

QUINMET TO MEET EVANS FOR TITLE

Both Former Amateur and Open Champions Win Out in Semi-Finals

Both Evans and Quinmet have met but once before in match play. Last year in the amateur tournament for the national title at Oakmont, Penna., Quinmet eliminated Evans in the second round by one up at the home green.

Quinmet displayed all around superiority over his youthful opponent, who was so well liked by the speculative fraternity that some of the gentlemen were giving odds on him before the pair took the course.

Quinmet was better in driving, approaching and putting. Over 20 long holes which the pair played, Quinmet had the longer drive at 15. There were five short holes and Quinmet was nearer the pin with his tee shot at three of them.

Bootelegging in Cities Cause of Serious Trouble

Ident, and the United States Senate. Chairman Calder called the expenditure committee of the Senate together and the Republican voted to report the above resolution adversely, that the Republican members of this committee were opposed to any further investigation of campaign funds.

For the minority I dissent from the report of the majority. If ever a Senate investigation has been fruitful of good results, this investigation has been fruitful. Already it has been ascertained that millions of dollars in the aggregate have been used by various candidates for nomination for the presidency.

Sen. Reed in Reply. When Senator Reed learned of Senator Edge's statement, he said in reply: "I have no comment to make on our investigation at this time. The duty of the committee is to investigate and report to the Senate what it finds when the investigation is over, and to pursue any other course it, in my opinion, deems best."

GIGANTIC MASS-MEETING OF GROWERS IN NEW BERN

Farmers Will Take Action in Craven County To Form Permanent Organization

New Bern, Sept. 10.—Craven County tobacco growers are to meet in New Bern tomorrow afternoon in a gigantic mass meeting to express their feelings over the low prices being paid for the weed which has been sold on the floors of the warehouses here this week.

A personal message has been sent to no less than five hundred farmers, and each one has been urged by all means to be in attendance. At the same time New Bern business men, bankers and warehousemen are to be present and will be asked to take a part in the meeting.

with three pounds of shining brass buttons down the front. He told several good stories about the old State guard, greatly pleasing the men and closed with the declaration that the State has absolute confidence in the National Guard and knows that the guard will meet every emergency with effective action.

In the reviewing stand with the Governor and his wife were Adj. Gen. J. Vaah, Mrs. Cal. Don. E. Scott, Col. and Mrs. H. E. Evans, Col. Wallace B. Smith, Miss Ethel Webb, Ed. Chambers Smith, Mrs. George Thompson, Miss Mildred Wallace and Lieut. Commander Pfehl, of the coast guard aviation station.

Following the review and address of Governor Bickett, the party of visitors were the guests of Colonels Scott, Evans and Seales at dinner, which had for its ice de resistance, stewed chicken of an excellent tenderness, quite suitable for his excellency, who enjoyed the party almost as much as to do did that memorable night of the women's jollification at the Yarrowburgh in Raleigh during the special legislative session.

The officers men this year is in the efficient care of Mr. Otis M. Hydrick, of Lexington, who has a varied experience as a mess director on the Mexican border and in Europe with the 30th division.

What, with numerous fair summer visitors, baseball, moving pictures, surf bathing, boxing, dances and a work program not exceptionally grueling, the soldier contingent here find that they are not altogether unappreciated by their government, even though previous to the great war there were deficiencies in the matter of preparedness and handling of the sick.

The social activities of the camp haven't been as lively as in 1915 and 1916, since the Atlantic Hotel at Morehead City is no longer in operation. This huge wooden structure where in the ante-bellum of blessed memory, the annual officers' ball and other minor dances were held, went out of business two years or more ago, when the government in its attempt to build ships faster than Hun submarines could destroy them, took over the place to house its force of shipbuilders.

Committee Plans To Wind Up Work at Chicago Today (Continued from Page One.) Types of insurance political charges and rumors for partisan effect. In the light of the evidence, Governor Cox has been given even more consideration than his irresponsible charges warrant. It makes no difference what witnesses testify upon oath, if such testimony displeases Mr. Cox, he at once proceeds to vilify them and apparently no one tells the truth but himself. The situation is unsavory in American politics. Under such circumstances what can possibly be gained by following his so-called leads further? Governor Cox owes it to the American people to withdraw his extravagant statements or stand convicted of descending to the most despicable type of professional politics imaginable.

FIRST SALE OF COTTON SOLD IN UNION COUNTY Monroe, Sept. 10.—The first bale of new crop cotton was sold on this market today by J. A. Arant of Chesterfield county, and was bought by J. E. Shock and Co., for 35 cents a pound. The cotton was ginned by Shute and Wilson who also bought the seed for 75 cents a bushel. Following the custom no charge was made for ginning the first bale and a premium was paid for the seed. Mr. Arant has sold the first bale here for several years.

