

GATLING FIELD IS SUNDAY MECCA

Crowds Flock to Circus Ground and See How Circus Folk Live

MANY ANIMALS ARE VIEWED BY SPECTATORS

Performers Spend the Sabbath Quietly; Parade Will Move This Morning Promptly at Ten O'clock and First Show Will Open at Two O'clock; Night Program at Eight

TODAY'S PROGRAM.
Hagenbeck-Wallace circus tents are pitched at Gatling's Field. Parade will leave showgrounds at 10:30, and will traverse the following route: From grounds, on Tarboro street to New Bern avenue; west to Wilmington street; south to Cabarrus street; north to Fayetteville street; north to State Capitol; west around Capitol Square and return to New Bern avenue; east to Tarboro, and thence, to showgrounds.

Downtown ticket office, where tickets will be sold at prices the same as will be charged at the showgrounds, Tucker Building Pharmacy. Two performances, one beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the other at 8 o'clock tonight. Doors will open an hour before each performance, in order that all may have time in which to visit the menagerie.

Menagerie is free to all holders of circus tickets.

Gatling Field yesterday became the temporary chief point of interest in Raleigh. Hundreds of people began flocking there soon after the first section of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus arrived, and the stream of humanity continued until darkness set in last night. Street cars were crowded to capacity, hundreds came in automobiles, and many more hundreds walked. There was at no time a congestion, but the flow was steady. Circus employees report that the crowd was not one which interfered with the work of putting up the tents, although there were times when the crowd had to be asked to "stand back, please."

Many of the Hagenbeck-Wallace animals were on view for a few moments, then were taken to their places in the big zoo. Young and old got glimpses of the big elephants which help pull the canvases and center poles to position. The marvelous Curta spool and the immense rows of seats without rails, inventions of Captain "Bill" Curtis, boss canvasser with the show, created much wonder. The spools operate much like a bobbin in a sewing machine except that they are on a Germanium scale. Early in the morning from the first and second sections of the circus trains, the famous Hagenbeck-Wallace horses were taken. They were the subject of many "Oh's" and "Aren't they beauties" from the onlookers. Many of the animal cages were closed, but they will be open when the parade takes place today.

Breakfast 8 A. M.
By 8 o'clock yesterday morning employees of the show were seated at breakfast. A second meal was served about 1 o'clock, and dinner came at 6 o'clock last night. Flaps of the dining tents were left open and the public was given a sight of circus folks at their meal. It was, apparently, much like an old-fashioned church basket dinner, except that real table cloths and all that sort of thing were used. In fact, people

TWO CIRCUS FAVORITES SETTLE PROBLEM OF ARTICLE TEN.

The League of Nations question has entered several fields, latest of all the religious field, but it remained for one of the barback riders with the Hagenbeck-Wallace show to give it a place on a circus program. She is shown above, having an argument with her horse on the merits of "Article 10." It really, it is said, is not a bad sketch, for the beautiful horse has some ideas of his own on the subject. Horse and rider will be seen this afternoon and tonight in Raleigh.

learned that circus employees live very well indeed. One feature of it all was the courtesy which was shown by every showman. It is doubtful if ordinary folk would relish the idea of having outsiders peep into their dining rooms. Hagenbeck-Wallace attaches yesterday looked out, smiled pleasantly and opinions as to the probable results of the afternoon's ball game, answered many questions and were, to the surprise of some, quite "neighborly."

Raleigh hotels were crowded to their capacity, for the circus man or woman loves a hotel, despite the comforts of the Pullman. "It gives," said one of them yesterday, "an opportunity to sort of stretch out, write letters, and play like we are at home again. Many attended church, others retired to a hotel room, some went to the circus touches and spent the day there, and still others engaged automobiles and drove about the city and its environs."

Out at the showgrounds, when darkness came, quiet reigned, except for an occasional growl or roar from the menagerie or the stamping of a hoof from one of the horse tents. Lanterns placed about the tents at intervals caused shadows to fall as, here and there, a watchman paced his beat. And by 11 o'clock last night the field, with its horse tents, big show tent, black-smith shops, harness shops, dressing rooms, veterinary hospital, menagerie and side-shows was a scene of almost absolute silence.

This morning, however, all will spring to life. A bugle call—breakfast. Another, first call for parade. A third, the parade will swing off the "lot," and the day's business, with its music, its noise, blare and tinsel, sawdust, barback riding, aerial acts, strutting wild animal acts, all will come in their proper sequence.

Sabbath is Welcomed.
It's all in a day, they say, but the Sabbath, with its rest, its difference from the ordinary round of performance, is one which is always welcomed by circus folk. That is why Raleigh will always be remembered by Hagenbeck-Wallace people as a oasis in the desert. They arrived early, had a good rest, and can thus start out a new week, refreshed.

GEORGE WHITTED BACK AT HOME IN DURHAM

Durham, Oct. 10.—George Bostick Whitted returned home yesterday afternoon from New York, where he has been since the close of the National League season. He was accompanied home by his brother, Gordon Whitted, and Mrs. Gordon Whitted, and her sister, who recently completed an automobile trip through northern states. During the past season Whitted was a member of the Pittsburgh National League club, and his playing was a big help to the Pirates. The team finished fourth in the pennant race and until near the end of the season was a real contender for first place honors.

EVERETT SPEAKS TO CATAWBA FOLKS

Durham Lawyer Preaches Pure and Unadulterated Democracy at Claremont

Newton, Oct. 10.—Speaking to more than a thousand people in the Claremont high school auditorium last night, Hon. R. O. Everett, of Durham, preached of the indisputable principles of Democracy for more than an hour and at no time during his masterly discussion of the issues did he falter in his zeal to plainly show the folks present the course of their duty in this election.

