

NO MOVE IS MADE TO SETTLE STRIKE

Both Sides In Pilot Mills Controversy Mark Time On New Year's Day

MANAGER KELLY WRITES FORMER EMPLOYEES LETTER

Sets Forth Version Of What Transpired At Conference Which Resulted In Strikers Returning To Work Monday; Eviction-Order Effective Tomorrow Unless Strike Ends

No move was made either by striking employees or the management of the Pilot Cotton Mills yesterday to bring to an end the strike...

An apparently hopeless deadlock separated the contending factions last night, the management of the mills continuing to maintain its announced position...

Men in close touch with the situation expect some definite move today before matters reach a definite crisis tomorrow when the strikers have been ordered to vacate company houses...

Mr. Kelly's letter. For the purpose of setting at rest what terms misstatements that have been circulated concerning the conference...

Because of false reports that have been circulated among you concerning a conversation between certain of your number and me, I state to you the following facts:

Last Saturday evening Messrs. C. M. Brown, S. H. H. and C. C. Mangum called at my residence to talk over the situation at Pilot. They again mentioned the signing of an agreement...

I stated that I could not and would not sign any agreement. They spoke of a telegram addressed to the employees that had been received from Mr. Rupprecht...

After this conversation the three above referred to announced that they were willing to go to work again and we parted and the striking employees returned to work Monday.

"During this conversation there was an statement made that we had or would sign any agreement, or that we had or would deal with committees representing the union."

"If you have heard reports concerning this conversation at variance with the above, such reports are based on misunderstandings or misstatements."

"You heard my talk at the Pilot Hall on December 23, 1919. What I said there still stands and will stand as the policy of the management of the Pilot Mill."

"This is written so that you may know the truth and not be misled."

For That CHILLY Feeling. Take Grove's Tasteless CHILL Tonic. It warms the Body by Purifying and Enriching the Blood...

BEGIN MEDICAL SURVEY OF SOUTHERN UNIVERSITIES. Richmond, Va., Jan. 1.—A survey of the medical centers of Virginia and other Southern states was begun today...

Richmond, Va., Jan. 1.—A survey of the medical centers of Virginia and other Southern states was begun today to arrange for an allotment of the $100,000 Rockefeller fund.

A plan is on foot here to consolidate the Medical College of Virginia and the Medical Department of the University of Virginia to the end that $4,000,000 which has been tentatively offered, can be obtained for work in this state.

The question was put up to Governor Westmoreland Davis today with request that the next session of the legislature, which begins January 14, name a commission to conduct a survey of the two institutions with a view of effecting a consolidation.

A savings account started today at the Wake County Savings Bank will draw interest April 1st.—Adv.

B. Y. F. U. Entertained. Stantonburg, Jan. 1.—Members of the B. Y. F. U. of the Stantonburg Baptist church were delightfully entertained at a New Year's party, Wednesday night, by Mrs. O. N. Marshall at the home of Mrs. R. L. Ross.

NEW YEAR'S RECEPTION AT EXECUTIVE MANSION

Attractive Feature Of Event Is Exhibiting North Carolina Toys

Governor and Mrs. Bickett yesterday held their new year's reception at the Mansion when they received their friends informally during the afternoon.

The house was decorated in cedar, holly, spice plant, and long leaf pine, presented by Mr. George McCallister, and gray hanging moss, the gift of Senator and Mrs. Cowper, of Kinston.

With Governor and Mrs. Bickett were Dr. and Mrs. Yarborough, while others assisting in the various rooms were Mrs. William Bailey, Mrs. James Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Brooks, Mrs. Joel Whitaker, Miss Lula Parker, Mrs. May Davis, Miss Helen Whitaker, Mrs. Arthur Fouderton, Mrs. Duncan Cameron, Mrs. Watkins Roberts, Miss Susan Marshall, Miss Dannie Neal, Miss Catherine Alston, Miss Henneicup.

