DANIELS TESTIFIES AS TO VICE SUPPRESSION

Immediate Orders Were Issued To Stop Alleged Misconduct at Newport, N. I.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Secretary Daniels testified today before a naval board, investigating methods employed in an attempt to suppress vice at the Newport training station, that he obtained his first knowledge of alleged misconduct on the part of the Navy personnel from Bishop Ferry, of Rhode Island.

Mr. Daniels said he was "shocked" at the allegations presented last September by the Bishop in asking that the Navy Department apologize to Rev. Samuel M. Kent, an Episcopal minister of Newport, who was acquitted by a court there on charges lodged against him by naval operators.

Immediate orders to stop "such base methods" as charged by Bishop Ferry were issued, the Secretary said, adding that "they were unspokeable and would not be tolerated for a moment."

Mr. Daniels said he refused Bishop Ferry's request for an apology to Mr. Kent because he found upon investigation that the case along with those of other civilians had been turned over by the navy to the Department of Justice, which was then preparing to proceed against the minister in the Federal court at Providence.

Asked by counsel for the Newport Ministers' Union if, by not taking steps to halt the prosecution of Mr. Kent by the Department of Justice, he had sanctioned the methods used in obtaining evidence against him, Mr. Daniels replied that with this matter in the hands of the Department of Justice he would "not have presumed to suggest what course it should pursue."

MRS. VANN GIVEN $8,000 BY VERDICT

Jury Awards Damages For Injuries Received at Union Station

A jury in Wake County Superior court yesterday awarded Mrs. R. T. Vann damages in the amount of $8,000 for injuries sustained at the Union Station in March, 1918. Judgment was entered against the Southern Railway Co. and the United States Railroad Administration, the court having previously sustained a demurrer of the American Railway Express Co. and original party to the suit.

On motion of the plaintiffs, the case was non-suited in respect to Dr. E. T. Vann, originally a joint plaintiff with Mrs. Vann. An independent suit filed by Dr. Vann is still pending. Yesterday's verdict did not include compensation for expenses incurred by Dr. and Mrs. Vann as a result of the injury, that item being contained in Dr. Vann's suit. It was stated yesterday that the expenses have been approximately $3,000.

The only witnesses examined yesterday were Miss Bertha Carroll, who testified on the first day, and Dr. Hugh A. Thompson, one of the physicians who treated Mrs. Vann's foot.

Miss Carroll gave further testimony in regard to the manner in which Mrs. Vann was run over by a truck while waiting at the station to embark upon a train.

The jury rendered its verdict after about forty-five minutes' consideration. Notice of an appeal was given by the defendants.

Asked by counsel for the Newport Ministers' Union if, by not taking steps to halt the prosecution of Mr. Kent by the Department of Justice, he had sanctioned the methods used in obtaining evidence against him, Mr. Daniels replied that with this matter in the hands of the Department of Justice he would "not have presumed to suggest what course it should pursue."

HERE'S THE SECRET OF BEATING OLD H. C. L.

Correspondent of N. and O. Has Worked Problem Out To a Victorious Finish

To the Editor: I have read so much in the papers regarding the high cost of living and by so many different people that I want to say a little on this line, too.

We are asking Senators and other officials to reduce the high cost of living for us. We are asking those great men to do something for us that we are not trying to do for ourselves. Now let's get the true cause of the problem, and then probably we can better adopt a remedy. It is not the high cost of living, it is the cost of high living. If we will work on the high living, the cost will materially reduce itself. I agree there are many articles which are seemingly out of reason in price, which are essential to life, but there are many things which are detrimental to the human family which are extravagantly purchased.

There seems to be an instinct with the people of today that is reaching out for something, they don't know what, and it is caused by an educated and practical thought of envy and popularity that forces the individual to be superior to his associates in things that are material. Now in the line of eating the error is not so wide and we can't have in general much individual depreciation in price. Only in saving the quantity can we do much, but we can do that much. Everybody should eat plenty, but at many tables there is enough left after meals to be sent to waste, that would make plenty for a meal at the same table. So you can see this is a waste to the country, and we have enough burden to bear without any waste of our own work.

