

WOMAN KILLS MAN AT GASTONIA MILL

Homicide Is Said To Have Been Caused By Usual Combination of Mean Whiskey

Gastonia, Feb. 7.—Richard Fisher, white, aged about 30 years, was shot and instantly killed this afternoon by Edie Robinson. He was shot through the heart, Edie Robinson, an alleged woman of notorious character, the tragedy coming as the usual result of the combination of drunken men, mean whiskey and bad women.

The affair occurred outside the city limits beyond the Arlington Mills near a store kept by John Kinley. About 4 o'clock Fisher, Bud Wallace and a third man whose name is unknown went to Kinley's store and attempted to pick a quarrel with Kinley who ordered them off the premises. It is said that he fired one shot from a pistol into the ground to hasten their departure.

A few minutes later, the men returned, all drunk, it is stated and resumed the quarrel. Kinley picked up a chair and attempted to drive Fisher away. Fisher drawing his knife in the meantime and cutting Kinley about the face and neck, Wallace, who was standing near by took a hand in the fracas at this juncture and jumped on the two struggling men on the ground, it was declared. Seeing that her man was getting the worst of it the woman, Edie Robinson, seized a pistol from a counter in the store and warned Wallace to get off Kinley or she would shoot him. The warning was unheeded and she fired, but hit Fisher, shooting him clean through the heart, the bullet passing out his back. He died instantly. Wallace escaped, but was later apprehended.

Chief of Police Orr was soon on the scene and the woman was brought to town and lodged in jail. Solicitor Wilson also visited the scene of the crime within an hour after the tragedy. At a late hour tonight, the Robinson woman, Kinley and Wallace were still in jail and will most likely remain until Monday.

From all accounts it seems that Wallace is a notoriously bad character, likewise the Robinson woman who was employed by Kinley in his store. She also lived in the rear, end of the store. Kinley, it is said, had been keeping company with her. He lives about 100 feet from the store. Fisher was unmarried and had lately been discharged from the army.

Look For Georgia To Divide Votes For Presidency

(Continued from Page One.)

Department would be sent to Goldsboro at once to look into the needs of the office in so far as clerical assistance was concerned.

At the Treasury Department Judge T. H. Moyle, assistant secretary, informed the delegation that an inspector would be sent there right away to look into the matter of enlarged space. It was suggested during the conference that a part of the building now used as a lobby be converted into space for additional lock boxes and more room for the postoffice clerks. Goldsboro might be able to get a new public building for the postoffice but for the fact that the Republicans have declined to pass any public building bills at this session of Congress.

Other public buildings contemplated for the Third district, along with every other district in the State, have been knocked out by the Republican economy program.

Want Embargo Lifted. The North Carolina Public Service Company today appealed to Representative Steadman to have lifted an embargo on gas coal, which threatens to disrupt the supply of gas for Greensboro, High Point and Salisbury. A sufficient supply of coal was en route to the company from the coal fields of West Virginia, but was confiscated by the Southern Railway. Major Steadman took the matter up with the Railroad Administration and asked for some relief.

Representative Sam Brinson, in conference today with Secretary Baker, arranged to accompany the Secretary to New Bern on February 17 when the latter is to deliver the principal address at the reorganization dinner of the New Bern Chamber of Commerce. The Secretary and Mr. Brinson will leave here together and Mr. Brinson will return with Mr. Baker by way of Norfolk.

Conference in Raleigh. Representatives of the Department of Justice will leave here Monday for Raleigh to attend a conference in that city Tuesday between representatives of the North Carolina Merchants' Association and Fair Price Commissioner Henry committee of Raleigh physicians will assist Dr. Ahrens in every way possible.

Influenza Spread Brings Quarantine Order in Raleigh

(Continued from Page One.)

Red Cross Makes Appeal. In the meantime, the Raleigh Red Cross which has been providing diet for a number of helpless families is asking for funds for the relief of suffering among the destitute.