Claremont is a small town in Catawba county composed, however, of the best elements that go to make up a progressive community, and in that respect it is far ahead of most communities of its size. It is strongly Democratic and in order to reach all elements Mr. Everett was asked to come up and address the gathering.

None of the older men of that community ever witnessed such an outpouring of folks to hear a political discussion and certainly none have been witnessed anywhere recently that compared with it in size. It all began as a testimonial of the interest being manifested in Catawba county this year and it all bespeaks a great Democratic victory in Catawba county this fall.

Mr. Everett discussed State and National issues in such a way as to clearly and plainly carry to his hearers the ultimate facts as to each issue discussed and to forcibly impress every one present with the urgent need for their voting this fall. He is a clear, logical and forcible speaker and holds his audience well in hand. The Newton band rendered some enjoyable music and highly pleased those present.

CARLOAD OF CATAWBA CHICKENS TO STATE FAIR

Cameron Morrison Speaks at Hickory Tuesday; Waging Not Political Fight

Hickory, Oct. 10.—Catawba county's best fair, held last week, resulted in the sending of a carload of chickens to be exhibited at the Greensboro fair this week and at the Raleigh State fair next week, business men and county organizations financing the bird movement. Never in the history of county fairs, according to experts, was there such a fine exhibit of Jersey cattle. A new feature this year was the exhibit of manufactured products, which attracted wide interest.

Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, whose speech here during the campaign won him many votes, will fill a return engagement Tuesday night, when he will speak in a local theatre to the hosts of Hickory and the county. He is the first of the big Democratic speakers to come to Hickory, though Messrs. Gardner and Page have spoken in the county. Col. Albert L. Cox will speak at Catawba Wednesday night and Maj. A. L. Bulwinkle, Democratic candidate for Congress, will spend three days in the lower end of the county from Monday until Wednesday, coming to Hickory later.

Both parties are making a strong play for the feminine vote this year and registration of women has been heavy. A great many women were registered yesterday and practically all of them in the county will be enrolled. The election will be hard fought at the polls.

SOUND ADVICE ABOUT EATING

Alabama Lady Says We Impose On Nature by Overeating, But Thedford's Black-Draught Will Make You Feel Better

Paint Rock, Ala.—Recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors, Mrs. Mary Manning, of this place, says: "I never have and never expect to find a better medicine than Thedford's Black-Draught. When I've had a cold and needed a laxative, I used Black-Draught. I use it for sour stomach, headache and indigestion, and it does the work."

"I believe most ill we have are caused from inactive liver. We impose on nature by over-eating and then the liver don't act. We get lazy and no-account. It is hard for us to do our work, and we'd get real sick if we didn't take something. The best remedy I have found yet is Black-Draught. It doesn't leave you constipated, and I feel better after taking a round of it."

Made from purely vegetable ingredients, Black-Draught acts in a natural way, and is free from the bad after-effects of so many mineral drugs. Get a package today. Be sure that it bears the word "Thedford's." Thedford's is the only genuine Black-Draught liver medicine.—Adv.

JOINT DEBATE ATTRACTS BIG STATESVILLE CROWD

Robert L. Doughton and his Republican opponent, Dr. J. I. Campbell, locked horns in a joint debate in the courthouse Friday night. The affair had been thoroughly advertised and people of both political parties from every section of the county were here.

Half an hour before the speaking was scheduled the house was packed and hundreds of people, men and women were not able to find standing room. Dr. Campbell spoke first, being introduced by Attorney D. L. Raymer. Dr. Campbell told of being born a Democrat, but changed to the Republican ranks during the administration of Grover Cleveland. He opposed the League of Nations. Congressman Doughton was introduced by Mr. J. A. Hartness briefly "as our next congressman, Farmer Bob Doughton." Mr. Doughton made a great speech, explaining the achievements of the Democratic administration and the shortcomings of the Republican administrations of the past. Farmer "Bob" is at home in joint discussions.

S. GLENN YOUNG NOW PROHIBITION AGENT

Asheville, Oct. 10.—S. Glenn Young, the man who is said to have put more deserters in jail than any other man who has ever operated in this section of the country for the government, is now working as a prohibition agent at Cairo, Ill., according to a letter received here yesterday by a friend. Young says that during the short time he has been at work in that territory he has arrested 120 defendants and is still going strong.

North Carolina is "bone-dry" in comparison to Illinois, the former Federal agent writes, and he believes that more people are violating the law in the section in which he is working than in much larger sections of the Old North State.

CRUSADE AGAINST DRUG TRAFFIC IN ASHEVILLE

Asheville, Oct. 10.—As a result of a well-planned raid against the "dope" traffic carried out here yesterday and last night, more than twenty men and women are in the county jail and a large quantity of drugs is in possession of the sheriff's office. This is the beginning of a crusade against the drug traffic in Asheville.

It is thought that the offenders now in jail and those who are wanted on the same charges are largely responsible for the wave of crime which has been sweeping over the city within the last few weeks. Those who were arrested yesterday are in jail charged with vagrancy, and some of the number have charges of larceny and robbery against them.

DURHAM MAN AWARDED DAMAGES OF $25,000

Durham, Oct. 10.—A jury in superior court yesterday awarded a $25,000 verdict, the largest ever awarded in Durham county, to F. H. Marshall, whose suit against the Interstate Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Durham Traction Company has featured in court for the past three days.

The $25,000 verdict is for the loss of an arm, suffered by Mr. Marshall some months ago as the result of burns he received when his hands came in contact with a live wire. The verdict went against the two public service corporations jointly, $12,500 each.