NEGROES CALL ON SENATOR HARDING

Indianapolis, the National Equal Rights League, the African Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Besides Johnson, those who made speeches included the presidents of both of the conventions; William H. Lewis, of Boston, a former assistant attorney general; Charles Cestrell, of Toledo, former collector of internal revenue at Indianapolis; Mrs. Thomas W. P. Lemming, of Cleveland, head of the colored women's division of the Republican national committee; and Hattie Q. Brown, president of the national federation of colored women's clubs.

A prayer opened the afternoon meeting, which had lasted for nearly two hours before Senator Harding was reached on the program of speakers. Other speeches followed his, and then the visitors looked up the front steps of the Harding residence and kept the candidate busy for a half-hour shaking hands.

Fledges Negro Women Vote. Two hundred thousand votes from negro women were promised the Senator by the woman speakers, one of whom praised his stand for party government and said the women of her race would claim representation in the government in proportion to their numbers.

At both the morning and afternoon celebrations, Gen. John J. Pershing, as overnight guest at the Harding home, was an added attraction that helped stir the enthusiasm of the visitors. To each crowd he made a short speech praising the service of negro soldiers in the war, but not touching on political subjects.

One of those who conferred with the senator during the day was William Monroe Trotter, of Boston, executive secretary of the National Equal Rights League. He asked that segregation of negro employees of the federal government be abolished, and declared afterwards that the nominee had given the request appreciative consideration.

Tomorrow Senator Harding will speak to delegations of business men from Chicago, Detroit, and Indiana cities and is expected to make one of the important speeches of his campaign, outlining his stand on business issues and his ideas for after-war financial reconstruction.

Appeal To Senator Simmons On Behalf Cotton Growers

topic of conversation—what is the tobacco market going to do? Even in the Administration circles, where interest of any sort is popularly supposed to be confined to matters of administration, tobacco has been the thing for days.

From the Governor down, even to the elevator boy over in the State department building, it has been the one text for protraction and speculation, and in the business districts, there has been an other matter on the minds of the chintzy. Tobacco has come to be recognized as the source of the State's greatest wealth, even detouring the ancient ruler, King Cotton.

Even the politician has forgotten his votes, or those he would have, and he lends himself to hours of speculation over what farmers of Eastern Carolina are going to do if something is not done. Men whose minds run back to 1875 remember the Night Riders of stately some years back when they were much in the public prints because of their somewhat half hatched method of holding the price of tobacco, even to the extent of holding sundry recalcitrant growers by the neck. Taken altogether, more of optimism was in evidence yesterday than at any time since the break. The opinion prevails that the Federal Reserve System will be able to remove from the buyers the excuse—if excuse it is—that money stringency is the cause. Nobody expects the price of a year ago, but everybody expects enough to save the situation from utter demoralization, and ruin to the farmers of the section. All over the tobacco belt today there will be farmer mass meetings to discuss the situation. Plans will be evolved to get word to everybody to sit tight until the situation is cleared up, and until time is had to take some action through the Federal Reserve banks to take care of the movement of the crop.

FRANCIS WEIRATH, foreman at Goodrich Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who declares he has improved in since taking Tanlac that no one would ever take him to be the same man. Says he gained fourteen pounds.

"To look at me today no one would ever take me to be the same person I was before I began to take Tanlac. It has simply done wonders for me, and I want everybody to know about this medicine," said Francis Weirath, foreman of a large department of the Goodrich Rubber Company plant at Akron, Ohio. Mr. Weirath resides at 210 West State Street, that city.

"I was in an awfully bad state of health for fourteen years, and during the past ten years I got to the point where life was a burden. I suffered terribly with indigestion and dyspepsia. I never had any appetite, and all I could eat for breakfast was a soft boiled egg and a little milk. I would get so nervous and miserable that many a night I never slept a wink, and when nothing would bring me any relief I had just about come to the conclusion my case was hopeless.

"I haven't taken but three bottles of Tanlac, but I feel better than I have felt for twelve years. I've gained fourteen pounds in weight, and am getting heavier and stronger every day. I never have indigestion any more, my appetite is splendid, and I eat just anything and everything I want. I sleep sound every night, and all that tired, worn-out feeling is gone. In fact, I am a well man in every way.

"The men at the plant all tell me I am looking fine these days and getting fat. They all want to know what I am doing to myself, and it's always a pleasure for me to tell them about Tanlac. Tanlac is sold by the leading druggists in every town.—(Adv.)
