

GREAT INTEREST IN CHINA RELIEF

Academy of Music Packed at Mass Meeting Held in Interest of Movement

EDITOR OF CHRISTIAN HERALD MAIN SPEAKER

Mr. Graham Patterson of New York Outlines Distressed Condition; Declares 20,000,000 People Will Die Unless Immediate Help is Furnished By This Country

Interest in the movement for the relief of the famine in China was evidenced yesterday by an attendance upon the mass meeting at the Academy of Music which taxed the capacity of the building.

The balcony and galleries were filled with colored people and Mayor T. H. Eldridge, who introduced the principal speaker, Graham Patterson, editor of the Christian Herald, attributed their presence to a desire to give recognition to the work which is being done for their race by the Christian Herald.

"Twenty million of the forty-five million people living in the area now affected by the famine will surely die unless help is furnished speedily by America," declared Mr. Patterson, who outlined the distressed condition of the Chinese in simple and direct fashion.

Mr. Patterson declared that immediate help is necessary to save the Chinese as a fatalistic people and that assurance that help will be forthcoming will implant in them the desire to live.

Save Lives for Three Cents a Day. The Chinese government is now giving food for famine districts the right of way on railroads and is transporting such shipments without cost, declared Mr. Patterson.

Cannot Realize Need. "It is impossible for us to realize the condition of these people, who even under normal circumstances 350,000,000 of the 400,000,000 inhabitants never get what we consider a full meal," he stated.

Mr. Patterson began his address with a glowing tribute to the work which has been done in North Carolina for Chinese Relief under the direction of Professor C. M. Heck of State College.

Music was furnished yesterday by the State College Band and a male quartette.

Fordney Tariff Bill Doomed For Defeat in Senate

tee majority, while the fellow who comes in and asks for a big increase quickly inspires the sympathy of Chairman Fordney and his Republican associates.

During a hearing the other day, a manufacturer asked for a rate on imports competing with his products of one hundred per cent. "Why don't you ask for four hundred per cent?" asked Representative Rainey, of Illinois, Democrat.

The Republicans blame it all on the war, of course, and every evil that has happened since the war broke out has been blamed. It is their position that in fixing the new tariff duties, the difference in labor and production costs here and abroad should be considered.

Democratic members of the committee contend that it is not the time to write a permanent tariff law, that it is not possible to ascertain what wage and labor conditions are in Europe, and that if it were, it would be of little good, because they are constantly changing and that exchange rates should not be considered at all.

"A tariff based upon exchange differences is economically impossible," said Mr. Rainey. "The proposition is simply being urged as a method of still further increasing the tariffs."

The danger of the present situation consists in retaliatory tariffs, which are now being threatened by Argentina and Canada, and will soon be threatened by other nations, and which will be placed in operation if the Republican party is able to carry out its announced program.

The Democrats, as I understand it, are willing to adjust in tariffs if it can be done, the labor differences in production. It is impossible to tell at present what these are. In fact, if a tariff were based upon labor differences, a revision would lead to immediate reductions.

In a sentence, the Democratic position is that neither at home nor in competing for trade countries have conditions become stable enough for a general tariff revision; that if the Republicans follow out their program of erecting a high tariff wall around the country, it will lead to retaliatory measures by countries with which America is now enjoying a huge trade, with the result that exports will fall off, production in this country will be slowed down and hundreds of ships of the great merchant fleet of America built up during the war will lie idle in the ports.

HONOR MEMORY OF GENERAL GORGAS

The Latin American Nations Through Representatives Join in Service

Washington, Jan. 16.—The nations of Latin America through their diplomatic representatives joined with the United States, France and Great Britain tonight in paying tribute to the memory of the late Major General William Crawford Gorgas, former surgeon general of the United States Army and leader in the successful fight against yellow fever.

Memorial services in honor of General Gorgas, who died last July in London, were held in the Pan-American building under the auspices of the Southern Society of Washington, which thereby honored the memory of a product of the South. The speakers included Secretaries Baker, Daniels and Davis, Major General Peter C. Harris, Ambassador Jusserand, of France; Major General H. K. Bethell, military attaché of the British embassy; Ambassador Peret, of Peru; Minister de Céspedes, of Cuba; Minister Elizalde of Ecuador; Charge d'Affaires Lefevre, of Panama, and Director General Rowe, of the Pan American Union. Messages were read from the presidents of a number of Latin American governments.

