as far as the State Agricultural Extension Service is concerned, are weeks of conferences. Today, the boy club workers of the State go home after three days of life at the State College, and concurrently, the county agents begin their annual conference.

The county agents will hold down the conference field through next Tuesday. On Wednesday, the farmers' conference starts, and finishes out the week. Sessions of the latter will be open to the public while the county agents will work more in private.

All sessions of the county agents' conference will be held on the second floor of Patterson Hall, unless the delegates are otherwise notified. Sessions will be held mornings and afternoons, evenings being left free for recreation.

The First Day.

Dr. Percy Ahrons, of the Public Health Service, will deliver the first address on the meeting on the subject of "Rural Sanitation." The remainder of the morning will be devoted to a practical demonstration of a farm lighting system and after luncheon, the agents in charge of the different districts will hold district conferences.

These will be under the supervision of District Agents E. S. Millaps, T. D. McLean, J. M. Gray, O. F. McCrary and N. B. Stevens. Mr. C. R. Hudson, State agent, will preside over the joint meetings.

Among the visitors to the county agents' meeting and farmers' convention, is Mr. T. J. W. Broom, of Union county. Mr. Broom is the man who went to Ohio recently and bought about two and one-half carloads of pure bred Jersey cattle for the farmers of his county, who wanted to improve their stock and get more returns in the way of milk and butter for the same amount of feed given.

Mr. Broom, however, wasn't impressed with Ohio in comparison with his native State. In fact he found that North Carolina could grow anything that Ohio was growing at that time with the exception that North Carolina could grow it more easily, more abundantly, and earlier in the season.

He found, however, that Ohio was growing more livestock and that her farmers seemed more prosperous as a consequence and so he came back to Union county with a progressive message for his people that has taken root in their minds and is now rapidly growing into something splendid for the county. More pastures are being put in, more attention being given to hay and soil improving crops. In time, thinks Mr. Broom, his county will be one of the leading livestock sections of the State and then he wants to invite some Buckeye residents down and show them a real, truly great, farming section.

STATE CLUB BOYS GOING HOME TODAY

Fifth Annual Short Session of Extension Club Workers Comes To End

With last night's exercises in Pullen Hall, the fifth annual short course for club boys came to an official end. Today at 9 o'clock begins the county agent conference lasting until Wednesday of next week, at which time the agents adjourn to take part in the exercises of the farmers' convention.

The feature of the club meetings yesterday was the regular lesson and demonstration work was the writing of essays by the members about the value of the course in which they were requested to stress those things in which they were the most interested.

The announcement was also made yesterday that Perquimans county had won the Riddick Trophy Cup, awarded to the county sending the most boys the longest distance. Seven boys under the supervision of County Agent L. W. Anderson made the trip, and though Mr. Anderson had only a small number of boys with him, they came over 172 miles to take part in the course. On this basis, the county was awarded the trophy cup. Chowan and Beaufort counties came second and third respectively under County Agents N. K. Rowell and H. H. Lawley.

Mr. Anderson has been in Perquimans county only a short while, since March, but during that time he has succeeded in building up a strong and vigorous demonstration idea among his co-operating farmers. Many of them have testified as to his being able to save them considerable money for service rendered during the short time he has been at work. One of the strongest farm and home departments to be found in this section of the State is that conducted by Mr. Anderson and his home demonstration agent, Miss Helen Gaither, in the Hertford Herald.

The boys at the short course heard Mr. S. G. Rubinow, of the extension forces, in a splendid address on "Thinking" as a feature of Thursday night's meeting in Pullen Hall. In chapel yesterday morning, Miss Mary G. Shotwell talked to them on the subject of "Thrift," emphasizing especially the value of the thrift stamps and war savings stamps in promoting this habit.

Miss Shotwell urged the boys to save enough out of their earnings the coming year to buy some thrift stamps and to buy them with a definite object in the saving. At the conclusion of her talk, 43 signed a pledge to buy thrift stamps and hold them to apply on their education. She reminded the boys that 143 boys and girls in Elizabeth City recently signed the pledge to buy them to use in securing waterworks while 50 girls in Buncombe recently pledged to save, by purchasing thrift stamps, toward their college education.

