

CONFERENCE GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

Proposal For Methodist Hospital Laid On Table After Much Discussion

TRINITY REPORTS FINE PROGRESS THIS YEAR

Bishop Darlington Calls On Preachers For Renewed Consecration To Their Divine Task; Report of Joint Board On Christian Advocate Submitted To Meeting

By A. W. PLYLER.

Greensboro, Oct. 23.—After much discussion the proposal to establish a Methodist hospital at some central point in Western North Carolina was laid on the table today at the annual session of the Western North Carolina Conference, which had a busy day hearing the reports of various institutions including Trinity College, which presented one of the most encouraging in its history.

Practically all the members of the conference had arrived today and everything is in shape for steady work during the remainder of the week.

The Board of Education and the board of Christian literature held a joint session at the evening hour. Dr. F. N. Parker, dean of the Chandler School of Theology, Atlanta, Ga., had been expected to get here. A substitute was found in Dr. A. D. Wilcox, missionary secretary of the North Carolina conference.

Dr. Wilcox speaks. In the beginning of his address Dr. Wilcox was concise, epigrammatic, and witty. As he warmed to his subject, the speaker became vigorous, passionate and powerful, holding the great audience in the grasp of his thought and personality as he talked of the pulpit, the press and of Christian education.

H. H. Jordan, chairman of the Board of Education, presided over the meeting of the evening. Mr. Jordan stated that all the schools of the conference were full and overflowing, which was a fact of gratitude and at the same time a call to enlarge and take care of the growing demands upon us as a church. Chairman of the Board of Christian Literature O. P. Adler stated that this was the first time his board had held public exercises, but he trusted that hereafter the subject of Christian literature would receive at the annual conference the recognition and the importance of the subject demanded.

Greensboro College Report. Included in reports to the conference the Greensboro College for Women presents an excellent record. Over three hundred students were enrolled last year, the largest in the history of the college. Many applications were declined this year on account of lack of room. Appreciation of special work of alumnae for library and thanks to various donors were expressed including J. A. Odell's gift of $100,000 for an auditorium and music conservatory to be built in memory of his wife, Mrs. Mary J. Odell.

The Young Women's Christian Association is reported as one of the few associations in the South having 100 per cent membership; this association has pledged $750 annually for five years to support a missionary, as a contribution to the centenary of missions. Next week Rev. C. G. Houshelt, educational secretary of the board of missions, Nashville, Tenn., will conduct, according to the centenary evangelistic plan a series of revival services in the college.

Dr. S. B. Turrentine, president, extended a cordial invitation to all to attend a concert complimentary to the conference to be given at the college next Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Call To Consecration. The second day of conference was enlivened at the very outset, after the singing of one of the old hymns and prayer, by the address of Bishop Darlington, who read the story of Gehazi as recorded in II Kings, v chapter and following the twentieth verse, and then proceeded to warn the preachers against the dangers of commercial pursuits.

The Bishop spoke with great earnestness and tender feeling about the manna that beset the minister who so far forgot his ordination vows as to

Gained in Weight Using Hypo-Cod

Raleigh Man Says It is a Grand Tonic. Drove Away Pains Too.

"I used to ache and pain all over. In my shoulders, arms and back I was always having pains and had grown thin. I tried other remedies too, but they didn't help me. Then I saw where people were praising Earle's Hypo-Cod and I'm glad to say that I too, am an enthusiastic booster of Earle's Hypo-Cod. It is wonderful what it will do for a man. I gained eight pounds in a few days using it and all those old aches and pains left me like magic. Cleared up my system in great shape and I'm feeling fine," declared J. W. Bass, a well known railroad man, 407 N. East St., Raleigh, N. C.

When the blood is thin, impoverished and full of poisons. When you feel achy, weak, bad all over take Earle's Hypo-Cod a few days. It enriches the blood. Brings back the old weight and strength, vigor and pep. Just like the man above who gained eight pounds and felt fine after just a few days treatment.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is not a patent medicine. It contains Cod liver oil, extractives, malt, iron, wine, cherry bark, and syrup of hypophosphites, a combination doctor and druggist recommend. Each bottle bears name of nationally known Earle's Chemical Company, Wheeling, W. Va., which insures first quality. Sent anywhere on receipt of price by the druggists or large cities $1.25 plus 6c. war tax. Hicks-Crabtree Co.—adv.

turn aside from the preaching of the gospel in order to make money. "Are we as preachers known by the names that our mothers gave us, or by the names, men of God, as were the case with some of the Old Testament prophets?" the Bishop asked.

"In reading this passage three words run through my mind. These words are ability, opportunity, responsibility. "Gehazi's very name, valley of vision, mark him for a large place.