Adjutant General Harris presided at the meeting and before introducing the other speakers traced the life of General Gorgas, showing how intently it had been connected with yellow fever.

General Gorgas was born in Alabama in 1853 had driven the beautiful Amelia Gayle from her home in Mobile, Ala., to the nearby military station, where she first met Lieutenant Josiah Gorgas, who later became her husband.

General Gorgas was a man of many talents. He was a brilliant engineer, a successful business man, a man of letters, a man of science, a man of letters, a man of science, a man of letters, a man of science.

Secretary Baker paid tribute to the work of General Gorgas in eradicating yellow fever from the Panama Canal Zone, declaring the former Surgeon General made the building of the Panama canal possible, "and saved its construction from being marred by having along its banks the graves of tens of thousands of victims to the pestilence of the jungle, which for ages had imposed the sentence of death upon those who sought to join the two oceans."

General Bethell, speaking for the country in which General Gorgas died, declared that his is the "glory of the savior, not of the destroyer" and "that Panama is his memorial and his monument."

DR. LUTHER BUCHANAN BEGINS PRACTICE HERE

Physician Will Limit His Practice to Treatment of Respiratory Diseases

Dr. Luther T. Buchanan Jr., has just opened an office over the Wake Drug Store and will limit his practice to respiratory diseases.

Dr. Buchanan, who was for several years professor of bacteriology at Wake Forest College, has been associated for the past year with Dr. L. Chandler Walker, of Boston, Mass. While in Boston, Dr. Buchanan did post-graduate work at Harvard in Asthma, Hay fever, bronchitis and tuberculosis.

HEAVY TOBACCO SALES REPORTED IN DANVILLE

Danville, Va., Jan. 16.—Notwithstanding the deplorable condition of the roads leading into Danville and the unfavorable weather for selling the market was well supplied with tobacco last week.

A decidedly upward tendency in prices prevailed throughout the entire week, and while the general average is not so large as was shown in several reports earlier in the season, prices are probably quite as high as they have been in the crop, the decrease being occasioned by the large percentage of common tobacco showing up in the offerings.

It is generally believed that the farmers will market the remainder of the crop as rapidly as it can be put into condition.

Sales for the week amounted to 1,624,209 pounds, average $25.89, amount paid out $420,617.94.

Sales for the preceding week amounted to 495,610 pounds, average $18.20, amount paid out $893,886.58.

STUDENTS PLAN MEMORIAL FOR TRINITY PROFESSOR

Trinity College, Durham, Jan. 16.—Tribute to the memory of the late Dr. James J. Wolfe, for seventeen years head of the department of biology here and a biologist of national reputation, will be paid by the creation of a memorial fund to be used in his name in providing the library with current periodicals on the subject formerly taught by Dr. Wolfe, who died suddenly on the eve of commencement last year. The Biological Club launched the movement.

The plan was presented to the students in their class meetings and was well received by them. It is proposed to raise about $2,000 by subscription among the student body and alumni for the fund. This amount will be placed on interest and the proceeds used in subscribing for periodicals dealing with biology.

TO HAVE AGENCIES FOR IMMIGRANTS

Labor Congress Votes To Have Agencies in All Latin American Countries

Mexico City, Jan. 16.—(By the Associated Press).—Immigration agencies in all Latin-American countries for the collection and dissemination of information regarding labor conditions will be established under the terms of a resolution adopted by the Pan-American Federation of Labor Congress here yesterday. Delegates from the United States and Porto Rico opposed the idea, but were voted in the first divided vote of the Congress.

The resolution introduced by the Mexican delegation called for the appointment of special labor envoys in each Pan-American country but the resolutions committee reported it had amended the motion so that the federation's executive officers would be named as information gatherers. It is being planned by this means to eliminate the expense entailed by the carrying out of the original proposal. When the amended motion was submitted, an animated debate began, during which Samuel Gompers, president of the Congress, was compelled frequently to explain United States labor conditions.