LESTER GETS STATE ENGRAVING CONTRACT

The State Printing Commission sitting yesterday opened bids for the State's annual dye stamping and engraving work, awarding the contract to A. O. Lester & Co., of Raleigh, lowest bidders. The contract last year amounted to approximately $700.

3:45—Club instruction, by club supervisors.

4:30—Club encampments, discussion led by H. H. B. Mask.

5:15—The making of photographs for official use, C. H. Hansen, official photographer.

DEATH PENALTY IS SUBJECT SUNDAY

Dr. Oscar Haywood Will Advocate Its Abolishment From Pulpit

Dr. Oscar Haywood, who lightly touched upon woman suffrage in a sermon last Sunday morning, will preach on "Capital Punishment" tomorrow night at the Tabernacle Baptist church. During the month of August, Dr. Haywood, evangelist of Cavalry Baptist church, New York, is filling the pulpit of Dr. Weston Bruner.

Cards announcing the subject of this sermon have been generously distributed to the public to hear the Calvary preacher. At each service during the three Sundays Dr. Haywood has been filling the pulpit this summer, unusually large congregations have heard him, and the announcement of his topic for tomorrow night warrants the prediction that the church will be packed to hear him. Raleigh people who have heard him this summer, as well as last, pronounce him one of the most eloquent and interesting pulpit orators in the Baptist denomination.

Dr. Haywood, between Sundays, is resting at his summer home in Moore county and doing a bit of farming in order to keep in intimate touch with the work of his boyhood days. When advocates of abolition of the death penalty made a fight before the last General Assembly in New York, Dr. Haywood served as chairman of the committee that urged this legislation upon the lawmakers.

STATE-MADE CHEESE CONSUMED IN STATE

Policy of Shipping To Other States Not Followed Since Last Year

"You are wrong in saying that North Carolina made cheese is not consumed in North Carolina," said F. R. Farnham, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in speaking of an editorial in the News and Observer. "It was the practice up to this year to send to other States but this year ninety per cent of the product has been sold in North Carolina. Mr. Farnham, who represents the North Carolina Experiment Station jointly with the Federal Department of Agriculture, has been devoting his time to the North Carolina cheese industry since its beginning in the State four years ago. He says there are now thirty-two of these factories mostly in Ashe, Watauga and Alleghany counties and that they are making four carloads of cheese every thirty days. There is hardly any limit to the possibilities of the industry he says.

Mr. Farnham had just returned from Rocky Mount where a car of North Carolina cheese had just been unloaded. He said there was a car in Raleigh which would be consumed in this section.

The great difficulty he says is in connection with the matter of getting cheese here. It has to be shipped over into Tennessee and then back into North Carolina in order to get this side of the Blue Ridge. The freight rate is very high. It costs $1.50 a hundred to get cheese from the mountains to Rocky Mount for instance whereas it can be shipped from Wisconsin across five States to Rocky Mount at a rate of $1.10 per hundred.

COTTON DRIVE TO START OCTOBER 1

Intensive Canvass Will Be Made To Secure Members To Association

Members of the executive committee of the North Carolina branch of the American Cotton Association, meeting here yesterday, tentatively arranged plans for an intensive drive in October to secure this State's portion of a million members to the association during the fall.

The preliminary meeting to the actual canvass will be held in each county during the first week in September, according to O. J. McConnell, acting secretary of the committee. County chairmen of the North Carolina branch will then be chosen, together with local secretaries, and plans arranged for the drive during the first week in October. North Carolina's quota of the million members the association expects to recruit in the cotton belt has not been announced but will be in excess of 100,000.

The campaign throughout the cotton States will be conducted by the same corps of experts that conducted the liberty loan campaign, the Red Cross campaign and the Methodist Centenary drive. Extensive publicity of the purposes of the cotton movement, through the press and by posters and meetings, will be made.

