MISSIONARY SAILS SOON FOR ORIENT

Mrs. Willingham Will Return To Japan For Seven Years of Service

LOOKS FORWARD TO WORK WITH MUCH PLEASURE

Missionary Society First Baptist Church Gives Reception in Sunday School Room in Honor of Mrs. Willingham; Missionary Will Leave Raleigh August 7, Sailing Ten Days Late

The Missionary Society of the First Baptist church yesterday gave a reception in the Sunday school room in honor of Mrs. Foy Johnson Willingham, who will sail on the 17th of August from Vancouver as a missionary to Japan, where she plans to spend the next seven years, the regular term of missionary service.

Mrs. Willingham has already spent seven years in the Japanese missionary field, from which she returned to the United States in 1918. She will sail this time on the Empress of Japan, a ship upon which the Southern Baptist board has already chartered accommodations for from eighty to one hundred Baptist missionaries sailing for the Orient. This is something unique in the history of missions, as it is the largest single sailing of missionaries of one denomination which has ever left the United States. Mrs. Willingham and one other missionary from Texas will be the only ones aboard whose destination is Japan, the others going to China and different parts of the East.

Mrs. Willingham says that she looks forward to her coming seven years in Japan with much pleasure. She has had many interesting experiences in connection with her former trip, when she was engaged in evangelistic work among Japanese women and girls. She agrees with the advertising slogan of the Japanese Tourist Bureau that Japan is a country of "Color, Charm and Courtesy." She says that she found it a lovely land full of flowers where great mountains come down to meet the sea. She declares that the reputation of the Japanese people for courtesy is well-founded, for in all the time that she spent there, she can recall only one instance of incivility. Even most Japanese who hate Christianity are unfailingly polite about it. According to Mrs. Willingham, the population of Japan is remarkably well educated, with a compulsory school system of six ten-month years; 98 per cent of the children of school age are in school, and 95 per cent of the entire population know how to read and write. "Japan is a pleasant place to live," says Mrs. Willingham.

The attitude of the majority of Japanese towards Christianity, Mrs. Willingham said, is that of indifference, but she seems to be daunted not at all by that. The great difficulties which stand in the way of the Christianizing of the Japanese are the deep-rooted religions, Buddhism, Shintoism and Confucianism, all idolatrous, and all possessing strong hold upon their followers. Though these religions embody good moral teachings, Mrs. Willingham feels that they do not give their adherents the power of carrying them out, as does the religion of Jesus.

Neither is Mrs. Willingham daunted by what the lay mind might consider the staggering prospect of having to converse in Japanese. She is already quite fluent in the language, and has passed the five examinations required by the board of Japanese grammar, translation, reading and memory work, etc.

On the whole, Mrs. Willingham regards the evangelistic prospects in Japan as encouraging, for although indifference is felt towards Christianity by the majority of Japanese, there has recently been awakening more lively interest among the population, and the Japanese, once converted, is usually a staunch and faithful Christian. The boys and girls of high school age have been found to be the most receptive of conversion. In Japan now, among the 60,000,000 population, 100,000 are professing Protestant Christians, which may appear a small proportion, but is the seed which the missionaries look for great evangelistic growth.

Mrs. Willingham will leave Raleigh about August 7, sailing August 17, and reaching Japan the last of that month. She will go first to Shimonoeki, a port town north of the Shimonoeki straits, about 800 miles from Tokio, where she will serve as a substitute for one year in place of a missionary who has not had leave in ten years. After that she will proceed to Kumamoto to conduct a girls' school.

Sailing on the Empress of Japan are also Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Middleton. Mr. Middleton has been an instructor at the A. and E. College and Mrs. Middleton is a recent graduate of Meredith. They are bound for China.

STONE TO CONFER WITH MORRISON

Head of Farmers' Union Seeks To Interest Candidate Against Revaluation

Greensboro, July 5.—Today a letter was dispatched to Cameron Morrison, Democratic nominee for governor, by E. W. H. Stone, of Greensboro, president of the North Carolina Farmers' Union, requesting that the latter be permitted to confer with the Charlotte man next Thursday afternoon in regard to certain political issues.

If Mr. Morrison finds it convenient to meet Mr. Stone in Charlotte Thursday for a discussion of campaign issues, it is practically certain that the revaluation act will be the chief topic given consideration. It became known here today that officials of the North Carolina Farmers' Union will try to induce the Democratic gubernatorial nominee to use his influence with the general assembly at the special session this summer with a view to securing amendment of the revaluation law.

Next Friday a meeting of the union's state executive committee will be held in Greensboro, it was learned today, the chief purpose of this conference being a discussion of the issues that are going to be projected in the political campaign which will precede the general election of November 2. At that meeting President Stone hopes to be able to make a definite report as to the attitude of Mr. Morrison toward revaluation in particular and other questions in general.

ARMY WORMS DO DAMAGE TO CROPS IN GEORGIA

Columbus, Ga., July 5.—Damage estimated at thousands of dollars has been caused by ravages of army worms to corn and hay crops in this section within the past week and government aid will probably be required to curb the pest, city officials declared today in announcing that practically the entire corn and hay crop on the large municipal farm had been destroyed.

PHOSPHATE DISCOVERED IN MOROCCAN HINTERLAND

Paris, July 5.—Discovery of large deposits of phosphate in the Moroccan hinterland, may soon make France the great phosphate producing country of the world.

The Moroccan deposits are reported by Professor Louis Gentil of the Sorbonne as being almost inexhaustible. One hundred miles inland from Casablanca there is a mountain plateau, 40 miles long and 25 miles wide which is a veritable storehouse of phosphate. A railway is to be built to this mountain and a monopoly has been given to the Moroccan government for the sale of the phosphate.

France already has huge phosphate deposits in Alsace.
