New York, April 13.—Propaganda is being used against an American merchant marine, according to Rear Admiral W. S. Benson, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, who spoke tonight at the annual dinner of the National Marine League in connection with the celebration of National Marine Week.

"The usually high record of performance of shipbuilders, the ship operators and those who manned our ships," he said, "is often forgotten because of the insidious spreading of exaggerated accounts that now and then appear in the press, frequently under a foreign date line.

rate those who apparently were directing it.

In discussing this action Mr. Palmer explained that conditions were not the same on all roads and added that "the influences behind the strike must be ascertained." He would not say what he would be made of these names, but other officials said they would furnish valuable comparisons in department records of known radicals, I. W. W.'s and revolutionaries. It was understood that similar requests might be sent to other railroad officials later, although this action also awaited determination of the government policy.

Canada Sends Help. Assistant Attorney General Garvan said the department had evidence of help for the strikers being sent from Canada, but did not know the extent of this aid. Labor leaders of the I. Their principal efforts seemed to be to break the ranks of loyal shop workers, reports at the department said.

Throngs Inspect Great Array of Motor Exhibits (Continued from Page One.)

by the great 12-cylinder seven passenger car of that name. The exhibit is in charge of R. M. Chipley, of Greensboro, and is one of the handsomest automobiles ever seen here. The maker has departed from the somewhat old fashioned lines that have characterized the car for some years, and it presents a perfectly balanced design. As a lady remarked last night after she had surveyed the car, "Well, everybody wants a Packard, but there is not enough of them to go around."

Another Old Favorite. A little farther up the aisle is another old favorite, the Winston Six, the biggest enclosed car in the show. This model is done in dark maroon and black with R-styles and upholstery with figured velvet upholstery, and is easily one of the handsomest Lincoln motor cars in America. Its powerful motor is a standard by which others have been judged since the days back in 1906 when the Winston first perfected the four cylinder, the parent of the present high grade six. The appointments of the car are of unusual distinction and altogether it is "job" that has won it the highest praise.

A little farther up the line of exhibits is another of the highest priced cars, the Stutz, long known as the speediest stock car built in America. It is a particularly favorite among the younger visitors, because of its low, rakish construction, and the undisputed ability to cover ground. The model on exhibit is a five passenger, equipped with wire wheels, Westinghouse shock absorbers, etc. Visitors are welcomed to the Stutz booth by Mr. Dan F. Carroll, of the North Carolina Motors Corporation, of Charlotte.

Across from the Stutz is the Marmon, and the Cole Aero Eight, two more cars that have the ability to hold their own with the swiftest. Two handsome touring cars of the Marmon make are on exhibit.

Advertisement for Calomel. 'YOU WOULDN'T TRY TO TAME A WILD-CAT. Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel. Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea. If you feel bilious, headache, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money. If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they love it.'

tion and one of the Cole. The Marmon gives the impression of massiveness, and is one of the largest cars in the show, but in reality is very light. It weighs only 3,300 pounds, and the 80 horses powered motor gets from 10 to 12 miles per gallon of gasoline and more speed than any one will ever have occasion to use. It is beautifully finished and luxuriously appointed.

The Nash exhibit consists of four models, open and enclosed, and a chassis with the motor's working parts enclosed in glass. Hundreds of people that didn't know before just how an automobile worked have tarried there to watch the wheels inside turn over and can tell today exactly what makes the motor go. The exhibit is one of the most instructive ever seen at a show, and the simplicity of the Nash motor, and the sturdiness of its construction are interestingly portrayed. The bodies of the various types are fitted comparisons to such a chassis.

With Accessories. To the left of the visitor as he enters the tent is the exhibit of motor accessories, which includes scores of things that have come to be regarded as necessities in motoring. There is every device that takes the work out of owning an automobile—tire pumps, model jacks, tire repair outfits, and all of the scores of things that have become the appearance of the properly equipped automobile. The exhibit is supervised by Mr. William M. Hoylan.

Many visitors were attracted by a perfectly gaudy model of a smart racing car, done by Mr. Boyd's nephew, Master George Thompson. The little car has a wheel base of eight inches, and is complete, even to the electric lights that actually burn, steering gear, etc. A cigar box and a little glue, and such things, in the hands of the youngster, have been turned into an automobile that looks for all the world like a swift speedster on exhibit.
