TO HOLD SPECIAL TERM U. S. COURT

Cases Against Syrians Among Those To Be Postponed To February

The Fall criminal term of the United States District Court convened here yesterday, approximately four hundred cases to be tried. There is no possibility of completing the docket during the term which will continue for four weeks and at a conference yesterday Judge Henry G. Connor and District Attorney Edwin F. Aylette it was decided to hold a special term of the court in February.

The case against the twenty-eight Syrians in Eastern North Carolina, the indictment for which the United States mails to obtain goods by fraud has already been transferred to the special term and other cases that are not reached will also be transferred. Judge Connor has announced, however, that he will not try any more profiteering cases until the constitutionality of the Lever Act shall have been passed upon by the United States Supreme Court.

Approximately 400 witnesses are under subpoena in the Syrian cases and Mr. Aylette estimated yesterday that ten days will be required for the trial of these cases. As far as possible, all other cases on the docket will be tried at the regular term. Among the cases set for trial are the so-called car robbery case in which A. J. Honeycutt of Newse and T. E. Holding, Jr., of Wake Forest, are among the defendants. Among the bills of indictment sent to the grand jury yesterday was one against L. V. Graves, the Headmen Post Office clerk who recently confessed to the theft of over $20,000, of which $18,000 was found in his spare automobile.

In his charge to the grand jury yesterday, Judge Henry G. Connor declared that chief distinction between our government and that of the United States is in the assurance that he can obtain justice," he declared.

On the whole structure of government is designed to give every citizen the assurance that he can obtain justice," he declared.

COST A MILLION TO CONSTRUE FIELD WILL

Attorneys' Fees In Will Case Amounted To $960,000; Peggy Marsh Loses

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Constructing the will of the late Marshall Field cost the estate of the multi-millionaire merchant $960,000 for attorney's fees alone, Judge Charles M. Foell, of the superior court, allowed that amount today to attorneys for the parties in the suit to construe the will.

The suit grew out of the efforts of Peggy Marsh, London music hall singer, to obtain a share of the late Henry Field's interest in the Field millions for her 3-year-old son, whose father, she claims, was Henry Field.

The court upheld all provisions of the will and denied Miss Marsh's claims. Under the construction of the will, Marshall Field III received the income from Henry Field's shares of the trust amounting to approximately $40,000,000 in addition to the income from his own share, amounting to $96,000,000.

Among awards to attorneys were: To Stanchfield and Levy and Ethia Root and John S. Miller, Jr., and Edward O. Brown, representing Marshall Field III, $400,000.

To John S. Miller, Jr., representing Mrs. Nancy Perkins Field Tree, $100,000. To John P. Wilson, representing trustee of the estate, $150,000.

To Edward F. Dana, representing Henry Antony Marsh, infant son of Peggy Marsh, $40,000.

TELL OF MEETING OF JENNY LIND AND PATTI

Paris, Oct. 23.—A member of the French Academy of Music recently told the following anecdote concerning the only meeting between Jenny Lind and Adolphe Patti. It is timely in connection with the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the "Swedish Nightingale."

Patti, whose youth was just budding into womanhood, sang one evening in one of the leading saloons of the Champs Elysees. Among the audience was Jenny Lind, then rather an aged woman. After the applause that greeted the conclusion of Patti's singing had subsided, the Swedish singer approached Mrs. Patti and congratulated her but not without making remarks as to a certain detail of omission and a slight criticism of certain notes.

"I feel that I may tell you this without offense," she added, "because, you see, I am Jenny Lind."

Displeased by the remark, Patti replied dryly: "Oh, yes, I have heard of you; my grandmother spoke in his name of you."

INVESTIGATE PILLAGE OF IMPERIAL VILLAS

Turks Reported To Have Pillaged Imperial Russian Watering Place

Constantinople, Oct. 18.—Pillage by the Turks of the Russian watering-place of Abbas Touman in the Caucasus mountains, is being investigated here. A large quantity of the furnishings and villas belonging to the luxurious holdings of this little city, where many of the aristocracy of Russia used to pass their vacations, has been discovered in Constantinople. Some of these furnishings are the palace of Enver Pasha, formerly Turkish War Minister, on the Bosphorus, now occupied by the French general staff.

The pillage of Abbas Touman is one of the untold stories of the rapacious Turkish pasha and general. Abbas Touman is unknown outside of Russia. Yet it was one of the little paradises with which countries lying near the Black Sea are blessed. Nestling in the mountains of Georgia, it possessed one of the beautiful and lengthy driveways for which the Caucasus is famous.

During the hot summer months, the Imperial Russian family used to pass a few weeks among the pines of this rich center of museums, villas and churches. Up the beautiful roads from Batum to Tiflis, came in the spring of 1917, the Turkish army, following on the retreat of the Russian army, which had gone bolshevik. The Turks were amazed at the riches of Abbas Touman.

