

GENERAL ROYSTER RESPONDS TO CALL

Lieutenant - Governor Deems Adjutant General's Presence in Charlotte Advisable

SOLICITOR WILSON IS VISITOR IN CAPITAL

Confers With Attorney General and Other State Officials About Charlotte Strike Situation; An Effort Will Be Made To Harmonize All Conflicting Forces

Complying with the request of Lieutenant Governor O. Max Gardner, Adjutant General Beverly S. Royster left last night for Charlotte, and expected to be in the Queen City at 9 o'clock this morning.

The Adjutant General has been in constant touch with the situation since Mayor McIninch called for the State militia early Tuesday morning.

Solicitor George Wilson, of Gastonia, who is prosecuting the case in the Mecklenburg court, was in Raleigh yesterday and conferred with Attorney General James S. Manning, Adjutant General Royster and other State officials with reference to the Charlotte situation.

Adjutant General Royster has confined his attention to the Charlotte strike solely to the military features. In compliance with the order of Governor McIninch he issued the order which sent six companies of reserve militia promptly after the restoration of order.

Adjutant General Royster received no intimation from Lieutenant Governor Gardner of any intention to revoke the order of removal issued Thursday. It was within the power of the Lieutenant Governor to order the troops to remain in Charlotte, but his order would have been made to the Adjutant General.

Intimations of some friction between city and county officials in Charlotte have been received here, but whether or not Solicitor George Wilson's visit here had anything to do with these reports was not learned.

Undoubtedly, all of the officials are a unit as to the necessity for law and order and the prompt punishment of the guilty, but there has been a difference of opinion as to the best methods of accomplishing this.

CHARLOTTE VICTORIOUS IN FIRST BIG CLASH

Charlotte, Aug. 29.—Charlotte drew first blood in the first day's play with Columbia the pennant by one percentage side the pennant winner in the South Atlantic baseball association here today by winning the first game of a double-header 5 to 4 and tying the second 2 to 2.

Charlotte must win three of the remaining four games to win the championship. An even break will give Columbia the pennant by one per centage point.

A purse of $150 was proffered to Manager Ernie Burke, of Charlotte, by the fans.

NAVY RECRUITING MEN INVADE FRANKLIN COUNTY

Louisburg, Aug. 29.—Seargeant C. E. McCluskey and Chief Quartermaster Thos. E. Dillon, of the United States Navy, were in Louisburg this morning enlisting recruits. They are making up a crew for the cruiser South Dakota, which expects to take quite an extended trip in the near future. They left here for Henderson.

Next week marks the opening of two of Louisburg's most important institutions and enterprises. The graded schools, again under the supervision of Prof. W. R. Mills, will open Tuesday morning. The prospects are for a bigger and better school than ever before. One more teacher has been added to the high school force, which addition will make this one of the best and strongest high schools in this section of the State.

The opening day for the Louisville tobacco market has been set for next Thursday. Full announcements have not yet been made, but it is certain that two and probably three houses will be run, practically under the same management as last season.

WALSH SPEAKS TO SCOTLAND PEOPLE

and twice Governor of his State. He is a bachelor for all that but he told a good story about school children in his home State. He was dedicating a library in Orange, the "blackest Republican section in the State," and quizzed the children about the business of soldiers and Governors. The children told him the soldiers fought, the Governors did nothing. He tried the same thing out in a Democratic section and the children said the Governors fought for the people.

Lessons of Sacrifice. Senator Walsh mentioned the fact that it took a world war to demonstrate that America's greatest asset is her man power. The thought of the mad rush for money, office, title and power forced the blush of shame and the admission of insignificance in the presence of the boys who proved the nobility of love, service and sacrifice.

"You stuck to your posts of duty," the Senator said, "and that is proof that the bravery of your gray-headed Confederate soldiers still sparkles." The accumulation of wealth is negligible, said the Senator, and governments will fall and totter if its manhood isn't drilled in the spirit of service. The veterans here had been drilled. They had opened their hearts to keep the old flag from suffering a stain and the cry that brought victory must now be shouted to bring about a peace that will guarantee the liberties of all oppressed people.

The cry is forward, said he, "against the enemies of American institutions. An American against the anarchists and the Bolsheviks, against every element which doesn't respect that flag and isn't willing to do what these boys did for it. There is no place in this country for the bomb-throwers and for those who preach doctrines contrary to democratic institutions. There is no place here for the reformers in society who try to overthrow the government under the guise of patriotism. The ballot box is free to every man and soon will be to every woman and Morgan stands there the equal of the humblest boy of 21 in this country."

