- Riding westward into Montana at the end of the first week of his speech-making tour the President made no stop for a night address but instead made known through the newspaper correspondents the platform he desires to place before the people in his plea for the treaty's acceptance. A few hours earlier he had told a crowd at Mandan, N. D., that his week of travel had convinced him that the people were for the treaty.
- The ten points in which he epitomized the treaty provisions are as follows:
 - One—The destruction of autocracy.
 - Two—The substitution of public discussion and arbitration for using the boycott rather than arms.
 - Three—Placing "a peace of the world under constant international oversight in recognition of the principle that the peace of the world is the legitimate immediate interest of every state.
 - Four—Disarmament.
 - Five—The liberation of oppressed peoples.
 - Six—The discontinuance of annexation and the substitution of trusteeship with responsibility to the opinion of mankind.
 - Seven—The invalidation of all secret treaties.
 - Eight—The protection of dependent peoples.
 - Nine—High standards of labor under international sanction.
 - Ten—The international coordination of humane reform and regulation.

STEEL WORKERS IN CALL FOR STRIKE ASK RECOGNITION

President Wilson Issues Appeal To Wait Until After Labor Conference

PLAN TO MAKE IT EFFECTIVE SEPT. 22

Union Officials Refuse To Indulge in Speculation Regarding Extent of Strike But Possibly Quarter Million Men May Be Involved in Industrial Controversy

Washington, Sept. 10.—Regardless of the request of President Wilson that they take no action pending the coming industrial conference, representatives of organized workers in the steel industry late today called a strike of their unions and of the principle of collective bargaining by the United States Steel Corporation. The executive council of the 24 unions representing the workers made known their decision in a statement issued after they had requested the President by telegraph for a "more definite statement" as to the possibilities of arranging a conference with steel corporation officials and after they had received a reply from the President asking that they withhold action until after the industrial conference.

Broad Avenue Flanked From Central Park To Washington Square With Dense Masses of Humanity; Regimental Flags Never Yet Defeated Wildly Cheered By Throngs

New York, Sept. 10.—Over a five-mile flower-strewn pathway, General Pershing led his famous First Division down Fifth avenue today to the wild plaudits of 2,000,000 proud countrymen. It was the last great review of the world war for New York. The commander of America's armies shared honors with battle-scarred veterans who won undying fame on the fields of France. Behind Pershing rode a score of major generals and brigadiers, and back of them strode the commander's guard of honor, the composite regiment of doughboys, the flower of six divisions. Nearly all the men were wearing wound chevrons. Next came the 25,000 regulars of the First Division, fully accoutered for war—horse, foot and artillery.

GANGS OF GAMBLERS ARE DRIVEN FROM QUARTERS

Mayor Peters Takes Charge of Situation While Governor Coolidge Stands Ready To Call On President For More Troops, If Needed; Wave of Indignation in City Because of Failure of Public Officials To Act Promptly; Night of General Looting Before Action Is Taken By The Authorities

Boston, Sept. 10.—Two men and a dog growing out of the police strike, these were the only survivors of a minor nature to members of mobs, police officers and State guardsmen. The most serious disturbances were in the vicinity of Scollay Square and South Boston. Cavalrymen charging the crowds and a machine gun was used, one man being killed and several wounded by its fire. At a late hour the mob was still uncontrolled. One of the most serious elements in the complicated outlook was the possibility of sympathetic strikes by labor unions, which have declared their support of the policemen's union. Like the patrolmen's organization, most of these unions are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The State branch of the federation at its annual convention in Greenfield today, instructed all Boston unions to vote tomorrow night on the question on the action to back up the policemen. Scollay Square was thronged all day and well into the night. The crowd early became riotous and cavalrymen had to disperse it. The mob surged in and out of the square. Shots were fired and an unidentified man was killed. A woman was wounded in the arm, a middle aged volunteer policeman was so badly beaten up that he was removed to a hospital and three cavalrymen were hit over the head by bottles and other missiles and also were given hospital treatment. After infantry reinforcements arrived the square was finally cleared.

