Southern Senators Promise Support To Revive War Finance Corporation

SENATOR CALDER WILL INTRODUCE RESOLUTION

Western Members of Congress Expected To Join Southern. ers In Securing Relief From Present Money Stringency; Do Not Look For President To Oppose Action

The News and Observer Bureau, 603 District National Bank Bldg., By R. E. POWELL. (By Special Leased Wire.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3 .- Revival of the War Finance Corporation with either Eugene F. Meyer, of New York, or Angus W. McLean, of North Carolina, as managing director will be urged upon the administration in a resolution to be presented to Congress when it meets here Monday.

The movement will have practically the solid support of the Senator and and from the South While at this time there is no insurgency, save in the revolting attitude of some Sena-tors to the present policy of Secre-tary Houston, it is the old combination of the West and the South joining hands to avert a critical situation in their respective sections of the na-

Solid support of the Southern Senators was promised in a conference held this morning in the office of Scuator Kenneth McKellar, attended by Sena-tors Hoke Smith, of Georgia; Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, and Shields, of Tennessee. At the same time, this group was in conference Secretary Houston and W. P. G. Calder To Make Proposal. It is considered of much significance here that the resolution is to come from Senator Calder, of New York. He had previously announced his intention to sponsor such a resolution but the members from the Western and Southern states had not agreed upon any plan of action until today. It was indicated in this correspondence Wednesday that the close of the week would find a group of Southern Senaors in conference and that possibly by the first of the week the South and West would jointly get together. It is possible that such a conference will

"If the War Finance corporation is revived and properly made to funcfacilitate eredits in the exporting of American products to middle and con-tral Europe. It can also lend aid in other countries where credit is needed to provide a market for our goods." Senator Smith and Senator Lee S. Re-establishment of the War Finance corporation was included in the pro-gram of relief legislation outlined by gram of relief legislation outlined by Senator Capper a few days ago. This particular phase of the situation was urged upon William G. One of the fears entertained by officials of the frequery department, in their opposition and "grave doubts" about the re-establishment of the War Finance Corporation, is that the Federal Reserve gratem will be threatened if Federal Reserve banks are to again be permitted to discount cotton, wheat and other so-called "emergency" paper. LITERARY AND HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION ADJOURNS

Dr. D. H. Hill, of Raleigh, Is Elected To Presidency at Closing Session; Dr. John Erskine, of Columbia University, Delivers Address at Closing Session at Meredith

The North Carolina Literary and His torical Association adjourned its annual session here last night following an address by Dr. John Erskine, of Columbia University, the election of officers, and the announcement that the Patterson Memorial Cup has been awarded this year to Miss Winifred M. Kirkland, of Asheville, for her book of essays entitled "Views Vertical."

The announcement of the award was made by Dr. J. G. deRoulhac Hamilton, president of the association, following the election of officers in which Dr. D. H. Hill, of Raleigh, was chosen president; Miss Cornelia Shaw, Davidson, first vice president; Mrs. H. A. London Pittsbore, second vice president; and Mr. J. M. Broughton, Raleigh, third vice president; and Mr. R. B. House, secre-

Dr. Erskins, who delivered the concluding address of the session, comes from Columbia University where for more than ten years he has been a member of the English faculty. During the Way he served as chairman of the rmy educational Commission of the A E. F. and latter as educational director of the A. E. F. University at Beaume. For his services he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by the President of the United States and was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French Government.

Speaking on the general subject of "Patriotism," Dr. Erskine contrasted patriotism of instinct and the patriot ism of moral responsibility. He dwelt at length on the Greek ideas of patriotism, devoted considerable attention to Pericles, discussed Dante, Milton and Wordsworth.

The lengue of nations, he maintained, is an idea, it is an idea of moral patriotism and cannot succeed until the patriotism of the peoples brought under it are of the same order, rational and

Dr. Erskine warned that if the patriotism of the United States is left to the instincts, to the love of soil, it may develop into a hate of all other soil and may become a menace to the world. "Our country is too precious," he said, "to be interred in any of our instincts.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 3.—All tidewater Varginia is today prepared to extend to President-elect Warren G. Harding one of the most enthusiastic welcomes accorded a visiting government official. Plans for his reception in Norfolk and Newport News have been completed, and with advices that Een ator Harding's ship will arrive at Quar-antime on scheduled time, no hitch in the program is anticipated.

The official party from Norfolk will leave this city tomorrow morning at ! o'clock on a torpede boat destroyer, and will meet the President-clect's ship, the Pasteres, at Quarantine, off Old Point Comfort. Major Clinton L. Wright is chairman of the committee that will have charge of the Sena-tor's reception in this city, and the official party which will go out to the Pastores to welcome Senator Harding is composed of John A. Leaner, post-master; Mayor Albert L. Roper, J.

Watts Martin, and J. Iredell Jenkins. United States customs officials will also meet the Pastores at Quarantine, and Mr. Hamilton tonight received telegraphic instructions from David P. Houston, Sceretary of the Treasury, directing him to give free entry to the President-elect and his entire party and to extend all possible courtesies which would facilitate the landing of the party.

Goldsboro, Dec. 3-Under the watchful eye of a hundred State troops the trial of five negroes for the murder of Herman Jones here two weeks ago was continued this morning, and tonight at 8:50 o'clock after two and a half hours consideration, the jury returned a verdict of first degree murder in the case of Harry Caldwell and Jesse Foster and of second degree murder in the Goldsboro Becomes Quiet.

Anti-climax best describes the ending the trial of the five negroes. Twenty-four hours ago the courthouse was surrounded by thousands of people clamoring for the blood of the negroes, Tonight the jury found against them. They were sentenced and hardly a man was on the street to ask what transpired behind the barred doors of the courtroom.

Five minutes after the sentence had been passed, the courtroom was cleared and the soldiers and their charges well Pastores.

From Qua antine the Pastores will proceed to Newport News, where an inspection of the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Comits excitement last night and tonight it went to bed early, greatly thankful to make up some of the sleep lost last night.

At no time today has there been exhibited anything of the spirit that brought the community so near to tragedy last night. The proceedings were watched with not more than mild interest. Mostly the people seemed to be interested in watching the young soldiers, and particularly the machine guns stationed at the entrance to the courtroom. The citizens and the soldiers lost no time in becoming acquainted and all the day the soldiers with a rest period fraternized with the citizenry.

Furrell Resting Well.

Futrell was reported as resting well at the house of his sister in the city. He was not injured as seriously as was at first reported. There was a little blood on the pavement near the door where he fell early in the onslaught on the jail. He will likely be brought to trial as soon as he is able to be moved, it is said. About the first men in Goldsbore to seek their bed chamber tonight were the men commanded by Colonel George K. Freeman who held the jail for 12 hours last night until the arrival of the troops relieved them. They spent an unrelenting vigil, the entire body of them remaining on duty all night. Every one of them is an ex-soldier with service in the late war.