The closing ordinance already agreed upon, was adopted yesterday at the morning meeting of the board of commissioners. A committee of physicians, appointed by the Raleigh Academy of Medicine Friday night proposed the immediate closing. There was a little opposition, but the closing prevailed, ministers present asserting their willingness to close the churches likewise. The committee of physicians was composed of Dr. W. S. Rankin, Dr. C. O. Abernethy, Dr. A. W. Knox, Dr. L. N. West, Dr. W. L. Royster, and Dr. John D. Berry.

The Ordinance. The ordinance as adopted follows: "Whereas, influenza is prevalent in the city with large numbers of people affected and many new cases being reported daily; and

"Whereas, State, City, and County health officials have strongly recommended the closing of schools and places of public entertainment, and the prohibition of public gatherings until the existing danger subsides; Now therefore it is hereby

"Ordained by the Board of Commissioners of the city of Raleigh, that all public schools, theatres, concert halls, moving picture shows, dance halls, and other places of public amusement be closed, that public gatherings of people be forbidden, and that lodges, clubs, and civic bodies be prohibited from meeting.

"Further, That presidents, principals, or other managers of educational institutions, private schools and classes be requested to establish and maintain a rigid quarantine of their premises, prohibiting boarding students from leaving the campus except by permission of the physician in charge, and only under escort, avoiding crowds and public places; and that day pupils be prohibited from attending boarding schools.

"Further, That pastors of churches and superintendents of Sunday Schools be requested to close their houses of worship during the time covered by this order.

"Further, That this order remain in force for ten days unless in the meantime revoked or modified.

"Further, That any violation of the prohibitions herein contained shall subject the person offending to a penalty of ten dollars.

"This ordinance, being in the interest of the public health, shall go into effect this day at six o'clock, p. m."

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE SEES NO IMMEDIATE DANGER.

Washington, Feb. 7.—While a review of the influenza situation tonight showed numerous cases of the malady in the principal cities of the South, health officials declared there was nothing to indicate that an epidemic of serious proportions was in prospect. Reports today to the Public Health Service from twenty-five States indicated the epidemic was at a standstill in most communities and that new cases showed a decline in others. Only in a few centers in the South was an increase noted.

Health officials agree that the malady is of a very mild form, the low death rate directly attributable to it, being pointed to as the basis for this assertion. The greater number of the fatalities incident to the present outbreak have resulted from pneumonia developed while convalescing and this is stressed by officials in urging that patients be extremely careful during that period and take all precautions against contracting cold.

A resume of conditions as reported tonight from various Southern cities follows: Roanoke: One death from pneumonia, 105 new cases of influenza. Peak of epidemic indicated. Memphis: New cases, 215; decreasing. Schools and theatres closed. Church services and public gatherings curtailed. Atlanta: Four deaths; 463 new cases. Street cars ordered ventilated. Nashville: Two deaths. Twenty-nine new cases during week. Street cars ordered ventilated. Knoxville: Few new cases; peak indicated; no repressive measures contemplated.

templated. Birmingham: Few cases. Repressive measures revoked. Chattanooga: New cases, 17; health authorities consider situation does not warrant repressive measures. Raleigh: Slight increase in new cases. Theatres, churches, schools and other public gatherings places ordered closed for ten days. Charlotte: Situation not alarming, but schools ordered closed next week. Asheville: Two deaths; 70 new cases. Public gatherings restricted.

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE.

Every mother and father who is seriously interested in the happiness, success and education of their children will immediately buy "The Book of Knowledge" as soon as its merits are known. It interests, charms and educates your child—and your child's parents. Every member of the family, from the "tiny tots" to the gray haired grandparents are entertained and benefited by this splendid set of books. Prices right. Easy terms. Write J. T. Nesworthy, the Book Man, Selwyn Hotel, Charlotte, N. C.—(Adv.)

Many Cases in Atlanta. Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 7.—Four hundred and sixty-three new cases of influenza with four deaths from that disease or pneumonia complications were reported here today, making a total of 2,110 cases and 14 deaths reported in the last fortnight. Ventilation of street cars and theatres and personal precautions by citizens are about the only measures taken so far.

Want America To Tell What Monroe Doctrine Means

(Continued from Page One.)

upon the diverse political tendencies prevailing at that particular time in the United States.