The commander of the 18th brigade sealed up all the valuables he could find. Then came the signing of the treaty by which Abbas Touman was left to Georgia. No sooner had the Turkish commander learned of this treaty than he gathered up, before leaving, all valuables and hurried them to Batum. He notified Enver Pasha at Constantinople that this booty should be offered to the Sultan. Meanwhile, as his army withdrew, it is charged that he systematically robbed churches and convents and sent their treasures also to Batum. Two other Turkish commanders are alleged to have shared in the loot.

Finally the three men sent their relative shares to Constantinople, where Enver Pasha demanded to have a look at the three loots. As Minister of War, he took his choice and sent some of the furniture and pictures to Kouroutschak, his marble faced palace on the Bosphorus, where they still remain.

THIRTY-TWO IN ARMY SENTENCED TO DEATH

But In No Case Was Sentence Carried Out, Crowder Reports; One Was Spy

Washington, Nov. 21.—Thirty-two persons in the army were sentenced to death by court martial during the last fiscal year, but in no case was the sentence carried into effect, says Major General H. H. Crowder, Judge Advocate General, in his annual report made public today. Twelve of the death sentences were disregarded, nineteen reduced to imprisonment ranging from life to five years and one case was pending on review when the report was compiled.

Eight were found guilty of misbehavior in the face of the enemy, and one was sentenced as a spy. Trials for desertion were slightly less numerous than for the two preceding years, but the comparative number was larger. Confinement for life was imposed in 48 cases, 31 of the sentences being approved, two disapproved, eight mitigated to shorter terms, and one pending awaits final action.

In all 225 officers were sentenced to dismissal after court martial. Of these, 124 sentences were approved. The total number of generals was 676. 27.2 percent convictions being obtained.

Warsaw, Oct. 23.—American flyers composing the Koshkae squadrons of the Polish army have had many opportunities to bomb the train of six cars which General Budenny, the bolshevik cavalry leader, used as headquarters at the front, but they always refused to do so because they knew his wife and baby lived on board the train. BUMS DISAPPEAR FROM THE BOWERY

Where Once Drunkards Slept, Are Education Classes In Sociology

New York, Nov. 23.—At the old Bowery Mission, for more than four decades the leading lower East Side haven for destitute drunkards, lecture classes in elementary sociology and philosophy and educational work among the ghetto's women and children are taking the place of or supplementing the work done there heretofore for men without homes or food.

"Flops and cats" as shelter and food were referred to by the old-time denizens of the Bowery are no longer to be the chief "solves" afforded to "shop heads" and "bums" by this famous old institution.

Directors of the famous place have acquired time for more than feeding and sheltering from night to night a horde of "doctors" and "bees."

Since its establishment forty-one years ago Bowery Mission workers have been rushed with seemingly ceaseless efforts to find food and sleeping room for long lines of those classed as down and out. Now, they say, the advent of prohibition has brought opportunity to lift their heads.

John O. Hammond, Mission's superintendent, and Anson C. Baker, secretary, outlined the new situation. "There's still plenty of 'hootch' on the Bowery," they said, "and plenty of drinkers to care for. But it's harder to get than it used to be."

"We have almost as many men to look after as ever. What the saloon was it did not take with it drugs and the like. But a far greater percentage of them are sober-clear-eyed and clear-brained. We are increasing our educational work among the old-timers whose heads used to be so steeped in liquor that they could retain nothing but the address of the saloon."

Look around, a chance for educational work among them and to start at the bottom with the rising generation."

Sixty-year old "Christian John" Wentz, a follower of the mission for half his life and still hanging on, said his word to that of Mr. Hammond and Mr. Baker.

"The bum business is dead," he said. "But if a guy had told me ten years ago that the day would come when there wasn't enough beer and cookies on the Bowery to keep this place busy, and that the mission would decide to go to taking care of women and children, I'd have said he'd been 'taking' himself, or hitting the pipe."

FORM EUROPEAN RELIEF COUNCIL

Co-Ordinate American Relief Organizations For Immediate Relief Work

New York, Nov. 23.—The European Relief Council, comprising eight of the largest relief organizations in the country, was established here today to co-ordinate child relief in eastern and central Europe.

Herbert Hoover was chosen chairman of the council and Franklin K. Lane treasurer. Its purpose, Mr. Hoover stated, would be to provide funds for three and a half million starving and diseased children and to administer this relief economically.

"This is the largest co-operative benevolent organization ever attempted in the United States," Mr. Hoover said. "The organizations represented have come to the unanimous, though independently formed conclusion that nothing but prompt and united action by the whole American people can avert incredible tragedy for the helpless children involved. The organizations forming the council will organize their representatives in every town and community of the nation for the raising of necessary funds."

The council consists of the American Relief Administration, American Red Cross, American Friends Service Committee (Quakers), Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, Knights of Columbus Young Men's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Association.

"Have you heard that Bumps has absolutely refused to acknowledge his first born as his son?" "Aw come off! What's all this?" "Well, you see, it's a daughter."

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND SUFFER

Suspect It Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies in an interview of the subject made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmor's Swamp Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of ten sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmor and Company, Birmingham, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.