Now take the things which we can govern individually, and see if we can't help ourselves to reduce the cost of high living.

Take for example women's wearing apparel. The woman like the man, generally speaking, is not satisfied with the grade and quality of clothing as she wore five years ago. She can get a dress now for $25 just as nice as the one she bought five years ago for $11 and then she was satisfied and neatly dressed, but now she will take a $35 to $75 dress instead—this being a finer and more fancy dress. So there comes as cost of high living. She can buy a pair of cotton hose for 50 cents like she bought five years ago, but they are not good enough so she will take the silk pair the merchant puts before her fastidious eyes for $2.00 or $3.00. So these are things that can easily be self-adjusted and we are just as well off and thereby are reducing the cost of this high living.

It is the same way with the man. He will go to the store and can't do with a suit of clothes the same grade of his five years ago suit. He could get that for $30 which would make years ago $15, but he will pay for the most beautiful suit which costs from $40 to $75, and when buying a pair of half-hose he won't buy a pair of cotton ones for 50 cents like those he bought five years ago for 15 cents. He pays 75 cents to $1.50 for a silk pair that is guaranteed not to last over four Sundays before a hole appears in the heel, and then they are given away and another new pair is bought. "So with his suit; he can't be satisfied with a good decent shirt, but must get a $5.00 to $8.00 silk one, and then grumble like the mischief about the cost of high living.

We must put our thinking operators in action and try and control our envious imaginations and then we can and will help ourselves do that which we have been asking others to do for us—that is to reduce the high cost of living (cost of high living).

Sincerely,
A. M. COTTEN.

ASHEVILLE GARAGES TO CUT GASOLINE PRICES

Reduce Profits From Three and Half to Half Cent Per Gallon For Cash

Asheville, May 22.—One of the most welcome announcements which has tinkled in the ears of local automobile riders and pleasure seekers is the announcement made today that the price of gasoline has come down.

According to a decision reached Saturday, when representatives of practically all the auto dealers and garages of the city conferred regarding the high cost of gasoline and tried to evolve some method by which they could reduce the cost to the consumer the new price of 31 cents will become effective Sunday morning.

This is a drop of three cents on the gallon. Every garage in Asheville will sell gasoline for 31 cents cash but will maintain their old price of 34 cents per gallon when it is charged.

At the same time some of the filling stations, notably the Asheville filling station will take off from its price, and instead of charging 34 will sell gasoline for 32 cents a gallon. They have been making three and a half cents a gallon on their gasoline, and have decided to limit their profits to one and a half cents on the gallon.

AN OPEN LETTER TO RUPTURE SUFFERERS
THE ONE TREATMENT, PAINLESS, BLOODLESS, RUPTURE CURE.
DR. ERNEST W. DUNN
"HERNIA SPECIALIST"
New Bern, N. C., May 22nd, 1920.

Dear Folks: Knowing that you are greatly interested in being cured, I am writing to ask that you give careful consideration to what I have to say in this letter.

Because the treatment I give for Rupture is such a God-send to humanity, and to those are only three other specialists besides myself, who know this treatment, I am giving up all my other practice so that I may devote my whole time to doing the most I can for my fellow-man. Some of the work I am giving up includes the office of Medical Examiner for ten Insurance Companies, as well as the splendid general practice I have established.

During the year 1919, I made a 100% record—CURED EVERY MAN WHO TOOK THE COMPLETE TREATMENT. For three years I have made an absolute success on every baby treated. This method is slightly different from that given to an adult, but to save a young baby from the knife is a great blessing.

A number of people anxious to be treated find it difficult to make the trip to my office. Because I want to do all the good I can with the knowledge and skill of my profession, I am planning to visit different places in North-Carolina. If you cannot come to New Bern to see me, write me now for an appointment so I may arrange to see you when I come to your town.

If you have Rupture, don't hesitate to write me for full information. I will gladly tell you whether or not a cure can be secured when I know the facts of your case.
REMEMBER—THE BEST THING TO DO IS TO WRITE ME TODAY!
With best wishes,
Yours sincerely,
ERNEST W. DUNN,