"We have not as much preaching as we ought to have upon the judgment. "This man was called first of all to a humble place to pour water on the hands of his master, but by faithful performance of that he came to be the successor of his master.

"The closer a man gets to God the less he thinks about the things of this world. O, for the spirit of John Wesley in this respect in the hearts of our preachers!

"There is a difference between serving two masters and working for two. "Yet the man whose very name designated him for a large place came to be a common liar. How sick is the road that goes down hill!

"Don't go to the world on a business basis and take the church to recommend you. Brethren stand true to the vows of your office."

The secretary for the last time called the conference roll and noted as present those who failed to answer at the previous roll call. A few of the pastors are kept at home by sickness in their own person or by illness in their families, but the attendance is larger than at any preceding conference.

The minutes of yesterday's session, a session of the conference that ran in high gear and with discussions not a few, were read, after which the order of the day was taken up. Hospital Is Discussed.

The report of the hospital committee that recommended the putting of a commissioner in the field to confer with cities and towns offering a site and monetary consideration with the view of selecting the place making the most attractive offer and in addition to discovering the most desirable place, to collect funds for such a hospital.

The report also carried with it the placing an assessment of $12,000 upon the conference to pay expenses of said commissioner and to form the nucleus of a building fund.

C. H. Ireland opened the discussion in favor of the report of the committee. This speech was like the call of an umpire in that the game began at once. The brethren were up with questions for information, points of order, speeches pro and con, amendments, substitutes, resolutions to lay on the table and pretty much everything else that takes place in a good natured parliamentary tangle where every one seems to be enjoying himself.

Finally the whole matter was placed upon the table, G. L. Hackney securing the adoption of his motion. The report is not likely to be taken from the table during the session.

Another question set to follow the disposition of the hospital matter was in regard to the disposition of the income from the $50,000 bequeathed to the conference by Mr. E. D. Heath.

A resolution that proposed the placing of this income to the hospital fund was placed upon the table with the hospital committee report. This leaves the question of income from said fund with the conference trustees, until the conference takes some specific action.

Bibles in Sunday Schools. Rev. E. Hightower, of the Sunday school board, addressed the conference and in the course of his speech referred to the many objections that reached them from different quarters on account of the board's having used the American version of the scriptures in the Sunday school literature.

Mr. Hightower stated that the plan of the board on account of repeated objection, is to return to the former practice of placing side by side the King James and the revised versions of the Holy Scriptures in the Sunday school literature.

Following the address of Mr. Hightower, the Bishop called the names of the young preachers who have completed their first year in the gospel ministry. The following having passed the examination in their studies came to the front, made a brief statement of the year's work and were passed to the class of the second year: J. S. Folger, R. S. Goforth, W. J. Hackney, W. R. Harris, A. P. Brantly, W. R. Jenkins, J. M. Varner.

The report of the joint board of publication of the North Carolina Christian Advocate was read by D. B. Coltrane.

This is the first report of the joint board, as the union of the North Carolina Christian Advocate and the Raleigh Christian Advocate has been affected since the meeting of last conference.

This report of the consolidated Advocate company was referred to the board of Christian literature and will in all probability be accepted by the conference in the form presented, with Rev. L. S. Massey, editor, and Rev. H. M. Blair, associate editor and business manager.

Trinity College Report. The report of the trustees of Trinity college shows that the college is enjoying the greatest period of prosperity in its history. Within the last ten years the income of the college has doubled, and the enrollment of students this year will be more than twice what it was ten years ago.

The gifts to the college this year are more notable than any year in its history, except the year 1915, when the gifts amounted to more than $1,418,000. Twenty two Trinity men made the great sacrifice in this war, when more than a thousand Trinity men were enrolled in the service of our army and navy. In memory of these fallen sons of the college, their brothers, the Trinity alumni have already begun the building of a gymnasium which will stand as a memorial to these fallen heroes.

The growth of the Trinity Park School has kept pace with that of the college. It, too, is crowded to its capacity and more. New buildings to house the students are an immediate necessity at both the college and the Park school.

Proposes Ivey Professorship. Of interest to western North Carolina is the suggestion of the board of trustees of Trinity college that the chair in the Biblical department maintained by the Western North Carolina conference be known as the Ivey Professorship in Biblical Literature in honor of Rev. G. W. Ivey, one of the greatest men of the conference.

Rev. James Cannon, a son of Bishop Cannon and a man of superior training, being a graduate of Trinity, where he made an admirable record, an A. M. of Princeton and having studied for two years in the Princeton Theological Seminary and also for some time at the University of Edinburgh, holds this chair and is a valuable addition to the faculty of Trinity college.