A quaint and attractive feature of the reception given was the show of North Carolina-made toys which Colonel Olds put on in the North Carolina room, which is in the North parlor.

The show was arranged upon tables and desks made from old-fashioned pianos. The toys were made by the Tryon Toy-makers, who have a wonderful plant in the little mountain town of that name in Polk county, 42 miles from Asheville and a little below the crest of the Blue Ridge.

The room was filled all the time with grown-ups who became children for a little while and who declared they had never seen clever toys than these designed and made by the young people of the State.

The toys were of many kinds and a mountain home true to life were the principal features, but there were various others in wide variety. The fact developed that the grown-ups really love toys about as well as children do and in fact they made no secret of it.

In connection with the toy show Mrs. Bickett exhibited particularly attractive mountain-made counterpanes and Colonel Olds showed some beautiful baskets made by Cherokee Indians on their reservation in Swain county.

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE (Tablets). It stops the Cough and Headache and works off the Cold. E. W. GROVE'S signature on each box. 3c.—Adv.

Harvard Machine Defeats Oregon in Pacific Game

laid out when tackled. It was Oregon's ball on their 47-yard line. Manerud replaced Steers.

Huntington went through the line for six yards. Brandenburg and Manerud gained little on line bucks. Manerud attempted a drop kick which was blocked, Oregon recovering in about the same spot. Huntington was thrown for a five-yard loss and went through center for five yards.

Jacobberger probed for three yards through the same hole. Manerud punted to Murray, who ran the ball back to his 18-yard line.

Harvard Penalized. Murray failed to gain through tackle. Chureh kicked to Manerud on Oregon's 49-yard line. Manerud returned, four yards and made a yard around right end. Huntington was thrown for a two-yard loss. Brandenburg made five yards around left end and Harvard was penalized 15 yards for holding, the ball being now on Harvard's 30-yard line.

Huntington made three yards and Brandenburg two through center. Huntington bucked right tackle for three yards and then went through the middle of Harvard's defense for 15 yards. He bucked again for two more. The ball was on Harvard's 14-yard line. Harvard was penalized two yards for losing too much time. Huntington went over center again for three yards. Oregon bucked center again without gaining. Oregon was penalized 15 yards for holding. The ball was now on Harvard's 4-yard line. A forward pass, Manerud to Huntington failed. Manerud drop-kicked from his 30-yard line for a field goal. Score: Harvard, 7; Oregon, 6.

A. Horween kicked off to Brandenburg who ran the ball back to the 30-yard line. Manerud made runs for a gain of 15 yards bringing the ball again to Oregon's 45-yard line in their possession when the half ended.

Score—Harvard, 7; Oregon, 6. Last Period. A. Horween kicked off for Harvard, the ball being out of bounds to Jacobberger on Oregon's 35-yard line. Brandenburg made two yards through left tackle and Huntington made three through center. Manerud failed to gain through the line and punted to Murray on Harvard's 30-yard line. Murray was downed in his tracks, Harvard's ball.

Murray made two yards through left tackle.

On a double pass Casey made one yard and went through left tackle, gaining five yards. Ball was on Harvard's 37-yard line. A. Horween bucked through center for two yards. Church was thrown for a five yard loss in an attempted run around left end.

Church punted to Manerud who was downed in his tracks on Oregon's 28-yard line. Manerud lost five yards around right end. Brandenburg made three yards by a center plunge. Brown replaced Kane at right tackle for Harvard. Manerud punted to Murray on Harvard's 35-yard line, Murray running it back five yards.

The greatest crowd ever assembled at Tournament Park was gathered for the event. The park seated more than 30,000 people and general admissions for standing room ran up the attendance to approximately 35,000, according to officials.

The day was perfect, a slight haze overcasting the sun, not sufficiently to obscure the view of the field from any seat, but enough to prevent heat exhaustion troubling the players.