KEY WEST SUFFERS TWO MILLION LOSS

Not a House Escaped Injury From Hurricane Which Sweeps Over The City

FIVE STORE BUILDINGS TIPPED OVER BY WINDS

Storm Exceeded Eighty Miles An Hour and Prostrated All Wire Service of Every Kind; Several Florida Villages Practically Swept Clean With Some Lives Lost

Key West, Fla., Sept. 10.—Not a house in this city escaped injury in the hurricane that swept over Key West last night. Three hundred and twenty houses, most of them frame buildings, were practically razed. Two church edifices were wrecked. In the main part of the city, five retail store buildings were tipped over as though part of a card pack. Plate glass windows in many store buildings were blown in by the force of the wind and stocks of goods ruined by water. So far as is known there was no loss of life in the city proper, nor is there any report of persons seriously injured despite the flying debris, but the steamer Grampus, with a crew of fourteen men, sank in the harbor. The Federal building was badly damaged by the storm. Conservative estimates place the property loss at not less than two million dollars.

OVERMAN TO SPEAK FOR THE COVENANT

It Will Shock Republicans in N. C. Who Have Written "Congratulations"

News and Observer Bureau, 603 District National Bank Bldg. (By S. R. WINTERS.) (By Special Leased Wire.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—Republicans in North Carolina that promptly seized upon fragmentary rumors that Senator Lee S. Overman favored amendments to the League of Nations are entitled to a rude awakening when they receive answers to their congratulatory letters from the junior North Carolina Senator. Upon hearing that he was in an attitude of compromise some of the leading Republicans in the State extended congratulations. Senator Overman will answer these communications by the announcement that he will soon make a speech in the United States Senate in whole hearted support of the peace covenant. He will likely reiterate his substance, his enunciation to the bankers' convention at Winston-Salem. Remarkably significant is the fact that every letter received by Senator Overman from North Carolina has unequivocally endorsed the League of Nations, except communications written by Tar Heels affiliated with the Republican party.

SCHOONER SANK IN KEY WEST HARBOR

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 10.—Barton H. Smith, agent for the British schooner U. V. Drew, received a message late today from British Consul Taylor at Key West, stating that the Drew had gone down in Key West harbor during the storm. The telegram made no mention of Captain Reginald Parsons and the crew of seven men. The Drew, on its way from Tampa to Sagua, Cuba, with lumber, put into Key West to escape the storm. The Drew was a two-master and owned by Mrs. Sandy Kirkconnell, of Tampa.

DR. RENNER SIGNS FOR AUSTRIA

Head of Austrian Delegation Smiles As He Places Name To Document

St. Germain, Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian delegation to the peace conference, signed the treaty of peace between the allied and associated powers and the Austrian republic at 10:15 o'clock this morning. Dr. Renner bowed and smiled graciously as he approached the table and bowed and smiled again to the delegates after signing as he turned to go to his seat. Frank L. Polk, who succeeded Secretary of State Lansing as head of the United States delegates, signed after Dr. Renner and was followed by Henry White and General Bliss. When all the delegates present had seated themselves at the round table Dr. Renner was introduced with the same formality that was observed when the German plenipotentiary, Count von Mirbach, signed the Treaty of Versailles on June 23. Georges Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, then rose and opened the session, asking Dr. Renner to affix his signature to the treaty and annex and announcing that the delegates would then be called in the order in which they were named in the preamble of the document. There was no hesitation on the part of Dr. Renner in signing the treaty. He rose from his seat on the left wing of the table after M. Clemenceau's opening address had been translated into German, and immediately walked to the signing table and signed the document. As the French delegation went to the signing table and passed Dr. Renner's chair the latter rose and bowed very politely to M. Clemenceau, who returned the salutation. M. Clemenceau entered the room at exactly 10 o'clock, being saluted by the group of honor. He took his place at the table with Frank L. Polk on his right and A. J. Balfour, British secretary of State for foreign affairs, on his left. Neither Premier Lloyd George, of Great Britain, nor Colonel House of the United States delegation, was present. The British delegation was made up of Mr. Balfour, Viscount Milner, George Nicoll Barnes and General Seely. The British delegates arrived soon after Mr. Polk entered the room and there was a very animated conversation for several minutes, pending the arrival of M. Clemenceau. Mr. Polk was accompanied by his wife. After the other American delegates were seated Omace Jan Paderewski, the Premier of Poland, entered the room, his arrival provoking a flurry of conversation. The signing of the treaty was finished at 11:15 o'clock. M. Clemenceau then made a brief announcement that the session was closed. The delegates of Rumania and Yugoslavia did not sign the Austrian treaty today because they are awaiting instructions from their governments, says the Havas agency. The Supreme Council, it adds, has given them until Saturday to make known their definite intention.
