Every Saturday night from now until the ceremonial session is held will be a regular meeting of the board of directors, for the purpose of improving all plans looking toward the success of the spring meeting. The general chairman also announced that at an early date he would call a special meeting of the entire Raleigh-Wake Shrine Club to lay before them the plans already perfected.

Preparations are being made by all of the Shrine Clubs in Eastern Carolina to be represented in the parade to be held on the morning of May 19. Durham, Rocky Mount, Goldsboro, Washington and New Bern have already notified Secretary Creekmore that they will be on hand 100 per cent strong. Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—(Adv.)

COTTON HOLDS ITS OWN DURING WEEK

Unfavorable Labor Situation Did No More Than Keep It From Wide Advances

New Orleans, La., April 17.—While the unfavorable labor situation in Great Britain must be put down as the main feature of last week in the cotton market, it did no more than hold the market down from making wide advances. Grinding recessions were made on the other hand, quick advances were the rule following favorable news and the close was well up toward the top as the result of the breakdown of the general strike movement.

Last prices showed net advances of 53 to 59 points. At the highest the active months were 49 to 63 points over the close of the preceding week and at the lowest they were one point lower to five points higher. May traded up to 12 cents and down to 11.40 closing at 11.94. The extreme range of prices was 46 to 60 points. In the spot department, middling closed at 11.28, showing a net gain of 28 points. A year ago middling closed for the week at 41.75 cents a pound and May closed at 41.20.

General trade news and reports from mill centers were mixed in their import but anything unfavorable from domestic sources was offset by cablegrams from Manchester telling of a much better inquiry for cloths, principally for shipment to Oriental markets, and some traders, thought the fairly strong close was due to the belief that with a better labor situation, Manchester would be in a position to fill some of this business. The better export demand for heavy cloths in the markets of the United States caused much favorable comment.

New crop news was unfavorable on the whole, temperature being too low at times and too much rain falling over the greater part of the belt, although the official review from the government claimed that rain was needed in the southeast section. Reports from Texas were that the soil was too wet for planting and this also seemed to be the case in the northern halves of the central and eastern divisions of the cotton region.

This week the trade will be chiefly concerned, the start of a New York rate, with the British labor outlook and any signs of settling the coal miners' strike would probably have a higher stimulating effect on values. On the other hand, any further complications in this direction would be bound to have an unsettling influence. On the week-end there were indications of more interest in the spot markets of the interior on the part of buyers and if this develops in an important way this coming week it would probably overshadow any and all other features.

How Close We Come To War In 1916 Told By Daniels with instructions to comply with their requirements.

War plans had been made already, and corrected up-to-date, for the fleet.

In July of 1916, I invited Mr. Edison and twenty other eminent engineers, scientists and inventors to devote their genius to naval efficiency. I urged them to attempt to discover some effective means for combating submarines.

On October 7 I directed the general board to prepare a five-year building programme for the navy, on an estimate of $100,000,000 each year for new construction. About the same time Admiral Blue, with my approval, made plans to increase the number of enlisted men from 54,000 to practically 100,000.

For two years before war did come we worked to get the whole navy ready, and when the mysterious S. W. Davidson sailed for London in March, 1917, I knew from Admiral Mayo, commander-in-chief, that the fleet was in such good condition that only a word would be required to mobilize it for war.

Denby To Move Office.
North Carolinians who visited Secretary of the Navy Daniels during his term of office have spoken often of the beauty of the suite of offices occupied by him in the State, War and Navy building, just beyond the White House. Even after the removal of the Navy Department from the 35 or 40 different buildings and places into which it was crowded during the war, the historic Potomac Park section of the historic rooms were retained as a matter of convenience to members of Congress and visitors, as well as for the purpose of readily having conferences with the President by the Secretaries of State.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION
Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my troubles four years and was unfit to do anything, and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HUBBARD, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give this good old-fashioned remedy a fair trial.