Mr. Gompers asserted that upwards of 1,500,000 immigrants were received in the United States each year, and that 15,000,000 persons in European countries were ready to come to America and were waiting for ships to cross the ocean.

After the Congress had remained in session until long after the appointed hour for closing, Mr. Gompers called for a vote and the original Mexican resolution was adopted.

Dunn Postoffice Still Continues to Go Ahead

Dunn, January 14.—Receipts from the sale of postage in the Dunn postoffice during the year 1920 totaled $15,099.70, according to figures just made public by Postmaster Eugene T. Lee. This is compared with $13,761.05 for 1919, $12,830.41 for 1918, and $11,234.40 for 1917.

The depression of the last three months of last year seemed to have had little effect upon the sale of stamps, receipts being $4,042.02 against $3,425.65 for the quarter immediately preceding and $3,748.16 for the same quarter of the previous year.

With these figures Postmaster Lee made public an order, immediately effective, authorizing trainmen of Atlantic Coast Line train No. 83, due here in the early morning, to accept pouch mail from the Greensboro to Goldsboro Southern Railway early morning train at Selma for this postoffice. This will bring newspapers and other mail from Raleigh, Greensboro and the west to Dunn an hour and half earlier than usual.

ORANGE READY TO WEATHER STORMS

Cotton Mills Running Full Time at Hillsboro and Grain Crop Seems To Be Good

Hillsboro, Jan. 16.—While Orange County has not felt the effects of the financial depression like a great many sections, the low price of tobacco and cotton and the short time operations of the cotton mills and other industries has had a depressing effect. The Eno Cotton Mills and the Bellvue Mills are now on full time operation. This fact together with increases in the price of tobacco is causing an optimistic feeling among the people generally.

Eagerness for Orange is a splendid sign, the farmers in almost every instance raising sufficient food stuff and meats for their own consumption with quite a surplus for the market. Also large quantities of poultry and produce is sold from the farm.

For these reasons our farmers are generally in good shape. It is now thought that the grain crops will be greatly increased this year and the tobacco crop cut almost to half.

The two banks in Hillsboro made a most excellent showing last year and carried large amounts to their surplus after paying good dividends. All in all it is doubtful if any county in the State is in better all-round shape than Orange.

This is a great lumber and timber section and the low price of lumber has caused many of the saw mills to close down. Present indications are that there will be revival of the timber interest with the coming of the spring.

The continued rainfall has caused the roads of the county to become in a very bad condition. The unfortunate condition of the roads is causing untold inconvenience to motorists as well as the public generally. All of the highway between Hillsboro and the Durham county line has been completed except a few hundred yards just at the outskirts of the town and by reason of the fresh grading and fills on this part of the road it has been impossible to great deal of the time certificates and two cover drafts.

POULTRY JUDGING TEAM LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

State College Delegation Will Visit National Poultry Exhibition

The State College poultry judging team composed of G. L. Booker, J. F. Johnson and W. F. Armstrong, all members of the junior class, left last night for New York where on Wednesday and Thursday it will compete with similar college and university teams from eighteen States in the National Poultry Judging Contest at the Madison Square Garden Poultry Show. Dr. B. F. Kaupp accompanied the team.

The winter trip to one of the large Northern shows is an annual affair keenly anticipated by the students in poultry husbandry. The team is selected in open competition, and the expenses of successful candidates are paid by the department.

While away from the college, the party will visit the government poultry plant at Washington, and will also spend some time in inspecting and studying the methods of some of the large commercial poultry concerns in New York.

The college has entered two birds in the New York show. A Golden Wyandotte hen, said by experts to be the best hen of her class in the United States, has been sent up on request. The other entry is a White Faced Black Spanish cockerel, also a prize winner in the shows of this section. Both birds were bred and raised by the college poultry department and they are strictly home products.

HARNETT PLANS TO HAVE COUNTY DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Dunn, Jan. 16.—In line with its efforts to develop the county, Harnett county commissioners called to consider the matter of employing a whole-time farm demonstration agent.

Special Agent T. D. McLean will go with the Dunn delegation. He wants to locate an agent in this county and has asked the commissioners to appropriate at least $1,200 as the county's part of his expense. There is some doubt, however, as to whether or not the commissioners will listen to his plea, the county being considerably in the hole and much behind in tax collections.