The line-up: Harvard (7) Oregon (5)

Table with columns: Name, Position, Harvard (7), Oregon (5). Includes players like Desmond, Sedgewick, Woods, Havemeyer, Hubbard, Kane, Steele, Murray, and R. Horween.

Score by periods: Harvard 7 0 0-7 Oregon 0 6 0-6. Harvard scoring: Touchdown, Church. Goal from touchdown, A. Horween.

Officials: Referee George M. Varnell (Spokane, Wash.); Umpire, E. G. Quigley (St. Mary's, Kans.); Head Linesman, E. Plowden Scott, (Portland); Field Judge, Henry Butterfield, (Denver.)

ENGLISH MAYORS SEND GREETINGS

recollection of these great enjoyments of the hospitalities of your people will continue to be the basis of permanent good will and understanding between the armies and the peoples of our respective countries."

Secretary Daniels sent the following message: "One of the memories which the officers and men of the navy will always cherish is that of the unbounded hospitality which was extended to them by the people of Great Britain and Ireland when their duties brought them within the confines of the United Kingdom during the great war, and the close comradeship which existed between the fighting forces of the two great English speaking countries, had a very particular effect in winning the victory for right and justice."

"It will always be a source of gratification to know that the conduct of our men was of such a nature as to inspire such feelings of affection in the hearts and minds of the people of Great Britain and Ireland as indicated in the communication received from their representatives."

What they said to him has not been released for publication, but after it was all over Mr. Abernethy raised the estimate of his majority over Mr. Brinson an even two thousand. He declares now there isn't a particle of doubt but that he will carry the district by a fine majority.

He doesn't believe there will be any other entries and he doesn't believe that the present Congressman will invite him to a joint discussion. Neither seem anxious to have a debate over the district, but each one has said that he would gladly meet the other if the other would issue the challenge.

It is believed here that Mr. Abernethy recalled to Chairman Cummins and the committee the conference here last winter when he dropped his independent contest in the third at the instance of Democratic leaders in order that the Third would be sure to return a Democrat to the Sixty-sixth Congress.

What the committee would do is a matter of much speculation here. Some are inclined to doubt that Chairman Cummins or either the North Carolina member of the committee, A. W. McLean, would take any hand in the situation. Others believe that, on account of the Abernethy withdrawal last year, the committee might in some degree be active to see that he is nominated.

Mr. Brinson isn't worrying at all over the prospects, but believes that he will beat Abernethy by a bigger majority than he beat Claude Wheatley in the election in 1918. Abernethy declares that he is certain to get a larger vote in Craven than he received against Colonel Dortch in the primary. Right now he is laying claim to Wayne county and predicting that it will go for him by enough majority to nominate him without any change in the vote of 1918.

When he was a boy, the Governor recalled, he always thought that the Royal Bengal tiger that fretted against the bars of his cage in the occasional circus, was caged for the protection of the public. Now, he said, he knew that the tiger was caged for the tiger's good.

"A tiger cannot live in the United States outside an iron cage," he said. "Why? Because he is a tiger."

When he was a boy, the Governor recalled, he always thought that the Royal Bengal tiger that fretted against the bars of his cage in the occasional circus, was caged for the protection of the public. Now, he said, he knew that the tiger was caged for the tiger's good.

When he was a boy, the Governor recalled, he always thought that the Royal Bengal tiger that fretted against the bars of his cage in the occasional circus, was caged for the protection of the public. Now, he said, he knew that the tiger was caged for the tiger's good.

When he was a boy, the Governor recalled, he always thought that the Royal Bengal tiger that fretted against the bars of his cage in the occasional circus, was caged for the protection of the public. Now, he said, he knew that the tiger was caged for the tiger's good.

When he was a boy, the Governor recalled, he always thought that the Royal Bengal tiger that fretted against the bars of his cage in the occasional circus, was caged for the protection of the public. Now, he said, he knew that the tiger was caged for the tiger's good.

