Asheville, July 11.—Not content with merely violating the Federal law by shipping whiskey through the mails, Turner Larken, employed at a lumber camp at Sunburst, Haywood county, placed his return address on the package and then requested the government insure the parcel. This was done, but Larken overlooked the fact that his hot water bottle, in which he was shipping the liquor to a friend from Lenoir to Baden, might break, and he was not prepared for the shock he received Saturday when government officers arrested him.

At a preliminary hearing held in Waynesville Saturday, attended by Deputy Marshal J. F. Garner, probable cause was found and the defendant was bound over to the next term of Federal court which will be held in Ashe-

No intimation has come from the strikers as to what they are going to do profiteering except the work-who was trying to earn a living ing here since the announcement was made that Bickett was going to take a hand in the affair, and it is unlikely that there will be any more of it. Some of the strikers are willing, avowedly willing, to take the Governor at his word and call off the whole show and go back to work. The mil- owners are willing to take most of the strikers tack, excluding only those whom they telieve responsible for the trouble, and to whom the operatives now at work strongly object.

The declaration by the Governor that any man has a right to work if he wants to, regardless of affiliation, and that picketing in any manner is a viola-tion of the law, has stirred deep interest in industrial quarters in the section. Many mill owners and operatives from nearby towns were here to hear him, and it is the first time that the question has ever been authoritatively dealt with in the State.

Bunched

The close of the second week of the last half of the Piedmont League season found four of the clubs dosely bunched, with Winston-Salem and High Point legging. Durham is leading Danville and Greenabore by the slender margin of one-half of a game, while Raleigh, in fourth place, is only one and one-half games behind the leaders.

The standing of the High Point club is somewhat of a mystery to those fans who have only seen the club perform in Raleigh. The Manufactuters have furnished stiff opposition in every series they have played here and were going at a great pace when they opened the current pennant race by taking two from the Capitals. But the club has lost each of the seven games it has