PORT BOOSTERS TO MEET IN CAPITAL

South Atlantic and Gulf Port Representatives To Attend Important Meeting

The News and Observer Bureau, 603 District National Bank Bldg., By JOE L. BAKER. (By Special Leased Wire.) Washington, Jan. 16.—The conference of representatives of shippers and other commercial interests of the South Atlantic, Gulf and Mississippi valley states called to insist upon the continuation of equal export freight rates to all Atlantic and Gulf ports will be held here Wednesday and Thursday. It is predicted that the representatives of approximately 25 states will attend. They will come here to attend meetings of the South Atlantic States Association and the Mississippi Valley Association and while these organizations will meet separately, it is expected that they will act jointly upon the question of export freight rates, new foreign trade routes and other matters of mutual concern.

The temper of the membership of the two organizations was revealed last week in statements by Matthew Hale, of Boston and Washington, president of the South Atlantic States Association, and H. H. Merrick, of Chicago, president of the Mississippi Valley Association, in which they made known their unalterable opposition to a reported plan of the eastern railroads to smash the export rates now in effect and which give the South Atlantic and Gulf ports a competitive advantage.

They will insist upon the continuance of the present rates, which were put in effect in December, 1919, and which give the South Atlantic and Gulf ports their first opportunities in fifty years to compete for export business with New York and other North Atlantic ports.

In conjunction with insistence upon the continuance of the present rates, the organizations, it is asserted, will stand squarely behind Senator Jones of Washington and Admiral Benson in their advocacy of new foreign trade routes, specifically provided for in the Merchant Marine act. Opposition to the unrestricted sale of government owned ships, proposed by Martin J. Gillen, formerly assistant to Chairman Payne and Benson of the Shipping Board, declared to be in violation of the latter act in regard to the establishment of new trade routes under the supervision of the Shipping Board, also is expected to develop at the meetings.

VOLUNTEER WORKER VISITS STUDENTS AT TRINITY

Trinity College, Durham, Jan. 16.—Pointing out that the volunteer movement offers field for service in almost every line of endeavor and in many countries, Miss Helen Hardy, Secretary of the Volunteer Movement for the Southern Methodist Church, of Nashville, Tenn., on Friday afternoon addressed the volunteer band here. The eleven students, who comprise the body have pledged their lives to this work upon completion of their college course.

It is estimated that there is an average throughout the United States of five school free days for 365 days.

Would your husband marry you again? Fortunate is the woman who can answer "yes." But many a woman, if she is honest with herself, is forced to be in doubt after that she pays stricter attention to her personal attractions. A radiant skin, glowing and healthy, is more than a "sign" of youth. It is youth. And any woman can enjoy it. Beauty's basis is pure, mild, soothing soap. Never go to sleep without using it. Women should never overlook this all-important fact. The basis of beauty is a thoroughly clean skin. And the only way to it is soap. There is no harm in cosmetics, or in powder, rouge, if you frequently remove them. Never leave them on overnight. The skin consists of countless glands and pores. They clog with oil, with dirt, with perspiration—with refuse from within and without. The first requirement is to cleanse those pores. And soap alone can do that. A costly mistake Harsh, irritating soaps have led many women to omit soap. That is a costly mistake. A healthy, rosy, clear, smooth skin must be a clean skin, first of all. There is no need for irritating soap. Palmolive soothes and softens while it cleans. It is based on palm and olive oils. Force the lather into the pores by a gentle massage. Every touch is balmy. Then all the foreign matter comes out in the rinsing. If your skin is very dry, use cold cream before and after washing. No medicaments Palmolive is just a soothing, cleansing soap. Its blandness comes through blending palm and olive oils. Nothing since the world began has proved so suitable for delicate complexions. All its beneficial effects come through gentle, thorough cleansing. There are no medicaments. No drugs can do what Nature does when you aid her with this scientific Palmolive cleansing. Millions of women get their envied complexions through the use of Palmolive soap. The Palmolive Company, Milwaukee, U. S. A. The Palmolive Company of Canada, Limited, Toronto, Ont.