"It would be unnecessary, Mr. Secretary, to undertake any detailed exposition of the various views of prominent thinkers and public men of the United States as to the genuine and correct interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine, which former Secretary of State Elihu Root regarded as a declaration based on the right of the people of the United States to protect itself as a nation and which could not be transformed into a declaration, joint or common, to all the nations of America or even to a limited number of them."

"My government recognized that the Monroe Doctrine consolidated the independence of the continental states of Latin America and saved them from the great danger of a European intervention. It realized that it is a powerful factor in the existence of the Democratic form of government on this continent and that it raised a barrier to European colonization. Since, however, the covenant of the League of Nations does not set forth nor determine the purpose nor fix a definite criterion of international relationship in America; and since, on the other hand, the doctrine will be forthwith transformed in view of the full sanction of the nations of the world—into a principle of universal public law, juris et de jure, I request that your excellency will be good enough to give the authentic interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine as it is understood in the present historical moment and its future application by the government of the United States, which most realize that my government is keenly desirous of securing a statement which shall put an end to the divergence of views now prevailing on the subject which it is recognized by all is not the most propitious in stimulating the ideals of pure pan-Americanism. Contrary to the authorized and respected view of former Secretary of State Root, the Monroe Doctrine through its inclusion in the covenant of the League of Nations will be converted without doubt into a genesis of American international law.

A Fundamental Principle. "Since any amendment to the text of the treaty and even the rejection of all of its provisions by the American Senate would still leave intact the various points which this international agreement covers as to the other signatory nations, by virtue of their general and

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

Wilson Renews His Objection To Some of Treaty Changes

(Continued from Page One.)

reservations which I presented to the Senate November 19, after they had been approved by the Democratic caucus. In the Senate they received 41 votes.

The President's Reply. "The President's letter follows: "26 January, 1920.

"My dear Senator Hitchcock: "I have greatly appreciated your thoughtful kindness in keeping me informed concerning the conferences you and some of your colleagues have had with spokesmen of the Republican party concerning the possibility of ratification of the treaty of peace, and send this line in special appreciative acknowledgment of your letter of the twenty-second. I return the clipping you were kind enough to enclose.

"To the substance of it I, of course, adhere. I am bound to like yourself, I am solemnly sworn to obey and maintain the Constitution of the United States. But I think the form of it very unfortunate. Any reservation or resolution stating that 'the United States assumes no obligation under such and such an article unless or except' would, I am sure, nullify our relationship with the nations with which we expect to be associated in the great enterprise of maintaining the world's peace.

"That association must in any case, my dear Senator, involve very serious and far-reaching implications of honor and duty, which I am sure we shall never in fact be desirous of ignoring. It is the more important not to create the impression that we are trying to escape obligations.

Could Accept Reservations. "But I realize that negative criticism is not all that is called for in so serious a matter. I am happy to be able to add, therefore, that I have once more gone over the reservations proposed by yourself, the copy of which I return herewith, and am glad to say that I can accept them as they stand.

"I have never seen the slightest reason to doubt the good faith of our associates in the war, nor ever had the slightest reason to fear that any nation would seek to enlarge our obligations under the covenant of the League of Nations, or seek to commit us to lines of action, which, under our Constitution, only the Congress of the United States can in the last analysis decide.

Doubts Its Constitutionality. "May I suggest that with regard to the possible withdrawal of the United States it would be wise to give to the President the right to act upon our resolution of Congress in the matter of withdrawing? In other words, it would seem to be permissible and advisable that any resolution giving notice of withdrawal should be a joint rather than a concurrent resolution. I doubt whether the President can be deprived of his veto power under the Constitution, even with his own consent. The use of a joint resolution would permit the President, who is, of course, charged by the Constitution with the conduct of foreign policy, to merely exercise a voice in saying whether so important a step as withdrawal from the League of Nations would be accomplished by a majority or by a two-thirds vote. The Constitution itself providing that the legislative body was to be consulted in treaty making and having prescribed a two-thirds vote in cases, it seems to me that there should be no unnecessary departure from the method there indicated.

"I see no objection to a frank statement that the United States can accept a mandate with regard to any territory under article eight, part one, or any other provision of the treaty of peace, only by the direct authority and action of the Congress of the United States.

