

NO MAD RUSH FOR ENDORSING BRITT

Few Endorsements Expected For Former Congressman For Postal Job

News and Observer Bureau, 603 District National Bank Bldg. By JOE L. BAKER.

(By Special Leased Wire.) Washington, Jan. 30.—Former Congressman Britt, of the Asheville district, probably isn't going to get very many endorsements from members of the North Carolina delegation in his fight to land the job of third assistant postmaster general, the same appointment he held under the last Republican administration.

While it appears that he has asked endorsements from all the members of the delegation except Representative Weaver, of whom he probably failed to make a request because of personal reasons, so far as it is possible to learn, only Representatives Hoy and Small are replying favorably, and their endorsements, of course, are only of a personal character. As Mr. Hoy sees it, the job is going to a Republican anyway, and it may as well go to Britt as to any of the others.

Neither of the Senators is likely to give his endorsement. In fact, Senator Simmons will probably not depart from a policy of withholding endorsements to any Republicans in the next administration, regarding it as a political indelicacy to obtrude any wishes he might have or sentiment he may entertain on the next President, or the department heads under him.

party's affairs and may be resented and, furthermore, it sometimes happens that a Republican will get a fine letter of recommendation from a Democrat and then some time later in life run for office and use that same letter in a fight against a Democratic candidate. Such a thing happened in North Carolina in the past, and most of the delegation don't care to be instrumental in having such a thing occur in the future.

SALARY BILL IS CUT BY COMMITTEE to adopt another special order setting the bill for consideration at the close of the morning hour today.

The House adjourned without considering the bill but it will probably be reported to that body this morning by Representative Wright, of Guilford, chairman of the committee.

Would Eliminate Penalties.

A bill introduced in the Senate yesterday by Senator Verner, chairman of the Finance Committee, seeks the repeal of all penalties now prescribed by statute for deferred payment of taxes.

Senator Burgwin, of New Hanover, continued his campaign of repeal. Three bills introduced by him yesterday would place New Hanover County under the State-wide Primary Act, eliminate the special primary now held in the county in April and would abolish the Australian ballot in New Hanover.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. MARGARET C. WILLIAMS
Rocky Mount, Jan. 30.—Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret C. Williams, who passed away after a brief illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. T. Smith, 1100 South Main street, Friday afternoon, were conducted from the First Methodist church Sunday by Rev. J. F. E. Bates, pastor. Interment followed in Pineview cemetery. Surviving the deceased are four children: Captain Henry T. Williams and Stephen E. Williams, of Atlanta; Mrs. Charles H. Morgan, of Philadelphia; and Mrs. G. T. Smith, of this city.

ELON QUINT EASILY DEFEATS RALEIGH Y

Though Not Measuring Up To Elion Teams of Past Years, Visitors Win 34 To 10

In a game that unmistakably bore the stamp of early season form, the Elion College basketball team last night defeated the quint representing the Raleigh Y. M. C. A. by a score of 34 to 10. Though completely eclipsing the local outfit the visitors failed to measure up to the standard of Elion teams of previous years.

The game which was played with frequent disregard of the rules and marked by indifferent team work on the part of both combinations was to a large degree redeemed by the excellent goal shooting of Fix and B. Johnson for Elion and Lawrence of the locals.

The line-up and summary:

Position	Elion	Raleigh
Forward	Newman	Lawrence
Center	Fix	Saunders
Guard	B. Johnson	Whittaker
Small	E. Johnson	Small
Referee	Perry	Johnson