When he was a boy, the Governor recalled, he always thought that the Royal Bengal tiger that fretted against the bars of his cage in the occasional circus, was caged for the protection of the public. Now, he said, he knew that the tiger was caged for the tiger's good.

the negroes about politics and political activity.

"The greatest blunder the negroes of North Carolina can make at this time," he said, "is to get into politics. I have seen it under both regimes, before 1909 and after 1909, and the most remarkable progress of the negro, has been since 1909."

"I can't go before the legislature and get these things done," he added, referring to his endorsement of needed institutions for the race, "if the cry of the negro in the saddle in politics is once raised in North Carolina. Do not throw away this golden opportunity of your race to stretch out your hands to the moon and claim it for your own."

Four Hours of Celebration. A good sized gathering of negroes sat through the four hours of the celebration required for the pageant, musical program, adoption of resolutions and the speeches. The seven episodes of the pageant set forth in piecemeal facts and figures the outstanding points of progress of the negro since emancipation and emphasized the two principal grievances complained of by the race, now, Jim Crow cars and the lynch law.

"Crime," represented by an overalled negro with a bandana handkerchief and slouch hat, was chased down the line of placarded negroes fringing the stage in the episode of "Today in Negro Life" by another negro, similarly clad and labelled "Lynch Law." The episode ended when "Lynch Law" produced a rope which he threw around the neck of "Crime." The rest was left for the imagination of the spectators.

In the same episode a negro labelled "Jim Crow" passed down the line of figures in the episode pushing and shoving them about roughly while the spectators applauded.

The music yesterday was furnished by the united choir of the city and included many of the old-time melodies, along with the negro national anthem.

Rev. C. E. Askew presided over the ceremonies and Prof. W. S. Turner of Shaw University presented the resolutions. It was after the resolutions had been adopted that Rev. S. A. Howell of Newport News, banker as well as preacher, delivered his address. Governor Bickett followed him.

Resolutions. The resolutions, as adopted, read: "Resolved, that we appreciate the step for the advancement of education in the State, and for the improvement of the teachers together with the efforts for properly compensating them for their services in training the youth of the State, and that we insist that negro children be taught correctly the history of the race and to have pride in the same, and that the same standard of instruction be maintained for every child in the State."

"2. Whereas the races of men the world over are striving to receive a new birth of freedom in this age when the foundations of civilization have been shaken by the conflict between the forces of autocracy and democracy, and whereas the right of self-determination of individuals and nations was and now is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

the negroes about politics and political activity.

"The greatest blunder the negroes of North Carolina can make at this time," he said, "is to get into politics. I have seen it under both regimes, before 1909 and after 1909, and the most remarkable progress of the negro, has been since 1909."

"I can't go before the legislature and get these things done," he added, referring to his endorsement of needed institutions for the race, "if the cry of the negro in the saddle in politics is once raised in North Carolina. Do not throw away this golden opportunity of your race to stretch out your hands to the moon and claim it for your own."

Four Hours of Celebration. A good sized gathering of negroes sat through the four hours of the celebration required for the pageant, musical program, adoption of resolutions and the speeches. The seven episodes of the pageant set forth in piecemeal facts and figures the outstanding points of progress of the negro since emancipation and emphasized the two principal grievances complained of by the race, now, Jim Crow cars and the lynch law.

"Crime," represented by an overalled negro with a bandana handkerchief and slouch hat, was chased down the line of placarded negroes fringing the stage in the episode of "Today in Negro Life" by another negro, similarly clad and labelled "Lynch Law." The episode ended when "Lynch Law" produced a rope which he threw around the neck of "Crime." The rest was left for the imagination of the spectators.

In the same episode a negro labelled "Jim Crow" passed down the line of figures in the episode pushing and shoving them about roughly while the spectators applauded.

The music yesterday was furnished by the united choir of the city and included many of the old-time melodies, along with the negro national anthem.

