

MANY WITNESSES SPEAK FOR PACKERS

Continuous Procession From Texas To New York Oppose Kenyon Bill

Washington, Aug. 27.—A procession of witnesses representing sections of the United States scattered from Texas to New York City, varied as to occupation and views, but all in opposition to the Kenyon and Kenyon bills for regulating the packing industry, were heard today by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Frank Currie, of Gard, Neb., a Catholic, announced that he was opposed to the bill "because they would Germanize the United States."

"We've heard every other argument against them but the pro-German one," Senator Kenyon, Republican of Iowa, author of one of the measures interrupted.

"Well they are used to being licensed and regulated over in Germany," Currie retorted.

"W. D. Williams, of Omaha, operator of a chain of grocery stores said that the packers made for competitive markets on groceries. He recited his own difficulties in securing stocks for chain stores."

"You regard this opposition as an indication of combination among the wholesalers?" Senator Kenyon asked.

"I do," Williams responded. He said that he had laid the facts before the Federal Trade Commission and that an investigation had been started. Henry Veeder, counsel for Swift & Co., obtained permission to insert a considerable amount of correspondence in the record, showing that grocery jobbers had refused to supply Williams. J. G. Curtis for the New York and New Jersey Livestock Exchange was positive that packers competed in purchasing livestock.

"There is absolutely no necessity for regulation," he said. "I am so of that after forty-three years of experience as a livestock salesman."

Believes in Competition. "In my competition," C. Niemier, a Princeton, Ind., retailer assured the committee, "but just because it gets too hot for you I don't think you ought to come down here and get a law passed to put the other fellow out of business."

Mr. Niemier's chief argument was against sections of the measures tending to keep the packers out of the grocery business and he said that one of the reasons for the fight against them was that "they are eliminating some of the profits between the producer and the consumer."

J. G. Embodes, president of the Illinois Livestock Association; Irving S. Cook, of Byron, N. Y.; James Strickland, of Skidmore, Mo.; and Robert Thompson, of Benton, Mo., were among untiring speakers who objected to the measures. Chairman Gronous announced that Colorado stock men would be heard Thursday.

feared and that the extenuating circumstances were not properly brought out.

The majority members of the committee also urged that greater efforts be made to cut down the time taken in bringing prisoners to trial in order to lessen their period of confinement in the guard house. "We are satisfied that their associations in the guard house have raised many a fine soldier," they said.

Judge Bryan and Mr. Gregory advocated that the President within four years from the time any judgment of a general courtmartial and any final order of a medical, efficiency or other retiring board has heretofore been entered, be empowered to "review, revise, modify and reverse in whole or in part the finding of any such court, board or other similar tribunal."

limited system, only was tried, but the Southern Public Utilities Company announced that it will extend the service to those men who can be secured to do the work. The cars began operation in certain sections this morning at 11 o'clock.

but did not attempt trips after night-fall. The entire route attempted was patrolled by the militia, and no guards were placed on cars. In spite of this, however, and the additional absence of any sign of disorder, the passengers were very few.

No attempt will yet be made to start schedules to North Charlotte, the home of the textile workers, and the danger zone. Simultaneously with the car service, appeared little white cards, pinned in the laps of many strikers and their sympathizers on the streets reading: "We walk for justice."

Urges Federal Action. Telegrams have gone forth from the Central Labor Union of Charlotte, composed of sixteen crafts totalling 3,000 members, to Senators Overman and Simmons and Congressman E. Yates Webb, asking assistance in securing Federal action on the report of a Department of Labor of the telegrams setting forth alleged efforts of the Southern Public Utilities Company "to prejudice the citizens against the workers' organization by a tremendous advertising campaign" were sent to Governor Bickett.

A representative of the Department of Labor, Mr. Bridewell, has been in Charlotte since August 20 and a copy of his report is enclosed with the telegrams to the Senators and Representatives in Washington.

"We pray you," the telegram concludes, "to take this matter up with Secretary Abernethy, of the Department of Labor, and help him so far as possible to reach such decision on Mr. Bridewell's report as will secure a just reinstatement of these men with the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Many of these men are buying homes through the building and loan and all you ask is justice. In our opinion, they should be paid by said company for loss of time, as the principal disagreement was that of denying them exercise of their constitutional free rights."

Declaring that imported strikebreakers and stores of ammunition piled up by the Southern Public Utilities Company are a menace to citizenship and will greatly aggravate an already serious situation, the Central Labor Union has also petitioned the mayor and city commissioners to remove both imported strikebreakers and ammunition "that they might not further aggravate the situation or cause more bloodshed."

The citizens of Charlotte, in resolution adopted by the labor body, are asked to concur in the request and lend their assistance to the maintenance of law and order.

Charlotte is Peaceful. While Charlotte was peaceful enough today, not even the most optimistic would venture the opinion that the end has come. The withdrawal of troops now, it is asserted, will certainly result in trouble and bloodshed in certain quarters. The strikers themselves, as bitterly as they resent what they term the introduction of foreign professional strikebreakers to take their jobs, it is conceded have been orderly.

On their part, as stated by their representative, Mr. D. L. Gobie today, it is a waiting game. Thus far, they are not exercised over the extent of the operation to hold this morning and are prepared to carry out indefinitely. Other organizations are coming to their financial aid and relief tickets are being sold on the streets.