Dr. W. P. Few rejoices in the present prosperity of the college but is exceedingly anxious for Trinity to perform that larger task of training not only the constantly increasing number of young men who seek admission, but also to provide for the young women who desire to be educated at Trinity. This demand will require a great co-ordinate college for women and should be built at an early date.

Many Women at Conference. The women delegates who are joining with deep interest in the work of the conference, are reinforced by an ever growing numbers of visitors. Among the interesting visitors is Mrs. U. V. W. Darlington, the wife of Bishop Darlington.

This is Mrs. Darlington's first visit to North Carolina since her husband became Bishop. The conference is delighted with her presence at the sessions, where she watches with interest the work of a conference in North Carolina.

Only Delegates Named By Wilson Remain To Confer (Continued from Page One.) and read the message in the form of a memorandum but declined to make it public.

Before the conference was adjourned employers representatives expressed their willingness to remain, although realizing that without the labor delegates little could be accomplished.

Employers Make Statement. In their statement the employers declared that "collective bargaining an accepted and desirable policy in industry, had been brought more prominently before the country, "with the realization that the term must be understood as having various applications under different conditions. Collective bargaining is interpreted by labor in only one way, the statement said, and that is as "organizing and bargaining through trade and labor unions."

On the other hand, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement explaining the stand of the labor group, declared that "it is worse than useless to sit in conferences with employers unless they agree to a declaration of the right of workers to organize without discrimination."

Not "Jumping Jacks." Asserting that the labor delegates are not "jumping jacks" and would not reverse their decision, Mr. Gompers said that he had been instructed previously to yesterday's meeting by the labor group including both the representatives of the American Federation of Labor and the railroad brotherhoods, to announce their withdrawal in case the collective bargaining declaration was defeated.

When the declaration was finally rejected yesterday, he said, there was nothing left except withdrawal.

In declaring the conference adjourned, Chairman Lane said that the going out of the labor group had changed the nature of the conference. "Therefore," he added, "it is the President's desire that I should express to the gentlemen of the employers' group who have expressed their willingness to stay, his desire that the nature of the conference itself would, because of the change of conditions, be changed and that the work should be carried on by the public group inasmuch as the burden of these quarrels that exist in industry falls ultimately upon the public. And so gentlemen, the public group will be asked to make a report and give advice and suggestions as to the industrial policy of this country."

Born in 1839 Dr. Caldwell Still in His Office Daily. Wonderful vigor of the founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Millions now use his famous prescription. ALL physicians know that good health depends largely upon proper digestion and elimination, and that most sickness results from these causes. None knows this better than the "family" doctor, the general practitioner. Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monticello, Illinois, was and is a family doctor. The whole human body, not any small part of it, was his practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated. Dr. Caldwell in the course of 40 years' practice, for he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875, had found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year the preparation was first placed on the market. The picture of Dr. Caldwell that appears on the package was taken in this year. The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in the doctor's private practice. Today the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it, for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is selling at the rate of over 6 million bottles a year. Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Syrup Pepsin, and the formulator of that prescription is fortunately living to see its wonderful success. Women, children and old people are the ones most benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It differs from physics in that its action is mild and gentle and free from griping. It does not weaken. And while it is promptly effective in the most obstinate cases, it is safe for a tiny baby as it contains no narcotics. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50c and $1 a bottle, the latter the family size and sufficient to last months. Keep a bottle in your home. Where many live someone is sure to need it quickly. DR. W. B. CALDWELL TODAY. Born Shelbyville, Mo., March 27, 1839. Began the manufacture of his famous prescription in 1892. In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Templar Cars. See Our Exhibit at State Fair. Superfine quality, moderate size, real economy and attractive appearance are for the first time achieved in one case—the Templar. Skillful engineering and clever designing have evolved a lively, sturdy, light car which is a revelation to those who believed that class, power, beauty and the finest materials could be obtained only in the most expensive motor cars. The four-cylinder Templar Motor is a small bore, long stroke, high speed, high compression, carefully counter-balanced, overhead valve motor which sets a new standard for power, economy and flexibility. A good four-cylinder motor is more economical, requires less adjustment, is more accessible and costs less to keep in tip-top running order than any other type. The supremacy of the four for long, hard, satisfactory service is proven by their universal use in trucks and racing cars. Prominent engineers tell us we have the finest four-cylinder motor ever built. Dealers tell us we have the handsomest small car on the market. Templar owners tell us they are averaging 20 to 24 miles per gallon and ten to twelve thousand miles on a set of cord tires. THE TEMPLAR MOTORS CORPORATION CLEVELAND, O.