He wanted the boys to feel that their heritage from the war is the knowledge that they fought for liberty to all the peoples of Europe, to release the political shackles that bound the oppressed in other countries. Before this treaty is signed, he concluded, we must see that there is a league and a union that binds every civilized nation together and makes war impossible. We liberated the people in treaty countries and the treaty provides for that number of new republics. Hereafter instead of joining together to fight men and women we shall join together to praise the greater glory of God and to bring more happiness to the oppressed of our country. Senator Walsh expressed the opinion before his speech today that the debate on the peace treaty would continue for six weeks or two months yet before a vote comes.

in committee consideration of that treaty.

Called-for Data Not Received. The data called for and not received by the committee included another and previous Rhine agreement and any available drafts of the treaties now under negotiation with Austria, Bulgaria, Turkey and Hungary. Committee members pointed out also that a long statement by M. Clemenceau as president of the peace conference, attached to British and French official copies of the Polish treaty, was not included in the copy sent in today by the President.

A British "vint of still another Versailles treaty and its convention between the United States and various other nations, was put into the Senate record by Senator Knox. An explanatory note heading the convention said it had not been signed but was being given to the public for their information.

Mr. Knox said this plan apparently had been followed out in every country except the United States.

"bushwhacking guerilla warfare," and that few general officers have any legal knowledge that fit them to pass on courts martial cases.

Movements of Tar Heels. Representative K. W. Pau has requested the foreign and domestic division of the Department of Commerce to supply through government representatives a cargo of murist and kait of potash for fertilizer factor in Johnston county. The request is unusual, inasmuch as there is a pronounced shortage of German potash.

Representative S. M. Brinson returned to Washington today from Burgaw where on yesterday he delivered an address to citizens of Pender county.

Miss Pearl Robinson, of Rocky Mount, was in Washington today returning to her home after a visit in Pennsylvania.

Miss Gladys Smith, of Raleigh, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Leinster.

Dipping Cattle. The Department of Agriculture authorizes the statement that there were 6,002 cattle dipped in North Carolina as a method of tick eradication during the month of July. Complete reports to the Bureau of Animal Industry from all tick-infested States indicate that in July the number of dippings of cattle to exterminate the fever ticks aggregated 7,219,037.

The Department of Agriculture is responsible for the statement that a large amount of territory will be released from Federal quarantine on December 1. "Perhaps enough to make 1919 the greatest year in the entire history of this campaign against the insect enemy of the Southern live stock industry."

Waterway Prospects. An authority on rivers and harbors legislation has expressed the opinion that the report of the Wilmington engineer with respect to the waterway from New Bern to Wilmington by the Trent, Northeast and Cape Fear rivers will be adverse. It is understood that the preliminary survey by the resident engineer has been completed and will soon be filed with the War Department. The viewpoint that the report will be unfavorable has its source in the contention that the route is too far inland, and should have been surveyed on a direct route along the coast. However, New Bern citizens have been insistent that the preliminary survey go by way of Trent, Northeast and Cape Fear river to Wilmington.

A number of instances have been reported already wherein strikebreakers and union workers in various trades have nearly clashed.

Gunns Are Brandished. Thursday afternoon a conductor on street car No. 70 to Myers Park, fired his pistol in the direction of union carpenters working on the residence of E. R. Preston, when they seized at the men operating the car, calling them scabs. The whole matter was reported to Sheriff N. W. Wallace, P. E. Hart and J. W. J. Carter, union carpenters, are witnesses of firing of the shot which went high and caused no damage.

Gunns have been brandished by conductors at union sympathizers and on Fourth street yesterday, it is reported, a conductor fired his revolver when some children threw gravel at the car. The street cars were operating on reduced schedule again today, but the patronage was of the most meager sort. Reports that the Southern Public Utilities Company will insist upon the revocation of free jitney licenses during the period of the emergency have been causing union men some concern, but Mayor McIninch states this afternoon that no such request had been made and no such action was contemplated by the city commissioners.

dren, assembled at the Southern station here at 5:19 this afternoon in welcome home company 13, North Carolina reserve militia, which returned on train 46 from Charlotte, where this company with five others, has been on guard since early Tuesday morning.

The crowd assembled about 5 o'clock and was full of the spirit of the occasion when the troops arrived. A big white banner, about 3 by 6 feet, on which in blooded letters had been written the words: "Our Heroes Welcome Home" preceded the column which marched in columns of twos from the station. The company was taken to the square in front of the court house, where in a few words Lieut. H. Hoyle Sink introduced Major Wade H. Phillips who served with the 30th division in France. He expressed the gratitude of the people of Lexington for the part played by the local unit in the spring
