

NEW TURN TAKEN IN MURDER CASE

Names "Hitherto Not Mentioned" Are Involved in Elwell Investigation

New York, June 19.—Evidence involving persons "not hitherto mentioned" in connection with the murder of Joseph B. Elwell, turkman and whist expert, who was shot to death in his home here June 11, was obtained today, Assistant District Attorney Dooling announced tonight.

The names were given to the officials by William Barnes, Elwell's secretary, who was examined today at a conference of detectives and members of the district attorney's force. Barnes furnished the investigators with several important new leads, Mr. Dooling said.

The officials are convinced, according to Mr. Dooling, that Elwell's assailant was not a stranger.

"We have learned," he said, "that even persons who had legitimate business at the house had difficulty getting in. This proves that whoever called there was no stranger."

Barnes furnished the officials with the names of several persons said to have been "bitter enemies" of Elwell, Dooling said.

Barnes expressed the belief, according to the district attorney's force, that only a "man with a key" to Elwell's house could have committed the murder.

Assistant District Attorney Talley, who also attended the conference, declared the situation was no nearer solution, although the officials have "an idea of several people who may have committed the murder."

"But we haven't any evidence on any of them," he added.

The case will not be submitted to the grand jury, Mr. Talley said, "as there is nothing to be presented at this time."

Motor Convoy Is Welcomed To City By Gov. Bickett

B. D. Cardwell, Federal highway engineer for Virginia and North Carolina, the banquet was over and the men moved away to town and the dance.

Convoy Completely Equipped.

Raleigh was somewhat amazed at the completeness of the convoy. It is made up of 65 motor vehicles, ranging from sprightly motorcycles that gun ahead and scout out the roads, behind to urge laggards and bring the commanding officer word of the progress of the fleet, to the great giants of the road, carrying many tons of cargo. It carries its own provisions for the officers and 115 enlisted men, complete hospital equipment, field kitchens, two repair shops on wheels, a wireless telegraph outfit, tank cars for gasoline and oil, two hospital cars, and a bridge car that goes ahead a few miles with ample material for repairing bridges that are deemed unsafe for the passage of the heaviest truck.

The trip over from Oxford was made in nine hours yesterday, including the stop in Wake Forest for dinner. The going was uncertain until the convoy reached Franklinton. Several of the heavier trucks slipped off the road and had to be yanked back with the help of the tractor. After Wake county was reached, the going was better and the outfit was able to maintain its maximum road schedule of nine miles an hour. The trip from Wake Forest was made in less than two hours. Most of the trucks are equipped with pneumatic tires, and but little trace was left of the passage of the 65 heavy vehicles.

The youngest member of the personnel of the outfit is "Mac" Bountree, the 8-year-old son of the field director, who has made the entire trip and will continue to the Pacific coast. He seems and says he is having a great time. For the most part he is impartial about where he rides, going awhile with one truck and then establishing himself with another. Col. Benehan Cameron is going as far as Birmingham with the convoy, and is also having the time of his life. Mr. Page has detailed two inspectors from the Highway Commission to accompany the convoy through North Carolina, assisting the road engineer in any way possible.

DELCO LIGHT CO. GIVES INTERESTING EXHIBIT

An interesting exhibit of Delco-Light Plant No. 100,000, the number indicating the growth and success of the Delco-Light business in the past three years, has just closed at the Commercial National Bank where it was viewed by many people.

The exhibit was put on by the Home Light and Power Co., distributors of Delco-Light products. Much is heard these days about the drift of the people from the farms to the towns and the statement has much truth in it. Some of the thinkers of the country who have studied out the proposition, give as a remedy that the conveniences which are now to be secured in towns should be established in the country and one of the most appreciated conveniences that comes to most people in a community is a lighting and water system.

MR. HARDY VISITS HILLSBORO TOWN

After Absence of Eight Years Finds Many Evidences of Growth

By H. B. HARDY.

Hillsboro, June 19.—It is about eight years since I have been in Hillsboro. I see a good many old landmarks still standing, also I see here as well signs of rapid improvement, growth and development.