Rev. C. E. Askew presided over the ceremonies and Prof. W. S. Turner of Shaw University presented the resolutions. It was after the resolutions had been adopted that Rev. S. A. Howell of Newport News, banker as well as preacher, delivered his address. Governor Bickett followed him.

Resolutions. The resolutions, as adopted, read: "Resolved, that we appreciate the step for the advancement of education in the State, and for the improvement of the teachers together with the efforts for properly compensating them for their services in training the youth of the State, and that we insist that negro children be taught correctly the history of the race and to have pride in the same, and that the same standard of instruction be maintained for every child in the State."

"2. Whereas the races of men the world over are striving to receive a new birth of freedom in this age when the foundations of civilization have been shaken by the conflict between the forces of autocracy and democracy, and whereas the right of self-determination of individuals and nations was and now is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

the negroes about politics and political activity.

"The greatest blunder the negroes of North Carolina can make at this time," he said, "is to get into politics. I have seen it under both regimes, before 1909 and after 1909, and the most remarkable progress of the negro, has been since 1909."

"I can't go before the legislature and get these things done," he added, referring to his endorsement of needed institutions for the race, "if the cry of the negro in the saddle in politics is once raised in North Carolina. Do not throw away this golden opportunity of your race to stretch out your hands to the moon and claim it for your own."

Four Hours of Celebration. A good sized gathering of negroes sat through the four hours of the celebration required for the pageant, musical program, adoption of resolutions and the speeches. The seven episodes of the pageant set forth in piecemeal facts and figures the outstanding points of progress of the negro since emancipation and emphasized the two principal grievances complained of by the race, now, Jim Crow cars and the lynch law.

"Crime," represented by an overalled negro with a bandana handkerchief and slouch hat, was chased down the line of placarded negroes fringing the stage in the episode of "Today in Negro Life" by another negro, similarly clad and labelled "Lynch Law." The episode ended when "Lynch Law" produced a rope which he threw around the neck of "Crime." The rest was left for the imagination of the spectators.

In the same episode a negro labelled "Jim Crow" passed down the line of figures in the episode pushing and shoving them about roughly while the spectators applauded.

The music yesterday was furnished by the united choir of the city and included many of the old-time melodies, along with the negro national anthem.

Rev. C. E. Askew presided over the ceremonies and Prof. W. S. Turner of Shaw University presented the resolutions. It was after the resolutions had been adopted that Rev. S. A. Howell of Newport News, banker as well as preacher, delivered his address. Governor Bickett followed him.

Resolutions. The resolutions, as adopted, read: "Resolved, that we appreciate the step for the advancement of education in the State, and for the improvement of the teachers together with the efforts for properly compensating them for their services in training the youth of the State, and that we insist that negro children be taught correctly the history of the race and to have pride in the same, and that the same standard of instruction be maintained for every child in the State."

"2. Whereas the races of men the world over are striving to receive a new birth of freedom in this age when the foundations of civilization have been shaken by the conflict between the forces of autocracy and democracy, and whereas the right of self-determination of individuals and nations was and now is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom is Governor Bickett; resolved that we memorialize Congress that there be a Federal investigation of race riots and that lynching be made a capital crime punishable by the United States government."

"4. Resolved that we build up confidence in one another, strengthen the ties of fidelity among us, tighten the bonds of brotherhood in the race and encourage our people to manifest an interest in the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of one another, and that we hold sacred the right to select our own leaders."

is the paramount issue, resolved that the negro do his utmost to make America the embodiment of those principles which we defended with our lives and resources during the world war. To this end we urge that the press and leaders of the race insist in season and out of season that our people qualify to vote, and to use the ballot as one of the most effective instruments in the service of the country and in the fight against injustice and discrimination in a democracy. Resolved, further, that we express our strongest disapproval of crime in every form."

"3. Whereas a reign of lawlessness and mob violence now threatens to demolish and destroy the structure of American civilization, while the States stand helpless in the face of this awful terror despite the strong words and heroic efforts of outstanding individuals, distinguished among whom