Senator Joseph A. Brown, of Chatham, a member of the executive committee, has been asked by the American Association to make a speaking tour of the cotton states in the interest of the movement. Other members of the committee who were here yesterday included E. B. Crow, Raleigh; J. Z. Grimes, Marshallville; G. N. Newsome, Wayne; O. J. McConnell, Raleigh; C. D. Orrell, Monroeville; Frank P. Shields, Scotland Neck; J. C. Braaswell, Nash; W. M. Sanders, Smithfield; J. Bryan Grimes, Raleigh; J. A. Best, Fremont; W. E. Smith, Scotland Neck; G. D. Allen, Youngsville; B. F. Shelton, Speed; Joel G. Layton, Buies Creek; W. R. Herring, Waltonsburg; J. W. Johnson, Raeford; W. R. Dixon, Wilson, and George W. Hart, Snow Hill.

The campaign in October will be made to secure every business man, professional man and farmer in the State a member of the association, the committee announced.

MORE FOOD RECEIVED FOR RALEIGH PEOPLE

Post Office Continues To Get Orders; Food Window Open 8 to 5 Daily

The Raleigh post office has been allotted additional government food for the people of this city, and orders will be received until the $37,000 worth is sold. The additional food is composed of fruits, celery and asparagus.

Since the opening of the food window at the post office last Monday the orders have amounted to about $2,000 daily. Raleigh people have shown much interest in their orders, and when the shipments are received it is expected that the purchasers will have made a large savings in dollars and cents.

The food window is open from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m., and patrons will be assisted by two clerks in preparing their orders. Blankets are furnished by the post office.

WILD RUMORS HERE ARE UNFOUNDED

No Profiteering On Clothing And Shoes In Raleigh, Says Special Agent Handy

Profiteering continues to keep agents of the Department of Justice busy and evidence against firms is being gathered steadily by government officers. Rumors of profiteering on clothes and shoes in Raleigh, however, were branded as unfounded yesterday by Special Agent Handy.

Agents are investigating every report they receive of alleged profiteering and hoarding in the State. In some cases it has been found that sugar is being sold for more than 11 cents per pound by retailers but investigations have revealed that jobbers and wholesalers charged a higher price than set by the sugar equalization board.

No arrests have been made by the Department of Justice for so far firms have complied with orders at once and have also shown willing co-operation in releasing scarce articles of food to the public.

When the fair price committees get to work in each county some further results are expected.

DISTRICT ODD FELLOWS TO MEET SEPTEMBER 9

District Supervisor M. L. Shipman was yesterday mailing to all Noble Grands in the district a notice of the eighth district meeting of the Odd Fellows which will be held with Franklin Lodge, 241, on Tuesday, September 9, afternoon and evening. The program will be announced later.

Commissioner Young speaks before the Association of Fire Marshals of America, of which he is a former president and now a member of the executive committee.

M. FROMME CASE GETS INTO SEPAK'S COURT

The case against M. Fromme, charged with embezzling about $600 from Miss Bane, yesterday was transferred from the court of Justice Owens to Justice Charles Separk's tribunal. The trial was set for Tuesday at 5 o'clock. The case was removed at the request of attorneys for the prosecuting witness, although the defense objected strenuously to a transfer.

Go to Church

"If you love me, keep my commandments"

You cannot imagine Confucius, Buddha or Mohammed making such a statement.

It takes love to inspire love.

No one who is unwilling to make the supreme sacrifice himself can put service upon such a basis.

Jesus was not only willing, but did make the supreme sacrifice for those he loved.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

That is why Jesus could say, "If ye love me, keep my commandments."

Peter didn't forget this, neither did James, nor John, nor the other disciples.

They made the supreme sacrifice.

When we think of what little sacrifice we make for our religion, we can't be classed with the Christians of old.

Go to bed with the determination of getting up early and attending services tomorrow; make your life richer.