How long the troops will be kept here is an uncertain quantity now, so effort has been made on either side or from a disinterested source, since the trouble Tuesday morning to revealish negotiations. The Southern Public Utilities Company says it will have some and the car men say they are content to wait.

In the meantime, arrangements are being made looking toward more comfortable housing for the militiamen. One hundred and fifty of the men who were cared for in the city hall on the first night were yesterday billeted in hotels, in spite of a temporary indisposition on the part of one of the hotels to make room. It was only after Mayor McNinch had threatened to commandeer the hotel that the manager relented.

Organize Special Guard. To take the place of the civilian guards whose only means of identification are their shot guns and lapel badges designating them as special officers, Mayor McNinch has authorized the organization of a company of seventy-five or a hundred overseas soldiers, who will be commanded by Lieutenant Melvin Caldwell, an overseas officer, wounded in the service. A number of overseas men are already included among the militia companies.

The coroner's investigation into the death of the four men resulting from Tuesday morning's riot will be held tomorrow afternoon. Delay having been occasioned by the illness of Coroner Z. A. Hovis. To meet the emergency J. W. Cobb has been named coroner, temporarily, and he will conduct the inquiry with his jury selected today and composed of R. B. Hunter, J. A. Michael, W. R. Matthews, Lloyd Torrence, R. B. Wentz and H. N. Furr.

In the meantime, Solicitor Geo. W. Wilson will send to the grand jury tomorrow morning bills of indictment against John Wilson and any other men whom an investigation now being conducted may connect with leadership in the riot. He will charge inciting a riot.

The first arrest made by the militia is an honor belonging to Hickory Company, two members of which this afternoon took to the police station a regular army recruiting officer who, it is claimed, made sneering remarks about the militiamen.

In city court Thursday morning action will be started in a number of cases growing out of the strike. Most of them include charges of disorder Monday. Charged with disorderly conduct and destruction of property are the following: Houston Kirby, Clarence Oathey; Burton Helms; Earl Thomas, Ed. Schumaker, John Tompkins, Bruce Simpson, J. T. Hubbard, Charles Helms.

John Wilson will be given a preliminary hearing on a charge of inciting and engaging in a rebellion against the State, under section 3437, Revised 1908, and also on common law charge of similar nature. In addition, J. L. Simpson and H. L. Caldwell are charged with assault.

At a conference of civil and military authorities here tonight, the entire situation was canvassed, the need of a highly centralized control emphasized and Capt. Baxter Shewell, of the Lexington company, was elected supreme commander. He will handle the situation so far as the militia is concerned, directly with Adjutant General Royster, and will determine the number of men to be kept on duty and their disposition.

Thursday morning the citizen police will be relieved from active duty and held as an emergency force for immediate call by the Mayor. Col. T. L. Kirkpatrick announces that he will organize a home guard company.

Would Repeal Prohibition. The latest proposed organization to fight prohibition is to be called "The League to Repeal Prohibition. Attorney William H. Stanton, of Washington, D. C., is circulating a (confidential) memorandum containing the proposed plan. It is said that the organization will be incorporated and that "brewers, distillers and those who have made their living from the trade will be ineligible to membership, that each member is to sign a pledge that he will vote for no legislation unless the candidate promises that he will favor the repeal of the prohibition amendment of the Federal Constitution." It further says that the pledge does not mean that the signer is opposed to prohibition nor that he is in favor of it. The circular also gives the reasons why this is the proper time for the organization. First, that prohibition is in the minds of the people now and will be for several months, which makes it opportune for getting members; second, after January 23 it will be more difficult to get support; third, now is the time to take advantage of the sentiment among returning soldiers, because as the circular says, the amendment was not adopted by the majority of the voters but by a few prohibitionists who held the balance of power and lastly the prohibitionists believe the victory is won, and are turning to other fields and activities.

"This is simply a camouflage organization to make it appear that others than brewers and liquor dealers are interested in the repeal of national prohibition," said Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America. "The amendment was supported and adopted by an overwhelming majority of the voters. Sixty-two per cent of the population voted for prohibition before the amendment was adopted with the sentiment of the people for prohibition increased with the larger unit of proposed dry territory. Many voters opposed local option but favored State and National prohibition. We challenge this new organization and the other liquor organizations opposed to national prohibition to make this an issue in the coming election."

Some People Are Miserable, Half Sick, Tired All the Time

They Do Not Know What Is the Matter, and Their Physician Cannot Name the Disease.

There are just lots and lots of people who are sick—generally sick—but who manage to drag through their work day after day.

They do not know what is the matter with them and their physician cannot name the disease—that miserable, "tired all the time" feeling.

In most cases, the real cause of this state of poor health is that the blood is clogged with impurities and the bowels, kidneys and other vital organs are not acting properly. A reliable blood tonic is necessary.

Prescription C-2223 is a blood purifier of unusual merit. It is supplied ready prepared in concentrated form and is to be taken in small doses. It not only cleanses and sweeps out of the blood all the impurities that are causing ill health, but tones up the system.

Prescription C-2223 contains no mercury, opium, morphine, chloral or strychnine; it is originally the prescription of a prominent physician, used in his practice in the treatment of disorders of the blood.

If you are miserable and half sick, get a $1.50 bottle of Prescription C-2223 from your nearest drug store, or the C-2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn., will mail you a bottle on receipt of price. Clip and mail this advertisement for free literature.
