New Orleans, July 14.—Strong advances were made by cotton today as the result of the too frequent mention of the boll weevil in the weekly crop reports, numerous showers in the belt and the forecast of more to come, leading to the fear that the weevil damage would be increased. The market was given a good undertence by the Ceneus Burcau report showing American consumption for June of 655,521 bales, against $41,080 in May of this year and 474,880 in July last, discrediting private reports of a great slowing down in textile trade. t prices were reached late in the

The market opened steady at an advance of 65 points July and of 5 to 26 points on the later months. July notices estimated at about 2,200 bales were reported, but evidently made no impression on the market, although later months eased off from the best during the middle of the day owing to a mid-month condition report of 74.4 during the middle of the day owing to a mid-month condition report of 74.4 $20,000,000 of local treasury deposits in against 71.1 toward the end of June connection with payments on certificand the very favorable showing of the The census report showing domestic mill consumption of $55,521 bales for the month of June compared with 474,330 last year, was considered favorable,

ORVIE BROS.' REPORT.

New York, July 14.—Improved feeling in dry goods markets, especially in Manchester, where more business was done today than in some time past, together with the strength shown in July cotion was the basis for the rise in prices today. The map was rather favorable with the exception of light showers in scattered portions of boil wevil territory in the Atlantic states and the forecast for further showers in the same territory. The weekly weather report was very good as a whole, which was expected, but the outstanding feature was not so much the weather as the widespread prevalence of wedvil over the belt. The monthly consumption of cotton in the United States for June showed $55,000 bales coshparing with $41,000 last month and $74,000 last year. When it is considered that some mills reduced their subput during June this showing is very favorable. It is probable that prices will advance further.