Among some of the industries that give employment to many of what may be termed town builders, people who have to place their weekly wage in circulation, distributing it among the various business enterprises of the town are the Eno Cotton Mills with 800 looms and 35,000 spindles, new, up to date, moderately equipped, Bellview Cotton Mills with 400 looms and 12,000 spindles.

These mills are located near the Southern Railroad station convenient for shipping purposes. Their weekly pay roll amounts to ten thousand dollars.

Besides these mills there is the tobacco basket factory, making and shipping annually a large number of baskets to warehouses in this and other states.

Hillsboro is also a big hardwood shipping point. Timber is brought here from the country in the rough. There is a mill here that dresses cedar wood for building and making plank for cedar presses. There are also two large brick plants and other smaller industries, two good banks, splendid schools for both races. The population, including the mill villages, is around 3,700.

Bennett-Templeton

Mr. Samuel R. Bennett of Philadelphia and Miss Amanda Templeton, of Clinton, S. C., were married at Central Methodist Church parsonage Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, the Rev. D. N. Caviness performing the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett left for Philadelphia and other points immediately after the ceremony.

Federation of Labor Endorses The League Without Reservation

we now reverse the uninterrupted policy which we have supported!

Speaking of disarmament, Mr. Gomperz said:

"Even if the United States should ratify the League of Nations, the world will not see disarmament the first year, or maybe for a decade.

"But," he added, "we are not determining these questions for the immediate day for which we live. We lay the foundation for the structure of peace and good will for our children and our children's children."

Don McMillon, of Seattle, led the opposition to the covenant, because, he said, it guaranteed the territorial integrity of the British Empire. He also declared that the American working man does not understand the "full meaning of this league."

The report of the committee on international relations was characterized as "an outrage" in that it recommended the adoption of a league with the provisions of Article X.

DEMOCRATIC TIDE HEADS FOR FRISCO

New York and Chicago Delegations Off; No Talk As To Probable Nominee

Chicago, June 19.—The advance guard of Illinois Democrats to the National Convention of the party at San Francisco on June 28, departed tonight. The party included former Governor E. F. Dunne and Carter H. Harrison. On Sunday night a party of 125, including forty Chicago and down State delegates and delegates at large, will leave on a special train.

New York delegates, who arrived here today from French Lick Springs, Indiana, will resume their journey tomorrow night. They included Governor Smith and Charles F. Murphy, Tammany chieftain.

Mr. Murphy was asked if New York had any choice among the prospective candidates.

"We have no favorite," he replied. To the same question Governor Smith said:

"Nobody can tell until the convention assembles in San Francisco. It looks to me like a regular, straight-away, out and out Democratic convention and anybody's race."

MARK MY WORDS

You'll Be To Late If You Wait Until July 15th To Buy

Wizard Automobile Co. Stock

We advised you several weeks ago that if you were WISE you would buy this stock before it was too late. At the rate that is being taken by those who know a good INVESTMENT when it is presented to them there will not be a share left by July 15th. A visit to our plant at Wizard, North Carolina, four miles west of Charlotte, N. C., will prove to you that this is no idle dream or newspaper talk. The most skeptical have come, they have seen, they have been convinced that the WIZARD, Jr., Automobile will be a reality and that in buying stock in the WIZARD AUTOMOBILE COMPANY they are purchasing one of the SAFEST, BEST PAYING DIVIDEND stocks on the market today.

THE FIRST YEAR'S OUTPUT SOLD. Thirty thousand WIZARD, Jr., the capacity of the factory for the first year have been sold. We are refusing orders every day and have had to stop allotting territory to agents all of which is another proof that your stock will be a GOOD INVESTMENT.

Wizard, Jr., Automobile Will Be Received as Motordom's Greatest Sensation. The time to buy stock in this company is now, while the price is low. After the WIZARD, Jr., is on the market the stock will advance in price. Then it will be a question as to whether you can get the stock at any price. You still have an OPPORTUNITY to buy this stock on the following basis, subject of course, to prior sale.

Three boxes listing stock options: $100,000 Preferred Stock Par Value $10.00 7 Per Cent Cumulative Fully Paid and Non-Assessable; Purchasers of Two Shares Preferred Stock Entitled to Purchase One Share of Common Stock; $50,000 Common Stock Par Value $10.00 Fully Paid and Non-Assessable.