"I hope, my dear Senator, that you will never hesitate to call upon me for any assistance that I can render in this or any other public matter.

"Cordially and sincerely yours, "WOODROW WILSON."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

expressed acceptance, the principle embodied in the League of Nations and therefore the Monroe Doctrine would be virtually accepted as a fundamental principle of public American law by all those countries that signed or manifested their adherence to the Peace Treaty. The necessity of an interpretation of the genesis and scope of the Monroe Doctrine not only in the development of the lofty purpose of pan-Americanism, but in order that that doctrine may maintain its original purity and prestige, is rendered all the more urgent."

LIFT OFF CORNS! With the fingers! No pain at all! Drop a little "Freezone" on a sore, tender corn or a callus. Instantly that corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without pain, soreness or irritation. Yes, magic! Why wait! Costs only a few cents! Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes and painful calluses on bottom of feet just loosen and fall off. Truly! You feel no pain when applying Freezone or afterward.

T. W. Dobbin COMPANY Formerly Dobbin & Ferrall Raleigh's YARD GOODS STORE Lingerie for Spring Imported real Swisses, English Chiffons, Sheer Batistes, Fine Nainsooks and Laces. We Sell for Cash and Mark Our Goods at Cash Prices.

A Player-Piano Means Life, Music, Merriment W HAT a joyous surprise it would be for your family to come home some day and find a beautiful Player-Piano installed in the living-room! Can you picture the joy of the children as they gaze in admiration at this wonderful new plaything, and listen spellbound to the strains of its magic melody? And the pleasure of the grown-ups, too! Think it over. There is no good reason why there should not be a Player-Piano in your home, as in thousands of other homes. Our convenient monthly payment plan will help you and at the same time you will be adding immeasurably to the contentment and happiness of all members of your family.

Make Your Own Terms if at All Reasonable Darnell & Thomas W. A. THOMAS, Manager. 116 Fayetteville Street Raleigh, N. C.

We have just received Carload of "Old Trusty" Incubators, Brooders and Stoves. Also carload of supplies—Egg Cases, Shipping Cases, Feeds, Trap Nests, Drinking Troughs, Egg Testers, Baby Chick Boxes, etc. We manufacture P. P. More Egg Tonic, and other medicines, and teach you Poultry Raising. Write us for our catalogue "Everything for the Poultryman." Poultry Producers Supply Company, 401 Merchants Bank Bldg. Raleigh, N. C.

Call 547 Coal :: Wood :: Ice "We Serve Promptly" JOHNSON COAL AND ICE CO. 108 W. North St.

Interesting Portrayals of the Newer Style Motifs In SPRING MILLINERY at POPULAR PRICES. The Ladies Shop 14 E. Hargett St.

New life for the Victor Every Victor Record puts new life into the Victor, brings new enjoyment to yourself and family. And there's enough variety in the new selections for you to pick out just the kind of music you want. Come in and hear some of the latest records; or write us for a descriptive list. RALEIGH TALKING MACHINE SHOP "Victor Specialists" 115 FAYETTEVILLE STREET

We must close Out all Ladies and Misses Coats, Suits and Dresses AT ONCE Prices and values will not be considered — your savings will be immense if you act now! S. Glass 210 Fayetteville St. "The Same Merchandise For Less Money"

Exceptional Values are Being Offered in Our Semi-Annual Sale. Made of Grey Kid: formerly $16.00. Now $12.00. Made of Field Mouse Kid: formerly $16.00. Now $12.80. Made of Black Kid: formerly $14.00. Now $11.20. One Lot of Grey Kid Shoes that must go at $6.95. Everything Cash Nothing Sent On Approval. Walk-Over Boot Shop 117 Fayetteville St.

GENERAL INSURANCE, Stocks and Bonds LET US SHOW YOU Some of the Good Features Embodied in THE TRAVELERS' LIFE, HEALTH AND ACCIDENT CONTRACTS Phone 182 Chas. E. Johnson, Jr. STOCKS AND BONDS Office: Raleigh Banking and Trust Co. Building RALEIGH, N. C.