Asheville, June 22 .- Over 300 delegates were registered at the Battery Park Hotel today when the 41st annual meeting of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association was called to order by President G. R. Pilkington of Pittsboro, and in the opening session an enthusiasm was evident over th work before the druggists which brought forth the prediction that the meeting would be the greatest in the history of the association.

The annual address of the president and the report of the speretary-treasurer, J. G. Beard of Chapel Hill, were heard at the afternoon session, which was by far the most important of the opening day.

In his address President Pilkington urged co-operation with the medical profession, endorse dth work of the N. A. R. D., the A. Ph.
