

EGGSMEN SECURE $50.00 FROM SAFE

Pool's Store on West Martin Street Blown Open Late Saturday Night

Safe-crackers, who, to judge from the trail left behind them are men of long and undoubtedly successful experience in the safe-cracking business, blasted open an iron safe in A. H. Pool's store at 239 West Hargett street some time during the night Saturday and got away with $50.00 in cash. The robbery was discovered early yesterday morning when the proprietor arrived at the store to feed his horse, which is stabled in the rear.

Police authorities were informed of the robbery, but so far no arrests have resulted from their investigations, and but little clue as to the identity of the burglars. No one heard the explosion that took away the door of the safe, and the presumption of the police is that the deed was timed with the arrival of a noisy locomotive in the Union station across the street from the store, and that the robbers made their escape on the same train as it pulled out of the city.

URGES PATRONIZING OF U. S. INSURANCE CONCERNS

Washington, Sept. 19.—American shipping interests were urged to patronize American marine insurance concerns by Chairman Benson of the Shipping Board, in a statement issued tonight. Declaring that some American business interests were not giving the recently organized American Merchant Marine syndicates the same support that foreign interests give their home underwriting companies, Mr. Benson said that failure to give American marine underwriters wholehearted support would mean "the unnecessary flow of millions of dollars of marine premiums to the other side, the use of marine insurance by our competitors as a commercial weapon against our interests, and inability on our part to properly safeguard commercial information."

Frank Pietro Charged With Stabbing Lathan Woman, to Death at High Point

Greensboro, Sept. 19.—Guilford county superior court, for the trial of criminal cases will open Monday and be in session one week with Judge J. H. Ray, presiding. So many cases are on the docket that an appeal was made to Governor Rickett to prolong the session one week. However, this appeal was rejected on account of the fact that the law requires at least 30 days' notice before calling extra sessions. Probably the most sensational trial will be that of Frank Pietro, Italian, charged with having stabbed to death Maudie Lathan, a young white woman at her home in High Point a number of weeks ago.

The Italian was a boarder at the Lathan home and is alleged to have cut the woman to death on a bed in the house in the dead of night. He is said to have fled from the scene after the deed was committed, but was captured some hours later near Jamestown. He has been in jail here since, and has talked on several occasions to an interpreter, who, it is understood, has laid his case before the Italian consul at Philadelphia. Whether the consul will arrange for Pietro's defense is not known. The trial promises to be a difficult one, because the accused Italian speaks almost no English.

HURT ALL OVER COULDN'T SLEEP

Suffered So Much and So Long Indiana Lady Became Discouraged, and at Times Cared Little to Live.

Leaveyworth, Ind. — Mrs. Hannah Fern, of this town, writes: "About six years ago I began the use of Cardui for female weakness. I suffered such fearful bearing-down pains at . . . It seemed like something was just pressing on the top of my head and it burned like fire. I was indeed a nervous wreck. "For four years I couldn't do my housework. I was in bed most of the time. . . I got so discouraged, and at times I wanted to die, I was in so much pain. At times I hurt all over. . . At night I was restless and couldn't sleep. I had no appetite in fact was a misery to myself and every one else. "I continued in this condition until finally I began Cardui. . . Took Cardui regularly until I took a number of bottles. It cured me. I cannot say too much for this treatment, and highly recommend it to others."

For more than forty years Cardui has proven beneficial to suffering women. Your druggist sells it. Try it!—adv.

The bodies were found on the lawn at the physician's home in White Hall. Examining physicians said death was due to strangulation.
